'Silverites" on Top at Chicago.

The Republican Convention at St. not alone within its own borders and upon its own resources, but because it also reaches out to the ends of the Louis has come and gone, with Mc-Kinley nominated for President, Hobart for Vice-President, and a gold

The Democratic Convention is at work in Chicago. There, the "silverites" are on top, and have, by a twothirds majority, adopted the silver idea as opposed to the gold idea. Into the abstract merits of that discussion it is not necessary to go at this moment. Indeed, it is no easy question, and it must be confessed that if "the gold men" appear to have on their side the preponderance of what seems to be the most enlighened public opinion, there are not wanting men of light and leading on the side of "the silver men."

As to what the United States should do, under present circumstances, there is no reasonable question. Our neighbors might get along with silver at the proportions of value suggested, were their business relations only among themselves. But they have business relations with the outside world, and must therefore use a dollar of such sort and value as will be accepted as one hundred cents in any part of the globe. This necessity is well pointed out by the Republican candidate for the Vice-Presidency, Mr. Hobart, who says:

"Gold is the one standard of value among all enlightened commercial naions. All financial transactions of whatever character, all business enterprises, all individual or corporate investments are adjusted to it. An honest dollar, worth 100 cents any-where, cannot be coined out of 53 cents' worth of silver, plus a legisla tive flat. Such a debasement of our calculable loss, appalling disaster, and national dishonor.

"It is a fundamental principle in coinage, recognized and followed by all the statesmen of America in the past and never yet safely departed from, that there can only be one basis upon which gold and silver may be concurrently coined as money, and that basis is equality; not in weight, but in the commercial value of the metal contained in the respective coins. This commercial value is fixed by the markets of the world, with which the great interests of our country are necessarily connected by innumerable business ties, which cannot be severed or ignored. Great and selfreliant as our country is, it is great

A word as to the probable effect of the Democratio Convention, in not only adopting the silver view but in passing resolutions condemning the existing Democratic Administration of President Cleveland. To outsiders it looks as if the Democratic party had committed suicide in favor of the wild-eyed Populists. The Republicans will generally rally to their old party music, and are likely to be reinforced by many sound money Democrats. The New York Herald says the silver movement is as dangerous an attack on the integrity and credit of the country as was the firing on Fort Sumter in 1861, and is as likely to be met and overcome at the ballot box by a union of patriotic men without regard to previous party affiliations. A vigorous campaign of education will take place between this time and November. While the result of a general election anywhere can never be predicted with certainty, chances at present appear to favor the Republican candidates, and the view so tersely enunciated by Vice-Presidential Candidate Hobart, that "an honest dollar, worth one hundred cents everywhere, cannot be coined out of fifty-three cents worth of silver plus a legislative flat."

RON AND LEAD PIPE, STEAM AND Yokohama. The advices are to June 2, and show that the disaster was probably the most fearful of modern times. The death list has been greatly augmented since last advices, and will undoubtedly go far beyond 50,000. The distress among the survivors of the terrible visitation is appalling. Thousands of injured are dying from lack of medical assistance, and many are upon the verge of starvation, subsisting on fish washed ashore by the waves, and eating them raw, having no cooking apparatus. The wave originated not far from the Japanese coast, and appears to have visited an extent of over 300 miles of the coast line. Even in Hokkaido it wrought destruction. The most southerly limit of its ravages appears to have been a little north of the famous Archipelago of Matzushima. Had the wave impinged upon the cost south of Kincasan it would have worked ruin among the towns and villages of this region-Ishinomaki, Shieogam, Nobiru and others-but it missed the promontory and began its devastation with the villages of Onangawa and Okachi, situated across the neck of the penin-

Another theory is that a huge cave-in occurred in the southern part of what is known as the "Great Deep," beginning off Ishinomaki, and stretching over 700 miles northward and eastward. A Hachinohe telegram says that many bodies and wrecked houses were washed ashore in the Kamikita district of the Koromito Prefecture, from which the conclusion is drawn that the wave traveled southeast and northwest. Speculations as to the Personnel of the New Ministry.

Enthusiastic Welcome of the Liberal Chief in the Capital City.

Ottawa, July 10.-Hon. David Mills and Mr. Wm. Paterson. Brantford, arrived this morning, and early in the night by a vote of 153 to 32. day were in conference with the new Premier. It is believed that both of these gentlemen will be in the Cabinet. It is generally understood that Sir Oliver Mowat will be Minister of Justice, and that Sir Richard Cartwright will be the other representative in the Cabinet from Western Ontario. Mr. Edgar, it is said, will be Speaker of the House, and Mr. Brodeur, Deputy-Speaker. Senator Pelletier is likely to be Speaker of the Senate. Another possible Ontario Minister is Mr. Mulock, M.P. The Ministers from the other Provinces are thus put down by a speculator on probabilities: Quebec-Hon. Mr. Laurier, Mr. Tarte, Mr. Fisher and Mr. Geoffrion. Nova Scotia-Premier Fielding and PREMIER LAURIER'S (ARRIVAL. Mr. Laurier arrived here last evening by the regular Canada Atlantic express at 8:30, in response to the summons of his Excellency, who is without an adviser. He was accompanied by Messrs. Borden, M.P., Sutherland, M.P., S. Fisher, M.P., and Tarte, ex-M.P. Lr. W. C. Edwards, M.P., Mr. N. A. Belcourt, M.P., and Mr. Charles Murphy, president of the Federation of Young Liberal Clubs, met the leader en route, and came on with him. Before the train stopped the enthusiasm of the crowd, which numbered over 2,000, broke out in cheers. No demonstration or reception was arranged, but the people seemed bound to greet the distinguished statesman at the first opportunity. When he appeared on the platform of the parlor car a great cheer went up, and the crowd surged back and forth, as those behind pressed forward to catch a glimpse of the Premier-elect, while those in front tried to keep their places. Four or five police were present.

volunteers tried to force a passage through to the carriages in waiting, but it was impossible, and lack of arrangements was due to the fact that the hour of Mr. Laurier's arival was not generally known, and only about 5 o'clock did it become noised about. At last the carriages were reached, and Mr. Laurier drove away amid continuous cheering. At the Russell House a large crowd had gathered, and as Mr. Laurier alighted oud cheers were given in his honor. thousand people waited in front of the hotel in the hope that Mr. Laurier would appear on the balcony, but he did not deem it compatible with his duty towards his Excellency to say anything in public. He is looking and feeling well, and evidently quite prepared for the task before him. A bundle of letters and telegrams were laid on his table in room 65, and he was immediately immersed in business. At 10:30 Capt. Sinclair, his Excelency's secretary, called on Mr. Laurer, and intimated that the Governor-General would see him this morning at 11, and at that hour today the Civic Honors, London, July 9.-The march past at Aldershot was one of the most precise and smart ever held on that field. The Americans cheered lustily and saluted the regimental ensigns as they passed, and it was remarked that many of the Ancients, instead of the customary military salute, took off their helmets. The Ancients especially cheered the King's Royal Rifles, otherwise the Rifle Corps, which in 1755 was known as the American Regiment, and was largely drawn from Maryland and Pennsylvania. They fought at Louisburg, Cape Breton, at the capture of Quebec in 1759, and since then in nearly every part of the world. now planted their feet, standing secure where the logic of common institutions quietly, insensibly and inevitably led them. He dwelt upon the peaceful relations subsisting on the American-Canadian boundary century, and begged the statesmen of Europe to consider the impressive fact that peace was preserved without armed men and armed ships. How was it done? It was what brought them together now, not merely touching hands, but touching them in simple good faith. The only possible danger was the danger of misunderstanding. Mr. Bayard asked if he did not voice the spirit and feelings of the Americans when he declared that the one thing needful was mutual understanding, and was answered with loud cries of "Yes." Continuing, he said everything ought to be plain sailing if high thoughts were wedded to high intent. The debts of nations, he added, ought to be discharged in good faith. They in the United States intended to discharge theirs in full. There would be no diminution, no scaling, no debasement of coin allowed. America would keep faith.
