THE REPORTER

ATHENS, ONT., MAY 27, 1890.

LOCAL SUMMARY.

ATHENS AND NEIGHBORING LOCALITIES BRIEFLY WRITTEN UP.

Events as Seen by Our Knight of the Pencil.—Local Announcements Culled Right Down.

Dr. Kinney paid Athens a candidatorial visit on Monday.

The municipal courts of revision were held on Monday. But few changes were made.

Under the superintendence of Mr. Nash, two fine stone crossings have been laid on Church st.

The address of Dr. Kinney, a candidate for the Legislative Assembly, appears in this issue.

Levi Church, Jr., of Glossville, planted 1½ acres of corn in 2½ hours, covering it so that the crows can't find it. Next!

Mrs. A. E. Donovan left Athens last week for Nova Scotia, where she will spend the summer months with her husband.

The returns of the Athens Auxiliary, the Women's Missionary Society and the Myrtle Mission Band for the year amounts to $45.

High School Inspector Sneath visited the Athens school on Monday and Tuesday of last week. His report will be given later.

The largest and cheapest stock of china, crockery and glassware between Montreal and Toronto is at the China Hall, Brockville.—T. W. DENNIS.

A meeting of the Mechanics' Institute is announced for this (Tuesday) evening, the object of which is to consider the feasibility of establishing a reading room.

On Saturday evening, without just cause or provocation, the large mirror that adorned the sitting room of Cedar Park hotel fell to the floor and was smashed to atoms.

After flitting up the interior of the Gamble House in first-class style, Mr. Pierce extended his improvements to the exterior and last week placed a fine awning in front of the hotel.

On the 4th page of this issue appears the advertisement of the well known dry goods firm, Geo. G. Hutcheson & Co. We are pleased to introduce this firm to our readers, assured that any dealing they may have with that house will be mutually satisfactory.

In lieu of the usual service in the Methodist church on Sunday morning last, Rev. Mr. Wilson read and expounded a portion of the economy and discipline of the church. At the close, a reception service was held, at which nine members were added to the church.

Mother Barnes, the fortune-teller of Plum Hollow, will be 90 years of age on the 15th of Nov, next, and has never seen either a locomotive or a train of cars. The old lady has not been in this village for 23 years. Dispite her age, she is hale and hearty and continues to dip into the future for the many that seek her aid.

The Reform convention in Brockville on Saturday was well attended. Hon. C. F. Fraser was most enthusiastically re-nominated, perfect unanimity prevailing. Mr. Fraser delivered a brilliant speech in defence and in praise of the Mowat Government. The delegates returned to their homes confident that Mr. Fraser would be sustained by a large majority on the 5th of June.

The Myrtle Mission Band in connection with the Athens Auxiliary have engaged to educate an indian girl in the Crosby Girls' Home, of Port Simson, B. C., at an expense of $50. The members of this band have ever been most active and zealous in the cause they have espoused, and now through the influence of a member of the band actively engaged in mission work in that far-off province, the members are afforded an opportunity of contributing directly toward the accomplishment of a particular object, and no doubt they will bring it to a successful consummation.

Athens Methodist Church.

The report of this circuit submitted at the District Meeting, held in Brockville on May 22, showed an increase of 84 members during the ecclesiastical year. Total present membership, 455. Increase in missionary money contributed, 50 per cent. All other circuit funds were shown to be in advance of last year. As for the spiritual advancement of a great many of the members, eternity alone can tell the good that has been accomplished in the past year. Genuine christianity is enjoyable and also profitable to the church community at large.

The 24th at Charleston.

Saturday last was a gay day at Charleston Lake. Thither went many Athenians and many from adjacent villages, so that before noon the stabling accommodition at Harbor View and Cedar Park was all taken up. It was highly pleasing to those who had engaged boats in advance to find that Justus had the crafts safely housed awaiting their arrival. It was not pleasant for those who did not arrive until after all boats had been engaged. This was the fate of a party from Chantry. However, in time all were supplied with boats, and during the afternoon, afloat and ashore, pleasure seekers were everywhere. Lake View cottage was occupied bp an Athens party and King's Island was the objective point of many youths and maidens fair. Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Beach, Dr. and Mrs. Leggo, and Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Alguire were among those who, under pilotage of skilled oarsmen, sought the shy and seldom salmon. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Jacobs spread the white wings of their fine craft and enjoyed a sail before the breeze which prevailed all day. Mr. N. H. Beecher, of Toledo, with a party of friends, occupied his cottage, and the flag that adorned his island gave an agreeably animated appearance to that part of the Lake.

The only feature that marred the day's enjoyment was the presence of a gang of professional toughs from "the woods," who assembled at the wharf and on the lawn at Cedar Park and misconducted themselves in a most reprehensible manner. Attempts to maintain order seemed only to increase the turmoil and cursing, quarreling and fighting were freely indulged in. These ruffians had no reason or provocation for their brutal conduct, and we trust that a suit at law will be instituted to teach them a lesson and touch the only vulnerable part of their degraded manhood.

Mrs. F. F. Bristow has received most gratifying encouragement since opening her millinery business. In her recent purchases she seems to have suited the public taste to a nicety.

Evangelistic.

The following resolution, in reference to evangelistic work, was passed at the District Meeting of the Methodist Church, Brockville, May 22:—

"In the matter of evangelism, this meeting desires to express its appreciation of the labors of the conference evangelist within this district; at the same time it is our conviction that by the exaltation of certain misapprehensions of the teaching of scripture status and authority of divine truth much harm has been done and the moral influence of the church endangered. We desire also that the employment of persons in evangelistic work who are not connected with any of the sister churches or our own be discontinued. Therefore be it resolved, that the conference provide such further supervision and regulation as in their judgment are deemed necessary to meet the case."

CORRESPONDENCE.

Holland Cheese Factory.

Editor ATHENS REPORTER:

Last week a deputation of prominent residents from Escott, Springfield, Mallorytown, and immediate surroundings of Holland, waited on Rev. Father Kelly to interview that gentleman concerning the desecratory practice of a certain class of "bucolics" in Holland. Those men of unprejudiced minds conscientiously laid before the priest, in a concise manner, the blameful conduct and public violation of God's sanctified day, and besought him to prohibit at his earliest convenience the drawing of milk and, consequently, the manufacturing of cheese on Sunday. The priest received them most courteously and heard with respectful attention their lawful complaints. His answer to the delegation was, as far as we could learn, as follows:—

"I am opposed to any violation of the Sabbath day by any member of my congregation. I have strictly forbidden my people to do any avoidable servile work, or to allow worldly dissipation in their homes, such as dances, or to participate in boisterous amusements on the above day. No Catholic or Protestant has the right to presume the authority to dispense with God's laws, at his will or caprice, to accommodate a cheese factory, swell individual purses, or pander to transient popularity." Continuing, he said, "Grave necessity alone can exempt him: such as the saving of grain and cereals prior to a destructive storm, the rescuing of a neighbor's horse or cow from danger, and so on. Outside of cases that constitute grave necessity, no man has the authority to do any servile work, except ordinary household work, on Sunday. The keeping of a cheesefactory in full blast on Sunday is not a grave necessity, nor does it come within the category of household labor. If any man be so basely ignorant as to assume to himself, for personal interests to dispense or interpret the divine law in a similar way in favor of a portion of the people, and through his pernicious influence extorts the consent of the people to aforesaid transgression of God's commandments, he may be compared to the rebellious Lucifer in the court of Heaven, who said to God 'Non Serviam' (I will not serve thee, I will enact my own laws. I will interpret the law to suit myself and colleagues). Such a man is imbued with a bad will, which will sooner or later be his own immortal ruin and that of a number of the community in which he domiciles. He simply says to God, 'Your laws are too rigid in this 19th century of cheese development. I will not keep them. Non serviam—away with your laws. We need them not.' No man can, when engaging another, either by formal or tacit consent, embody in such contract a clause whereby his servant will be bound to work on Sunday, and should the civil law read thus, the divine law annuls it in conscience. The latter is man's luminary in this vale of tears and tribulations. Furthermore, any man counselling and contributing towards the progress of Sunday violation co-operates in the sin and is held responsible as such before God. Hence, gentlemen, after mature consideration of the case and its attending circumstances, I declare that such disorder should be relegated from our county. I most earnestly give my disapprobation and will do all in my power to have such practice crushed out of existence."

The deputation then asked the priest, "What do you think of Mr. Fair Play's retaliation to the complaint made in a former issue of the Athens REPORTER?" Here the priest heartily laughed and said, "Evidently that reply was Mr. Fair Play's maiden letter, for it is replete with grammatical errors and misconstrued sentences—barren, insipid and non-argumentative—I brand him with the title of greenhorn, knowing nothing of epistolary or journalistic correspondence. I presume Fair Play must have swallowed Worcester's dictionary, as he couched his letter in jaw-breakers and sesquipedalians, thereby hoping to make his contingency believe that he knows all the lexicons and literature of the 19th century and is fully advanced to hold an office in parliament or county council. I remark that Mr. Fair Play stated for excuse that the farmers in that sequestered portion of the hemisphere have no cellars, ice or pans to keep milk in. This is a very flimsy excuse and could not stand logical treatment. Is it possible that these men have built houses without providing cellars? If so I censure them as men of no business tact. The farmers of this district, both Catholic and Protestant keep their milk and on Monday make butter, but perhaps they do not use butter out there. Several farmers here send as many pounds of milk to the factory as those of Holland. No man in Holland sends 1,000 lbs., as Fair Play states. I believe him a little delirious, for a vein of insanity runs in the family. I ask him; has God placed in the 3rd commandment a clause whereby he states that those who may not have cellars, ice, or pans, can keep a cheesefactory in full action and haul milk on Sunday."

ELGIN.

SATURDAY, May 24.—On Wednesday evening last a dairyman's meeting was held in the town hall, Elgin. As it had been well announced, the hall was filled to its utmost capacity.

The meeting was opened by J. R. Dargavel calling the audience to order and presenting Geo. Taylor, M. P., as chairman of the meeting. The choir then sang "Come Gentle Spring." After this beautiful song, Mr. Taylor addressed the meeting for half an hour in a very able manner. He referred to a measure he had introduced in parliament for the protection of Canadian cheese. As this was a matter affecting our own industries, it was received with loud applause. We have no idea of letting the Americans palm off their skim milk and cotton seed cheese as Canadian manufactured, because shipped from our ports. After Mr. Taylor concluded his remarks, the choir gave "Hearts and Homes," which was well received. Dargavel and Murphy were then called upon as proprietors of the new Model factory. Mr. Dargavel stated very briefly that it was by request of the people that he and his partner occupied the position they hold and that they were using every means and facility to make the business a success. Miss Dargavel then gave a piece of instrumental music.

At this stage it was ascertained that Mr. Publow, the cheese inspector, was present. He was requested to come to the platform which he did and in a few remarks made some good points.

Then Prof. Robertson, of the Experimental Farm, Ottawa, arose to make the speech of the evening. He was received with loud clapping of hands. The Professor said he was pleased to see this large audience there to meet him. On arriving, he first went to the Model factory, and was pleased to find all modern improvements in fine working order. He considered it one of the best in Canada. He then gave us some very nice information in regard to food for cows for the production of milk which, if followed, no doubt will be of great benefit. He also gave some very nice points in regard to selecting a cow. This speech was interpersed with anecdotes that kept his audience in good humor. He not only knows how to tell a story, but to tell it well. We cannot speak too highly of Professor Robertson, and feel flattered that one so great as he should visit the small but enterprising village of Elgin.

There were two newspaper reporters with him—one from Toronto and the other from Brockville. The meeting closed by the choir singing the "Chivalry of Manhood."

TO - THE - ELECTORS

OF THE

BROCKVILLE RIDING.

GENTLEMEN:

The writ has been issued calling on you to elect on the 5th of June next a representative to the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario.

A numerously signed requisition of the Liberal electors of the Riding, asking me to become a candidate, and the assurance that the public sentiment of the electorate has not been fairly and fully represented, has induced me to comply with the request. I therefore announce myself as a candidate at the forthcoming election, and in so doing I wish to state that I am a Liberal in politics, and, if elected I will give the HON. OLIVER MOWAT an independent support, reserving for myself the right to advocate and support such measures as may, in my own opinion and that of my constituents, appear to be in the best interests of the State. More independent representatives of the people and less professional politicians are needed. Partisan conventions as a means of selecting candidates no longer inspire confidence. The hand of the "ring master" is too apparent. Let us have more political liberty and less party tyranny.

I am in favor of and, if elected, will advocate an increase in the Legislative Grant for Public Schools. At present this grant is entirely inadequate, being now less per school than it was fifteen years ago. During this time the standard upon which teachers' certificates are granted, was very much raised. This was in my opinion in the interests of education. But the Department has made no provision to repay the teacher, corresponding to the increased expenditure made necessary in order to obtain this higher grade of certificate.

In consequence, Boards of Trustees in rural districts are in most cases, unable to pay a fair compensation for the services of this higher class of teachers, who, for this reason, are continually leaving the profession.

We have the necessary educational machinery for training teachers, but there is no adequate provision made for keeping them in the profession. This is prejudicial to the best interests of education. With a surplus of six million dollars, it seems to me that a remedy might easily be found.

In reference to Separate Schools, respecting which public opinion is very much unsettled, I may say that in my opinion, they are by law as much State Schools as the Public schools are. They should be subject to the Regulations of the Department of Education in the matter of text-books, qualification of teachers and in the teaching of purely secular subjects. They should, in these particulars be absolutely free from sectarian control. Under the Act they are not Church Schools receiving Government aid. They are voluntary and not compulsory. All ratepayers are prima facie supporters of Public Schools and any attempt to coerce men into the position of supporters of Separate Schools is to be condemned and resisted. The agitation which has arisen on this subject will only be allayed either by the abolition of Separate Schools or by the strict carrying out of the original intention of the Act.

As the time is short before polling day, I may not have the opportunity of seeing you individually, but if the views herein expressed meet with your approval, I feel confident that you, as independent electors, men accustomed to doing your own thinking and having the courage of your convictions, will mark your ballot for me on the 5th of June and elect me to represent you in the next Legislature.

I have the honor to be
Your obedient servant,
R. KINNEY.
