Larceny of $70.

John Knebold, an American miner working at Bell Island, was arrested at a boarding house in town yesterday by Sergeant Mackey charged with the larceny of $70 from J. Osmond, who was boarding at the same house with Knebold at Bell Island. Osmond came to town yesterday morning and reported to the police that on the previous day a tin box containing $70 had been stolen from his room. The police on questioning him found out that his fellow boarder, Knebold, left Bell Island on the day that the tin box with the money in it disappeared. Sergeant Mackey on being given a description of the man succeeded in locating him and bringing him to the lockup.

Labrador Report.

The s.s. Invermore arrived at Twillingate at 8 a.m. yesterday. The ship went to Hopedale and connected with the Stella Maris, which had been down to Cape Mugford. Capt. Parsons of the Invermore wired the following report to the R. N. Co. from Twillingate: "Arrived at Hopedale on the 18th; prevailing winds south and southeast. Light with fine weather all the trip. From Spear Harbor to Bateau nothing has been done. Black Tickle to Emily Harbor slight improvement. White Bears, Sloop Cove, Cape Harrison, Iron Bound Islands and Macovik, fair. Hopedale to Dawe's Island, fair; from Dawe's Island to Mugford, good fishing has been done. Cape Mugford to Sedlick Bay, very little done. Easterly winds, thick fog and heavy seas prevent fishing."

King's Wharf Founders

The eastern end of the King's wharf collapsed Saturday night last. A boat belonging to the Harbor Master, Capt. English, that was hanging there in davits was saved by the promptness of Mr. Joseph Pippy, who is in charge of the night boat. As soon as he heard the crash on the pier he got busy and managed to save the boat. The wharf kept sagging down for an hour when the shores finally gave way and a large portion of the bedding fell level with the surface of the harbor.

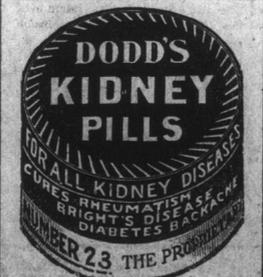

Dundee Delayed.

The S. S. Dundee was delayed at Port Blandford this morning owing to her propeller being out of order. Mr. A. D. Brown and Diver J. Butler went out by the express to Clode Sound last evening in order to effect repairs.

United Mine Workers Union Bankrupt.

Indianapolis, Aug. 17.—What has been suspected by many of the delegates to the miners' convention and feared by all to come to light in discussions and in reports of officers when it was discovered that the treasury is practically bankrupt, and the organization is in debt to locals for borrowed money to the amount of $125,000. In addition to this there is an overdraft of $2,000 unpaid, and to meet the expenses of this convention the miners must depend upon the assessments of the present week. This condition contrasted with that of five years ago, when the organization had a bank balance of nearly $1,000,000, is creating more discussion than the quarrel between Presidents Lewis and Walker, for the delegates declare that with $5,000 men idle and the treasury bankrupt there seems nothing in store for them but to return to work on the terms offered by the operators.

An arraignment of President Thos. L. Lewis, international organizer and the Executive Board of the United Mine Workers, and a complaint about the disbursement of the funds, by Frank Feehan, President of the Pittsburgh district, occupied most of the session. Feehan made his attack while Secretary Edwin Perry was calling the roll by districts for the delegates to tell of conditions and to state how much their men could stand as a strike assessment. He declared that Pennsylvania should be made the battle ground of the organization and that the million spent in the Nova Scotia strike was misappropriated. He accused Lewis of meddling in the affairs of Illinois and causing the strike, which he said should be indorsed.

English Courts Better

AMERICA A CENTURY BEHIND.

Committee of American Lawyers Find British Justice Superior—Quick, Businesslike Handling.

London, Aug. 11.—"We in America are a century behind England in our criminal procedure, chiefly on account of our technicalities," is the keynote of the report to President Taft, of the Bar Association, and the American Institute of Law and Criminology, being prepared by John D. Lawson, of St. Louis, and Edwin R. Keedy, of Chicago, who were sent here to study the proceedings in the London and other criminal courts, and have been here three months.

The following are extracts from the report:—"England has a more businesslike way of procedure."

"Although they have outward evidences of form in the way of wigs, sheriffs and the like, they are really less formal than we."

Trust the Jurors.

"The most striking differences in the systems are the quick manner in England of selecting juries, and the short time between sentence and final judgment on appeal."

"One difference we noticed was the absence of challenging of jurors. England allows no fishing by cross-examination, apparently considering it no more necessary to examine a juror than a judge."

"We began our work by reading the newspaper accounts, then going to the police courts and following the cases through to the Court of Appeal. One such case was completed in six weeks. In another, a murder case, the date of hanging was fixed three months after the crime; all this, notwithstanding that every person convicted has the right of appeal."

Muzzle the Press.

"We think one reason for the American conditions is that the prosecuting officers are swayed by public opinion and are forced to take up new things and the old ones are pigeon-holed."

"Newspapers are responsible for some of the conditions found in the American courts. English papers are forbidden to express an opinion of a case after the trial commences. The result is that the reports from the London papers are frequently cited in court."

Gibbons Deplores Present Day Greed.

Cardinal Compares Time to Rome's Period of Decline.

New York, Aug. 8.—Cardinal Gibbons, watching the automobiles pass a Long Island country house on Saturday, moralized on the dangers of self-indulgence.

"I think," he said, "we are closely approaching the age of extravagance and inordinate pleasure enjoyed by Rome just before her fall. The cry is for more and more riches. The rich man is greedy for more, and it is the same everywhere."

"True, we have many generous ones among the rich; but this great desire for riches is making people very selfish."

"Then there is the desire for inordinate pleasures." Pointing after an auto he continued: "You see we have many more channels of pleasure than were known to the patricians of Augustus Caesar's time; yet there is the desire for new pleasures and more pleasures."

"I believe the gospel of Christ will save the present situation. There was no Christ, you remember, to save Rome?"
