ONE REASON WHY YOUNG MEN

SUPPORT MR. HOBBS. Many hundreds of young men are registering, and will vote for the citizen candidate, who would have been robbed of their manhood rights if the clamor of those opposed to Mr. Hobbs had been responded to. Their newspaper advocate declared that registration was unnecessary, and it berated the Mowat Government for providing it. Mr. Hobbs' friends desire every young man to have a vote. If the Dominion Franchise Act were in force, a "dude" whose father is rich would have a vote, but the workingman who was unable to get work for a week or two during the year, or who met with an accident and was unable to work for a short time, would under no circumstances be allowed to go on the lists.

-Two painters at work on a new building being erected at the corner of St. James and Wellington streets, by Mr. W. H. Smith, of Alma street, had a narrow escape yesterday. They were standing on the third story scaffold. The latter gave way. One grabbed the window sill and held on until released. The other fell, alighting on the second story scaffold, bouncing thence to a mortar beam, where he hung until rescued by means of a ladder. A drop to the ground might have been fatal to either.

-It is every young man's duty to register. Tonight and tomorrow are the only opportunities left in which to fulfill this duty. Register at once.

-Mrs. Harvie, of Toronto, addressed large audience in St. James' Presbyterian Church last night on a topic which was of especial interest to them. Mrs. Harvie is prominently associated with mission work. She is foreign secretary of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society in connection with the western division of the Canadian Presbyterian Church, president of the Toronto Guild (800 strong), and also of the Prison Gate Mission in Toronto. Last winter, together with another prominent worker. Mrs. Harvie visited the Presbyterian missions among the Northwest Indians, and it was on her experiences among the red men that she spoke last night. Mrs. Harvie gave many illustrations of the degraded condition of the tribes, the miserable life they lead, and which they are loath to abandon. The beautiful scenery of the Qu'Appelle valley was spoken of, Mrs. Harvie considering it equal to that of Scotland and more extensive. "You may think," said she, "that the missionaries in the Northwest have a delightful time of it, but they don't." And Mrs. Harvie told in a touching manner of the many hardships they had to endure. Rev. M. P. Talling presided and the choir furnished music. A collection was taken in aid of the work.

When Mr. Robert Fulford, the well-known theatrical manager, arrived here yesterday he brought with him the urn containing the ashes of his dead wife, Annie Pixley, the actress, who for years was a reigning favorite throughout Canada and the United States. Mrs. Fulford died in England last winter. Her favorite boy is buried in Mr. Wm. Fraser's family plot at Woodland Cemetery, and it is the intention of Mr. Fulford to erect a monument to his wife's memory and deposit the ashes therein near the remains of the child she loved so well in life and for whom she grieved until she died. Mr. Fulford and Fraser were out at Woodland today to choose a site. Meanwhile the ashes rest at the residence of Mr. Wm. Fraser, 251 Hyman street. Mr. Fraser is a brother-inlaw of Mr. Fulford.

They Are Still Registering.

There was a natural decrease in the number of registrations yesterday. The registrars had an easier time after the rush of the first day, when about 900 voters were sworn in. Yesterday the number reached 669. The falling off was noticeable during the day, but in the evening 341 persons registered, which is just twice the number of those who registered during the day. Today and tonight and up to 10 o'clock on Saturday night the work will go on until there are no voters left unregis tered. The figures at the close of the three different sessions were as follows: 1 p.m. 6 p.m. 10 p,m Wards.

175 342 Wednesday's registration, 890; Thursday's, 669. Total to date, 1,559. The Side-Rod Broke.

The westbound noon express on the C. P. R. pulled out of London station Wednesday on schedule time, and reached its destination at Detroit not a minute behind. Between these two points, however, an accident befell the engine, which in many cases of a like nature has cost a driver his life. The train had just passed Bothwell station and Engineer Clark was sending it along at the usual rate when a snap was just started on a month's holiday trip. He heard, It was followed by a crash is proceeding by rail to Vancouver, and on the right side of the tender, which was repeated again and again as the train sped along. Clark took in the situation in a moment. The side-rod had broken. Despite the great danger to which he was subjected, he stuck to his post, shut off steam, applied the air brakes, and soon had the train, with its 100 passengers, at a standstill. On examination a large hole made by the broken rod was discovered in the tank, which was quickly repaired. The fractured side-red, together with the one on the opposite side, were removed, and the journey continued, the train arriving in Detroit as stated. It was a hair-breadth escape for the engineer, for had the rod not broken off so short the cab would probably have been smashed to pieces, with possibly fatal results. The passengers were hadly frightened, but on receiving assurances that everything was safe resumed their places. The engine made the return trip to the city yesterday morning, minus both rods, but on time. Miss Nellie Ganthony.

At the Opera House last night a delighted audience listened to the brilliant Miss Nellie Ganthony, who comes fresh from marked artistic and social successes in England, Montreal, Ottawa and elsewhere. Her programmes are somewhat similar in scope to those of George Grossmith, whose refined and humorous personations some time ago charmed our city. Miss Ganthony is handsome, well bred and attractive-a woman of inimitable talent and versatility. The way in which she portrayed-in the extremely clever sketches written by herself-the mannerisms and foibles displayed by amateur entertainers -No. 2 committee has overdrawn this of the English upper classes, took the audiear's appropriation for sewers and culmusician as well as a mimic of no mean talent, and last night the music was reinforced by more than admirable work from the orchestra. We can heartily commend this entertainment to all who appreciate an evening of relaxation and enjoyment at once unobjectionable and bright. There will be a complete change of programme

The evening was spent in merriment and song and everybody enjoyed themselves.

Police Troubles. The police commissioners met in Chief Williams' office this morning and listened to the complaints of Messrs. Clare Ferguson and T. Tamblin against the conduct of Sergt. Crawford and P. C. Macdonald. Mr. Ferguson said that one day during the fair he was in the ring watching the operations of the men around the balloon. P. C. Macdonald was on duty in the ring and as he (Macdonald) came near, Ferguson made a remark which evidently did not please the officer. Macdonald turned toward the complainant and in the presence of numerous citizens threatened to arrest him. P. C. Macdonald denied having acted improperly. The commissioners were of the opinion that Ferguson was indiscreet with Macdonald while the latter was on duty, but advised the police not to take notice of any trifling remarks passed by citizens.

Mr. Tamblin was in the ring on another day and was watching the balloon, too. Sergt. Crawford approached him and threatened to put him out of the grounds if he would not hold one of the balloon ropes, as he (Tamblin) had been admitted into the ring for that purpose. Tamblin refused, saying that he had a zing badge and the officer couldn't eject him. The badge was not visible, and Crawford caught Tamblin by the coat, and was in the act of removing him when he saw the badge pinned on the inside of his jacket. All Crawford said was: "- you, why didn't you show it to me at first?" Crawford admitted using the sentence minus the first word. He never used profane language at all. The case was dismissed.
