

Chiquetta Post.

SACKVILLE, N. E., DEC. 15, 1870.

The Currency.

Among the blessings promised by Confederation, were 'one Parli, one Post Office, and one Currency.'

A true Bill had in days past, been found against the Western Empire for shooting Frank Coma at Batsford.

These other prisoners were indicted, the first named Bailey for breaking into a Mrs. Ogden's dwelling house at Joliette.

These were tried on Tuesday, and found guilty. Baker plead guilty. Boyle is being tried today.

St. Stephen Bank money is not used at all at the Custom House, or at the Post office but at the Hall.

On Friday the Session closed. About thirty licenses to sell liquor were granted during the term.

The Poor Man's Friend. Doctors' bills are too long for a poor man's pocket, but many of them may be avoided by keeping Great's...

The War.

The war drags slowly along. Saturday was not an important day.

The effect of these continual defeats—the apparent inability of the French Generals to cope with their opponents—cannot but be most demoralizing to the French troops.

It was to be expected that the French people looked for hope and deliverance, and it is there they have received an almost crushing defeat.

The establishment of this line, now complete, will have a knowledge of the position of the country, and will be a great advantage to the army.
