DOESN'T COST MUCH TO TRY IT ANYWAY

Tells how to take soreness from a corn and lift it right out.

Hospital records show that every time you cut a corn you invite lockjaw or blood poison, which is needless, says a Cincinnati authority, who tells you that a quartet ointment of drug called Irozone can be obtained at little cost from the drug store, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You simply apply a few drops of this on a tender, aching corn and the soreness is instantly relieved. Shortly the entire corn can be lifted out, root and all, without pain.

This drug is sticky, but dries at once and is claimed to just shrivel up any corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin.

If your wife wears high heels she will be glad to know of this.

Widow of Dead Capitalist Started Life as School Teacher

New York, Nov. 4.—Mrs. Russell Sage, widow of the capitalist, died early this morning at her residence on Fifth avenue from complications brought about by old age. She was 80 years old and had been in feeble health for several years. Three or four days ago her condition became serious and the end was not unexpected.

Born of parents of frugal means and in her early life a school teacher at a salary of $200 a year, Mrs. Sage, on the death of her husband, found herself the beneficiary of an estate of more than $50,000,000. Until that time she had had little experience in the handling of money. Her life with her husband had been simple to an extreme.

10,000 PRISONERS TAKEN BY BRITISH

No Attack on Thirty-Mile Front in Substantial Gains 200 GUNS CAPTURED

London, Nov. 4.—Breaking deeply into enemy positions along a 30-mile front south of the Scheidt to-day the British captured more than 10,000 prisoners and 200 guns, Field Marshal Haig reports to-night.

The attack, which was conducted by the 3rd and 4th armies, extended from Valenciennes southward to the Oise.

The line of the Sambre Canal was stormed and the British made an advance of more than three miles beyond it to the east.

The 1st French army, attacking in conjunction with the British on the Sambre-Oise Canal, have captured several important villages and advanced nearly two miles. Three thousand prisoners and 50 cannon were captured.

The French war office reports read "The 1st army attacked in conjunction with the British on the Sambre-Oise canal between Oisy and Valenciennes. We crossed the canal and gained a footing on the high ground on the east bank reaching the villages of Boue, La Caurette, Li Neuville-les-Dorengt, and Iron, and passed beyond Les Juelles, making an advance at certain points of three kilometers."

"On the right of the attack the 1st and 32nd divisions advanced to the assault in conjunction with French forces operating to the south of them. With great dash and gallantry these two divisions stormed the formidable obstacle presented by the line of the Sambre Canal, and, in spite of strong resistance from the enemy, have pressed on to a distance of over three miles to the east of it."

Forced Passage of Canal. "In these operations the 1st division, under command of Gen. Strickland, having captured the town of Caution, forced passages of the canal opposite that place and near the lock two miles to the south of it. At the latter point, assisted by Royal Engineers, the 1st Cameron Highlanders effected the passage of the canal in six minutes."

"In its subsequent advance this division captured the villages of Fosny, Hautreuve and La Groisse, with 1,500 prisoners. "On its left the 32nd division crossed the canal at Ore and after severe fighting took Reudenhaut. Having cleared the line of the canal to the south and north of this village, it continued its advance and drove the enemy from the villages of Mesieres, La Folie and Sambretion."

"In the centre of the attack the 17th division, under Gen. Morland; the 5th Gen. Shute, and the 4th Corps, Gen. Harper, attacked the western face of Mormal Forest. "After heavy fighting the infantry and tanks drove the enemy from his positions in the western outskirts of Soyeres, Preux-au-Bois, Hecc, Futoy and Louvignies."

"Thereafter our infantry continued the advance, overcoming alike the great natural difficulties of the heavily wooded ground and the resistance of the enemy. "Moving through the enclosed country on the southern edge of the forest, the 25th division forced crossings of the Sambre Canal opposite Landreoles and captured this town. Further north the 18th and 54th divisions penetrated deeply into the forest itself and are still advancing."

"The 38th division has reached Les Grandes Patures and the 17th division has captured Les Quignol, in the centre of the forest. "New Zealanders Score "Severe fighting took place this morning in the neighborhood of Le Quenoy, where the enemy counter-attacked in force and was repulsed by a New Zealand division with great loss, in killed and prisoners. Our troops have passed to the south and north of this fortified town and are now several miles to the east of it."

These fires must be kept burning As long as Canada is busy at home she can continue her glorious part in the war. Canada's factories are a source of great national strength to-day. They send across the sea a steady stream of vitally needed war supplies. They employ our people at home at good wages. They enable Canadians to earn the money to carry on the war. To let those factories slow down now would be a crime against the boys in France—a disaster to the great army of workers at home. The fires under the boilers must be kept burning. That is one of the great purposes of the Victory Loan 1918. When you buy Victory Bonds, when you lend your money to Canada, you are supplying the capital on which our industries depend. You are contributing directly to our prosperity at home, and lending your personal weight to our mighty war effort in France. Issued by Canada's Victory Loan Committee in co-operation with the Minister of Finance of the Dominion of Canada.
