LONDON, Feb. 22.

The Governor, Newfoundland:

The French Government reports the enemy's attack against Ypres repulsed with very heavy loss. South of Verdun the French captured three machine guns and two hundred prisoners. In Champagne the French have captured trenches and taken near Mesnil two machine guns and a hundred prisoners.

The Russian Government reports Russian counter-attacks on the northern front. Obsolete German attacks were repulsed in the Carpathians. There has been progress at certain points. Two sorties by the garrison of Przemyśl were repulsed with severe loss.

A German aeroplane dropped bombs at and near Colchester last night. Little damage was done and none were killed.

HARCOURT.

ST. PIERRE BULLETIN.

PARIS, via St. Pierre, Feb. 22.

Between the sea and the Aisne there has been intermittent cannonading during which the fire of our artillery was very effective. In Champagne a German counter attack, after being brilliantly repulsed, was hotly pursued, and we are now masters of all German possessions east and north of the forest which we took yesterday.

On the rest of the front we have made good progress, particularly north of Les Mesnils, where we captured two machine guns and 100 prisoners. The enemy tried a seventh counter attack at Eparges in view of recapturing the positions that we had taken three days ago. The attack, like the previous ones, was unsuccessful.

In Belgium there have been a few engagements of infantry. In the section of Ypres we have captured a portion of the trenches which the enemy had temporarily occupied. Communiqués confirm that the Germans left on the ground several hundred dead. Our losses were few. In Champagne we have maintained our gains of yesterday. In Vosges we repulsed two attacks, one on the north bank of the Meuse and two on the south bank. Fighting continues.

The American s.s. Evelyn, Captain Smith, agents Bull &amp; Co., New York, exploded on Friday, early, off Borkum. Crew saved; ship and cargo lost.

A FURTHER REPORT.

BERLIN, Feb. 22.

Further reports concerning the sinking of the American steamer Evelyn, yesterday, off Borkum Island, in the North Sea, show that only one man of the crew lost his life. This man was frozen to death in a small boat after sinking. The steamer Evelyn struck two mines but the crew had time to get into lifeboats. Some members of the crew were taken by

TWO NERVOUS WOMEN

Made Well By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I had a severe case of nervous prostration, with palpitation of the action of the heart, constipation, headache, dizziness, noise in my ears, timid, nervous, restless feelings and sleeplessness."

"I read in the paper where a young woman had been cured of the same troubles by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound so I threw away the medicines the doctor left me and began taking the Compound. Before I had taken half a bottle I was able to sit up and in a short time I was able to do all my work. Your medicine has proved itself able to do all you say it will and I have recommended it in every household I have visited."—Mrs. MARY JOHNSON, 210 Siegel Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Another Bad Case.
Ephrata, Pa.—"About a year ago I was down with nervous prostration. I was pale and weak and would have hysterical spells, sick headaches and a bad pain under my shoulder-blade. I was under the care of different doctors but did not improve. I was so weak I could hardly stand long enough to do my dishes."

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me well and happy and I have begun to gain in weight and my face looks healthy now."—Mrs. J. W. HOBBS, Ephrata, Pa.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

PART OF EVELYN'S CREW REPORTED MISSING.

THE HAGUE, Feb. 22.

Inquiry of coast guard stations in North Holland, have brought the reply that nothing has been heard of that part of the crew of the American steamer Evelyn, who were reported to have proceeded for Holland after the steamer was blown up. Very dense fog prevailed throughout yesterday and to-day along the coast.

REPORT DENIED.

LONDON, Feb. 22.

The Official Press Bureau issued an official denial to-day of the report sent from Berlin, that a British transport had been sunk by a German submarine.

SCANDINAVIA ANXIOUS.

LONDON, Feb. 22.

Germany's submarine blockade continues the chief topic of interest in the United Kingdom, although British shipping is apparently moving with its usual freedom. The Scandinavian neutral powers are showing much alarm over the situation, and representatives of the Scandinavian Government are holding another conference to-day, the outcome of which is awaited with much interest by neutral shippers. The question of naval convoys is being seriously considered at the conference, but the guarded comments of newspapers show that it is clearly recognized that such steps lead to war. The question of the right of the crews of five Danish ships to sail for the enemy's ports is now before the court, which is considering their excuse that Germany is not likely to respect a neutral flag.

GERMAN SUBMARINES REPORTED SUNK.

LONDON, Feb. 22.

A despatch from Amsterdam to the Exchange Telegraph Company, says reports from the German frontier state that much uneasiness exists in the German fortification seaport of Cuxhaven, concerning two large submarines which have not returned to their base. The under-sea boats are said to be two days overdue, and it is feared that they have been destroyed.

AN UNLIKELY STORY.

PLYMOUTH, Feb. 22.

The Western Daily Mercury says that when the Australian mail boat Malora, with 400 passengers, was entering the English Channel on Saturday afternoon, she was ordered to stop by an unknown armoured merchantman. The mail boat ignored the order and made for Plymouth, whereupon the merchantman fired five shells at her. All fell short, and the Malora anchored at Plymouth safely.

SARA BERNHARDT.

BORDEAUX, Feb. 22.

The right leg of Sara Bernhardt, the famous actress, was amputated to-day.

A BUDGET FROM LONDON.

LONDON, Feb. 22.

The wasp of modern warfare by submarines, by means of which Germany has declared she will blockade the British Isles, daily becomes a factor of more and more importance in the great war in Europe, with respect to its influence on the policies of the nations engaged and in connection with the contraband question so vital to neutral states. Almost coincident with unofficial reports, that Austria proposed to follow the example of her ally by making war on merchant ships in the Adriatic, came the announcement by Premier Asquith in the British Commons, that the much discussed retaliatory plan, though still tentative, was much broader in scope than had been previously suggested, in that it was a matter for consideration of all the allies, concerning which a joint note from the allies might be expected. A statement was likewise made in the Commons that the British Government might deem it necessary to alter its decision whereby cotton may be declared as contraband.

The day passed without any additional merchant belligerent or neutral ship having fallen victim to German submarines, but three small British craft are missing and fears are expressed as to their fate. Traffic in the North Sea remains somewhat disorganized, the Dutch and Scandinavian steamers showing reluctance to go to sea owing to the menace of both submarines and mines. Reports from Copenhagen that traffic between Sweden and England has been temporarily discontinued, are not officially confirmed.

The British newspapers print to-day two conflicting versions of the recent battles by which the Germans drove the Russians back over the East Prussian frontier, but naturally they are inclined to accept the Russian version. The Russians fell back in orderly fashion, fighting an effective rearguard action. As against this is renewed the German claim of capturing 100,000 prisoners and a staggered array of captured munitions. It is noted, however, that Berlin says, "The pursuit has come to an end." British observers say this means that another costly German rush has fallen short. It will take the battle now developing on Russian soil to demonstrate whether this view is correct. In the Carpathians the armies of Russia and Austria remained swaying as it were in the gateway of Hungary. In the western war zone, it is given and taken with loss or gain of a few yards of trenches. Official reports make usual claims, the Allies emphasizing their gains and the Germans theirs.

ZEPPELIN VISITS CALAIS.

PARIS, Feb. 22.

A Zeppelin airship bombarded Calais this morning, according to an official statement issued to-night, and dropped projectiles which killed five persons, all civilians, and caused some unimportant material damage.

NOT YET DECIDED.

LONDON, Feb. 22.

The allied governments have not yet decided upon the precise attitude which it is proposed to adopt in retaliation against Germany's recently initiated belligerent policy, but a speedy agreement is expected. Replying to a question in the Commons this afternoon Asquith said "The Allied governments are considering what action it would be proper to take in the way of reprisal against the German policy of attacking and destroying British, Allied and neutral merchant vessels without warning, and without an attempt being made to save the lives of civilians and innocent crews. Pending a decision, which I hope will very soon be announced, I cannot make a statement regarding the nature or scope of the measures to be taken. There certainly will be a note from Britain, and I hope that there will be a joint one."

FRENCH GAINS.

PARIS, Feb. 22.

An official communication issued by the French War Office to-night tells of the bombardment of Calais by Zeppelin dirigibles which dropped bombs and killed five civilians. Our batteries demolished a heavy gun occupying a position near Lombaertzyde. The enemy violently bombarded Rheims Sunday night and Monday.

The bombardment resulted in numerous victims, who represent the toll taken by Germans for their defeats of the last few days. On Souain Ceusejour front, we have made progress, capturing a line of trenches and two woods, completely repulsing two particularly violent counter attacks, taking numerous prisoners, and inflicting heavy losses on the enemy. By fresh attacks at Les Esparges we have continued to gain ground. We now hold almost the whole of the enemy's positions at Combres, south-east of Les Esparges, which is thus under our fire. At Bois Boule forest, Apremont, we captured a trench. In Alsace we have captured the greater part of the village of Stessweiler which we held only the outskirts of yesterday.
