LIVED A JEKYLL
AND HYDE LIFE

Romance Revealed by a Port Huron Elopement.

"Mrs. Hill's" Husband Turns Out To Be One of the Larkin Bandits.

Port Huron, Mich., March 19.—A peculiar case came to the attention of the police within the last few days, which exposes a romance and a past life.

Mrs. Wm. Campbell, of South Dakota, arrived in the city last week with her two daughters, and conducted a quiet investigation as to the whereabouts of her husband, who had deserted her. She traced him to William Casemore's saloon, and then to Fred Hill's shoe-maker shop. Casemore is Campbell's cousin, and it appears that he introduced him to Mrs. Hill, who suddenly discovered that a relative of hers had died in Milwaukee. Campbell came to the rescue with two tickets to Chicago, where the couple were to be married. Mrs. Hill, who of course accepted, Hill accompanied his wife to the train, and on the same night Campbell disappeared.

Hill next received a telegram from his wife that she had been robbed in Chicago, and to send her more money, which he refused to do. Mrs. Campbell secured an affidavit to the effect that Campbell had run away with Hill's wife, and on this she based her divorce proceedings in South Dakota. Now comes the peculiar feature of the case.

Fred Hill has been known as a shoe-maker for several years, but the disappearance of his wife brings up his past. He is one of the famous Larkin brothers, who years ago terrorized the whole country with their hold-ups. They defied the officers with Winches.

CONFERENCE AT DAIRY SCHOOL

Large Meeting of Farmers and Dairywomen at Strathroy.

Interesting and Practical Addresses on Subjects of Importance to Farmers.

On Thursday, March 6 there was held in the Dairy School, Strathroy, a large meeting of farmers and dairywomen of the district. The gentlemen and ladies were in separate rooms, with different speakers. Mr. J. B. Muir, of the Strathroy Flocking Company, presided over the chair, and very satisfactorily performed the duties pertaining thereto.

SEED GRAIN SELECTION.

The first speaker was Mr. John S. Pearce, of London, who spoke on "Seed Grain Selection." Farmers at the present time are not careful enough in selecting, screening and exchanging seed. The first requisite is to obtain good seed, although seed that may not be good, and should be tested before sowing, to see what percentage will germinate. In the so-called clean seed there is often found from 5 to 15 per cent of dirt. Farmers are altogether too ready to buy cheap seed, no matter what the quality. From a test made at the Pan-American, Mr. Pearce showed that the market price was in reality paying from two to eight times as much for pure seed as for the mixed seed. A good fanning mill will keep out a great deal of the dirt.

Mr. Pearce also showed that those who bought seed for the highest market price were in reality paying from two to eight times as much for pure seed as for the mixed seed. A good fanning mill will keep out a great deal of the dirt.
