Acquire the Well Dressed Look.

It takes more than fine clothes and good grooming to give a woman the "well dressed look." That's something of the spirit. If women understood this there would be fewer heartburns among those who cannot have the elaborate wardrobes they long for. And it costs nothing but spirit.

No matter how beautiful a frock a woman wears, no matter how much care she has taken in having all the little personal appointments of her toilet perfect, if she has not the well dressed look, a thing of her spirit which the beautiful frock and grooming will not give her, she will have the "dressed up look," which is something quite different and not desirable.

The well dressed woman wears her clothes, no matter how elaborate, with an ease that makes them part of herself. She shines from them. They do not shine from her as in the case of the dressed up woman. She may have expended any amount of interest and care in selecting her clothes, in seeing that they were perfectly fitted, etc., but once donned a costume is ignored. She shows no consciousness of its beauty. As she enters a room she gives it no arranging pats or tweaks. She passes a dozen mirrors without a glance into one of them. She is as natural in her poses and gestures as she would be in a middy suit; no nervous fussing not to crush the frock when she takes a seat.

Such a woman will even smile blithely when a clumsy waiter lets fall a cup of coffee on her light satin frock. And there will not be a sign of anything forced in the smile. The "dressed up" woman couldn't have done it, because the "dressed up" woman has her clothes in mind all the time, takes them with a deadly seriousness, worries lest something hurt them.

A shopgirl may have the well dressed look to perfection, yet her clothes will be simplicity themselves, differing in style but little from the clothes of the other girls at the counter. They look conscious of their spotless skirts, waists, trim belts, their dainty coiffures. She appears perfectly unconscious of her clothes and coiffure. Everything about her shows pretty taste and care in dressing herself, but her eyes show no memory of any time devoted to her dress and no present concern with it. She does not stroke her belt or push it into a better fit about her waist, she does not handle the bow at her throat, pressing it into shape; she does not smooth her hair in public or look at her cuffs, and set them a little more this way or that. A woman can be quite natural, give the air of being quite careless in a frock, and yet not be careless with it. One can sit down quickly without crumpling things. Most of the fussing and arrangement the dressed up woman makes before settling herself is of no special avail. Better for her to crumple than rob herself of the well dressed look.

The dressed up woman, no matter how elegantly she may be dressed, always gives the impression of a person out in her best. When she enters a room full of people they think of her clothes, for the dressed up woman is simply a handkerchief. She doesn't count. How can she when she lets herself look dressed up? The look means—clothes first.

The woman with the well dressed appearance might enter the same room, let us suppose in the identical costume of the dressed up woman, and the people would notice her costume only as a gracious factor of herself. Women often wonder why they do not make a finer effect in some creation of a costume. It's because they do not know they lack the well dressed appearance.

COD PLENTIFUL.—Several fishing boats were on the local grounds yesterday, and cod was found plentiful and of a large size. Mr. A. Martin, of the Battery, got three quintals. A few others got equally good fares. All sold their catches "green" and found the demand equal to the supply.

Granulation of the Eyelids

Is Cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment—
Scores of Cases for the Great Soothing, Healing Ointment.
Most people know Dr. Chase's Ointment best as a cure for eczema and itching piles. Nor is this to be wondered at when you think of the remarkable record made in this class of cures.

But there are scores of other uses for this ointment, which are only discovered when it is kept constantly at hand.

Mrs. Martin, 13 Carroll street, Toronto, formerly of Bowmanville, Ont., writes: "We have used Dr. Chase's Ointment for years, and found it invaluable in treating skin irritations and all sorts of burns and wounds. In fact, we would not be without it in the house. It is a most excellent treatment for granulated eyelids, from which I suffered without finding anything to help me."

Wherever there is itching of the skin or a sore that refuses to heal you can use Dr. Chase's Ointment with full assurance that it will prove entirely satisfactory. 50 cents a box, all dealers, or Edman Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Daily Investment News Sir Thomas Lipton

the famous yachtsman
and one of the most successful business men the world ever knew, says:—

"Saving is the first great principle of all successes. It creates independence; it gives a young man standing; it fills him with vigor; it stimulates him with the proper energy; in fact, it brings to him the best part of any success—happiness and contentment. If it were possible to inject the faculty of saving into every boy, we would have a great many more real men."

We know of no more practical or profitable method of "injecting the faculty of saving" into boys or men of any age than our Partial Payment Plan, which conveniently combines saving with investment. Get the free booklet that outlines this unique system.

McMurdo's Store News

TUESDAY, Nov. 11th, 1913.
It should be remembered that Cantharidine Hair Tonic is not only a first class hair grower, but also an excellent dressing for the head, and in this capacity is becoming almost as well known and well liked as in its primary and principal form of action. Nicely perfumed, not only non-sticky, a specific for dandruff and scurf, economical in use and moderate in price it forms a practically ideal tonic and dressing for the hair. And its use tends to keep the hair youthful and of natural color, not because it is a dye for that it is not, but because it supplies to the scalp the nourishment which it needs to keep the hair healthy and vigorous. Price 25 and 50 cents a bottle.

If you have not tried Nelson's Chocolates, do not fail to do so. They are tip-top. In handsome boxes from 35 cents to $2.50.

Refloated.

The English schooner Isabella, which struck a rock beating in the harbour and had to be beached near Woods' dock, three weeks ago, has been sold at auction and purchased by Mr. F. C. Wills for $170. The new owner has managed to re-float the vessel and is getting her pumped out and she will go into dry dock shortly for complete repairs.

In order to relieve the freight congestion at Montreal the Black Diamond steamers Cosmona and Coronna have been engaged to make trips here with full cargoes and will leave Montreal next week. Owing to the enormous freight offering the S. S. City of Sydney was unable to sail from Montreal for this port on Saturday. She is expected to get away from there on to-morrow.
