Elected Supreme Grand Vic2-President of the S. O. E.

Covered it, for he remained ignorant of the fact that it would reappear periodically. Indeed, its periodicity was not detected until Prof. Swift rediscovered it, in October, 1880, in consequence of which it is usually known as Swift's comet.

The period of this comet is only about five and a half years. It appeared in 1875, but escaped observation, as it was not looked for, and a similar fate befel it in 1884, for the reason that, though it was looked for, it was so rangements made, owing to lack of though it was looked for, it was so unfavorably placed that a satisfactory observation was impossible.

The astronomers had better luck at its last appearance, which took place in 1891. In that year the perihelion passage took place in November, and the sanitary arrangements made, owing to lack of funds, were not so good as might have been desired, this is an exceedingly good showing. The number of men killed and wounded is very small in comparison with the amount of work accomplished. The facts fully have the perihelion passage took place in November, and accomplished. The facts fully bear out
