IMPRESSIONS OF A FRENCH
CORRESPONDENT.

Who Witnessed the Great Naval Review—Delicate
Compliment Paid to England by the U. S. Warship Brooklyn.

London, June 29.—The Times publishes a letter this morning from a correspondent, who points out a delicate compliment paid by the United States warship Brooklyn to England during the naval illuminations at Spithead on Saturday. He reminds the Times that the searchlight of the Brooklyn was turned first upon the Stars and Stripes, then upon the English ensign, and finally withdrawn from the American and allowed to illuminate the British flag only for the remainder of the evening.

A FRENCHMAN'S IMPRESSIONS.
The correspondent, who is a Frenchman, who attended the Jubilee naval review, and who made several trips on different steamers for the purpose of learning the opinion of the visitors and the warships, sends to his paper a vivacious summing up of his experience. He says:—"How they delight the English! My dear friends, from a single cheer before the Kaiser's cruiser, and remarked with disapproval her ancient construction. Coming to the superb Japanese cruiser, the crown waved sarcastic, crying 'Tchinn, Tchinn, you, you!'"
