Special to The Advertiser.

Ingersoll, Jan. 30.-While working ith his brother Joe in the bush on the farm of R. M. Harris, which adjoins the town at the south side, George Webber was instantly killed about 5 o'clock this afternoon. He was struck a terrific blow on the side of the head by a limb of a falling tree, was forced to the ground on his face and his skull crushed. Coroner Dr. Williams was summoned and after investigating the fatality deemed an inquest unnecessary.

The victim of the accident was about 73 years of age, and for many years had been engaged in ditching in the neighboring districts with his brother. Rumor from time to time has credited them with having amassed a large fortune. They began cutting wood a few days ago in Harris' bush and they decided to with Ads, not cancelled after 10 p.na

Isaac B. Williams, who lives three miles outside St. Thomas, would rather get drunk in London than in the Raliroad City, according to police records. He invented He invariably comes her for his sprees, and has appeared in police court several times to answer charges of being intoxicated.

Last night a call was put into the police station from Mill street.

The complaint was that Williams had been disturbing the entire neighborhood. "This man tried to enter any num-ber of houses," Chief Robert Birrell explained.

"If you come here to get drunk again you'll receive a worse penalty than I am going to impose," the magistrate said. "If you want to drink, do your drinking in St. Thomas. Ten dollars and costs."
