THE COURIER.

TUESCAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1850. The Press of Quebec are congratulating country upon the prospect of our wonder strides towards prosperity, because Mr. Merr thinks he will visit Temiscounts and Bay Verte and drops apropos hints about a Railway or Canal from Trois Pistoles, which is to connect Quebec from Trois Pistoles, when he with the Bay of Fundy. There are some men who have a happy knack of sketching off pictures, of peace, prosperity, ac.—adapting them to particular markets—as Lord Elgin, while recks ing with the aroms of compounds gathered in pur-lieu of the market—and breathless after his flight penned a despatch, from which distant readers might have inferred, that Canada was a terrestrial paradise, we were so happy, so pleased with His Lordship—so profitably employed, and the trade of the country axhibiting such evidences of progress. The facility with which deception is practised, may be accounted for, by the gross we of education, of which the Colony is a conspicuo example; and it often occurs that journalists, who in private life, are amiable and excellent men, feel no hesitation in plunging, as political parti-gans, into the thick of the fight, battling for a paradox, or defending a delusion. We are asked to make merry and rejoice, because Mr. Merritt has reached Quebec, and because Mr. Merritt, being the genius of Canadian Ganals, some such project is to be an emanation of his sojourn there. In the abstract there can be no doubt, that a Canal stretching across a district of country like the Erie; connecting the regions of production with the shipping ports on the Atlantic; confers subthe shipping ports on the Atlantic; conters sub-stantial advantages upon a population, and infuses firesh energy into every department of material industry. The Americans have hit off the best mode of rendering Canals a source of wealth our rulers have, on the contrary, sunk us in quagmire of debt, in their schemes to construc what are equivocally styled our unrivalled system of internal navigation—wheever coined the phrase, must have been something of a wag; we may search far and wide for a parallel. We clog ourselves with a debt of millions, carve out the out-lines of gigantic Canals—and when our labors are closed, and we wait anxiously to catch the golden flood, lo! the statistics creep into view, and tell us that we are blundering fools. The traffic on the St. Lawrence Canals, for the year 1850, is sadly lessened, when contrasted with the year 1849. The shipping employed is fewer-passenge have dropped off-freights have diminished yet the tolls augment. And this is a sample of Canadian prosperity. The Canals are verily unrivalled - yet they are but a sample of the policy which pervades every department of the Government. Selfishness and ignorance are in the as cendancy-vulgar trickery is substituted for edu-cated frankhess, and the highest merit of the cleverest of the Ministry consists in manufactu ing some quack remedy for one disease—ticketed Reciprocity or Retrenchment. We are not bound to produce a plan whereby the evils, of which the Colony complain, can be abated. The dozen men, who ape the airs of Statesmen, are raid their thousands out of the public chest as a Ministry-and upon them devolves the odium of failure They have propounced a dozen different schemes perfection—they have predicted the advent of Reciprocity, as if they could mould the minds of the American Senate to their will—they have told they have been converted; but their conversion restricted itself to the non-political subordinates already at the starvation point. Mr. Merritt enjoy the honor of having carried successfully the Welland Canal project; but he must be aware that he now occupies a position, of all others, most damaging to a politician. He is obliged to assent, as a member of the Cabinet, to opinions which are foreign to his own convictions. He cannot, and does not, pretend that we can be prosperous, while the statistics point to a declining commerce—and he most feel, whether he have courage enough to express himself or not, that some remedy must be promptly applied. We are not reluctant to advocate internal improvements where the wants of the people ask such ameliorations; but we must be just before we are generous, and we protest against any further borrowing of money upon the credit of the Province, and any further expenditure of money upon pubwhere the wants of the people ask such ame-liorations; but we must be just before we are generous, and we protest against any further bor-rowing of money upon the credit of the Province,

They armed themselves, and said they would protect the land they had seized, even if blood was apilled. A riot ensued, and the Mayor and several others, among whom was the City Assessor, were mortally wounded.

Besides the wounded there were nearly a dozen reported killed. Martial law has been proclaimed. A steamer was despatched from Sacramento Benichs to get the assistance of the U. S. forces, as the squatters threatened to burn the city, which the passengers by the Philadelphia asy they did. When the Philadelphia left Chagres, there were some few cases of the prevailing disease, which, nowever, were confined almost entirely to the native population. No fear need be felt by those wishing to cross the Islamus, as with proper care and attentior to health, there is little, if any, danger. No reliance can be placed upon the reports of persons passing through the place, as they are generally exaggerated.

R is the opinion of Dr. Gould, who resides in Charges, that by the middle or latter part of October the nickness will have entirely disappeared, as it that time the dry season commences, and the principle cause of the unhealthiness of the place will be removed.

THE HIGH CONSTABLE IN THOUBLE The High Constable in Trouble.—On Thirisdip night lest a measengr arrived in Sherbrooke from High Constable Clark, in Durham, to the effect that he was in danger of bodity harmfrom a mon in that place. We understand that the High Constable was proceeding a liquor case, and while in Court a body of mer entered with a warrant—trumped up it is supposed for the occasion—against Clark and one of the atting Magical Stafes, both of whom were taken in o custody in a very rough and unceremonious manner. The Sherff and two or three Social Constables immidivery rough and unceremonious manner. The Sheriff and two or three Special Constables immediately left Sherbooks for the scene of trouble,—Sherbrooks Gazette

If we mistake not, the same individual Consta ble was the victim of an outrage some weeks since. The town of Sherbrooke is losing its repution for good behaviour.

The Washington Intelligencer states that the Post Office Department has received official intel-ligence from the General Post Office in London that " henceforward all letters addressed to the United States, and not directed to be otherwise ent, will be transmitted by the first packet, whether British or United States, which is desatched after they are posted."

The Parisians are a whimsical generation magination with them runs to seed. Among he many odd traits of individual character, the following, as furnished by the Paris correspon of the N. Y. Post, are not the least curious :-

A WOMAN'S PASSION FOR CATS. The inhabitants of the house No. 11 Rue St La-tare, have as co-lodger an elderly widow, one Ma-lame Deschamps, who has a great passion for cats. The inhabitants of the house were so much incommoded by the disagreeable and unhealthy odor which arose from that domestic menagerie, tha the nuisance. This officer in vain begget Mad.

Deschamp to do justice to her neighbors, in ceasing to offend their olfactory organs by day, and their suricular organs by might—but his requests were in vain. At last, wearied by her obstinately, accompanied by a poise of officers of police, he went to her apartment to seize the offender; he opened the door and retired—the stench came near sufficients like.

and any further expenditure of money upon public works, until those which have already been completed are emancipated from the disastrous influences which paralyze their usofalness. There are members of the Cabinet, like Mr. Leslie, who would scorn deceit in private life—why is it that the Cabinet, collectively, perpetuate deception about Reciprocity 1. They must, or ought to know, that they cannot command it, and it is their duty to meet the evils of our position manfully. Honeaty and plain dealing should prompt them to cut down every salary to $2,000, and reduce the duties upon urticles, imported six the St. Lawrence, which Cannot does not produce.

It is our painful duty to chronicle the death of Colonel Holloway, late Commanding Royal Engineer, in Canada, who died at Ph mouth, on the 8th instant. Colonel Holloway entered the army is beart cannot love? A MAN'S WEARNESS FOR DOGS.

The Great Show of the Opper Canada Agricultural Association.

Name of the Opper Canada Agricultural Association of Upper Canada, has just closed. It was held at Niagara, the old Capital of Upper Canada, has just closed. It was held at Niagara, the old Capital of Upper Canada, on a heautiful site of ground, and in every respect may be pronounced a most successful exhibition. Upwards of $5,000, as I was informed, were taken at the gates; and as the tickels of admission were 71d. each, this would show that $24,000 people had visited the grounds. the prizes in the foreign department.

The Show is universally admitted to have been the best the Society has had. The show of wheat, the great staple product of Upper Canada, was the best I ever saw. Mr. Allen, an ex-President of the N. Y. State Society, stated at the Dinner, that the wheat was much superior to that shown at the Exhibitions of their State. The sample which took the first prize, was raised by Mr. Christie, of Dumfries, and weighed 66 lbs. to the bushel. This, I understand, will be sent home to the great Industrial Fair. In eattle, the show was really splendid. The Durhams, Devons, Ayreshires, and Herefords, were there in all their shires, and Herefords, were there in all their shires, and the best that was ever exhibited in Canada. This is a gratifying evidence of a general improvement in the stock of the country. The first prize in the Durham class was carried off by Mr. Howitt, of Guelph, a relative of the distinguished writer; Wm. Howitt. The animal was a ball, of a beautiful white color, three years old, and in all the essential "points," touching the provention of the Chaplains of the Can Bishop.

Upon reaching the Pulpit, the Vestry and Wardens went to the right, the Cletgy to the left, and opened out a passage through which the Bishop.

Table, directed the Rev. A. W. Mountain, one of the Chaplains, to read the Letters Patent reconstituting the Diocese of Quebec; which having been done, the Ouths of Allegiance, and Supremacy, and an Oath to defend the rights of the Cathedral, were administered to the Bishop.

Commissary, who afterwards conducted his Lordship to the Episcopal Throne, in which he was installed in the usual manner. At the completion of this ceremony the Clergy, who had remained affinding before the Altar Rails, retired to their stalls, and the other gentlemen to seats provided for them. Divine Service then commenced, the Revds. R. G. Plees and J. Torrance reading the lessons. After the Te Deum a prayer, and the Revds. R. G. Plees and J. Torrance reading the lessons. A number of those who had used the wine pretty freely, were determined to drink the ladies, and it was some time before the authority of the Chair prevailed. Hon H. J. Boulton then proposed the Press, in a very appropriate speech under the circumstances. Mr. Fetres, of the Montreal Gazette, replied. A great number of toasta were given, and some very good speeches called forth.
