EAST RUFFALO. N. Y., Sept. 11.—Cattle—No fresh sale cattle in. The receipts of 125 ears in the last $4 hours and the few that were peddled out to butchers went strong at full Monday's value. The feeling is ready and the general tone of the market stronger, and the prospects are considered fairly favorable for next week's trade.

Sheep and lambs—The eastern reports to day afford no encouragement to speculative buying; the markets there being quoted dull, slow and generally lower. A fair mumber were taken on order, and the butchers was no life to the trade and about half of the offerings laid over. Two loads of good Canada lambs sold at $6, and good to choice native lambs brought $5 50 to $57 5. Sheep about steady, market closing quiet.

Hogs—Supply 32 ears, including 10 carried over from yesterday. The market opened slow for anything but good hogs. Packers paid $5 40 to $5 50 for the best, and $5 25 for fair to good lots; grassy and Michigan hogs dull, at $5 to $5 10, and later in the day the best verseld around $5, as good as brought $5 15 yester-day. The market closed only steady.

LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

-Will Hayes, chief operator Bell Tele-ohone Company, is holidaying at St.

Marys.

—Talbot street residents will be glad to hear that the broken sewer has been recon-nected after a division of several weeks. -Mr. Mann, city, is creeting a brick barn and stables on the 200-acre farm he lately purchased at Middlemiss, on which there are 125 acres of timber. The new street sweeper has been tried and is not reported a gorgeous success. The work done is unsatisfactory, imperfect gearing being said to be the reason.

gearing being said to be the reason.

—Jack Mullins won in a 100-yard foot race with Swifty Payne the other evening on Bathurst street, west of Richmond. Only a few people witnessed the event.

—Richard Hill, of Ward 5, is congratu-lating himself on his big potatoes. He weighed two the other day which lacked 1½ and 21 ounces of 2 pounds respectively. and 2½ ounces of 2 pounds respectively.

—Since the holidays the number of pupils registered in the South London school is 545. There are eight teachers, and the law limits the number of pupils for each teacher to 50.

was made in broad daylight Thursday in South London, the house operated upon being the new one on Wortley road into which M. Cannom recently moved. Thursday afternoon the family were absent a couple of hours, and upon their return found the front door had been forced from its heavy hinges, a task that must have occupied considerable time, but as nothing was missed from the house it is surmised the operators were disturbed by pedestrians. Why the front door was worked in preference to the rear one can hardly be explained.

—The Toronto Endeavor Herald thus repaired.

Edison's Phonograph.

Messra. Lawrason & Co. have been exhibiting one of Edison's popular phonographs at the Tecumseh House for several days and evenings, and the selections of vocal and instrumental music supplied have given great pleasure to all who have heard them. A laughing chorus is one of the finest pieces ever presented in this city. The parties owning the instrument being well-known Londoners, deserve the first consideration of citizens. Their head-quarters now is in Grand's auction room, and exhibitions will be continued until after the Fair. The charge male is less than the usual figure, and many ladies and children are attracted to hear the music.

Mageo's Woodenware Works Burned.

machine was saved, as the fire was confined to the rear part of the premises.

The Baldor Shooting.

The log house occupied by the Webb brothers is situated in and surrounded by bluffs. The country around is of a broken and rough nature, calculated chiefly for stock more than for wheat raising, the Webbs themselves having about 40 head of cattle and about 30 horses. It now appears that the dispute between the brothers was about a line. Genius states that his brothers told him that in his absence their father redeemed certain property which he (Genius) previously claimed as his own, and made it over to Sidney, the youngest brother of the prisoner. He believed this, but wanted something to compensate him for such loss, and they to comply with his wishes gave him a quarter section of land which they had bought from the Hudson Bay Company and adjoining their own property. They were also to build him a house along with giving him some stock, etc., to work with, and hence the trouble arose in running the line between the Hudson Bay land, and the other ajoining it. They had not done it correctly, which threw part of his quarter on to them, eight acres of the same having been broken and cropped. Genius, thinking the line was not straight, got one of the neighbors to run the same correctly, and discovered as he had thought they had taken eight acres off his lot. After discovering this, but they did not heed him. After this, but they did not heed him. After this, but they did not heed him. After this, but they did not heed him after this he threatened that if they did any more to take the crop he would shoot them, and on going out next morning to the field to work with his hired men he discovered them stacking the grain, and flying into a fit of rage got the gun and drove them out of the field, and after some hot words shot his brother. The report from the doctor states that Harrison is about in the same condition and gives hopes of his recovery. He is able to talk in a whisper, eats a little and drinks milk.

—John Otwell, of London West, was be-

Thursday at the family residence, 243 Talbot street.

Deceased had lived in the city several years, coming here from Galt. He was local agent for the Cluthe Truss Company, Toronto, and not a regular practitioner. He leaves a family. The funeral takes place to the G. T. R. station to-day.

—The many friends of George Mansbridge will regret to learn of the death of his estimable young wife, which occurred Thursday at the family residence, South London, after a severe illness. Deceased was beloved by a large circle of acquaintances, who extend to the bereaved family and husband the warmest sympathy.

—Four Methodist missionaries and their wives, en route to China, will be in the city Sunday and Monday. Dr. Hart has been a laborer in the Orient for twenty years, while Dr. Stevenson, Dr. Kilburn and Dr. Hartwell, his companions, are new men. They will speak in Queen's Avenue Methodist Church Monday afternoon and a farewell meeting will be held there in the evening. On the Sabbath they will preach in churches which will be indicated by advertisements.
