Association Direc-Fors Differ As to Wisdom of Allowing Horse Races During the Fall Fair will there be any horse racing at storia's fall exhibition?

This question is not easy to answer. Imbers of the Board of Directors the British Columbia Agricultural Association are agreed that there can't be a meet without betting. That is the point on which there doesn't apthe point on which there doesn't appear to be any difference of opinion, but the same unanimity is lacking as to whether it is adviable to allow what has come to be considered as annual event to go forward in view of the discatisfaction evinced in many quarters over the now closing sixty day

The board has had two meetings within the past seven days, one on Wednesday and the other on Saturday evening, at which the one subject discussed was the race question in its relation to the fair. On both occasions they conferred until mid-night and even now they are not in a posi-tion to make a definite announce-tion to make a definite announcement.

On the last occasion the full membership was in attendance, namely, His Worship Mayor Hall, who occupied the chair, and Alderman Henderson, Dr. Tolmie, George Sangster, and T. W. Paterson, together with the secretary, J. E. Smart. The debate according to reliable report, was lengthy and more or less heated. The Mayor and Alderman Henderson summed a position antagonistic to racing and the attendant betting. The others took the stand that the show should be allowed to proceed as in the past, that lowed to proceed as in the past, that if the races were cut out it would probably deal the exhibition so serious a blow financially that it would never recover, which the secretary declared that, if such a step were taken, he would require to see sufficient money ahead to carry the fair through before he went on with the arrangement

And so the discussion proceeded very merrily, the Mayor and Alderman objecting tentatively but, apparently, being unprepared to take a definite position either way while Messrs. Paterson and Sangster and Dr. Tolmie endeavored to convinc them of the absolute necessity, one of the exhibition's principal feature being permitted to stand if it was desired that it should be made a suc-

Mr Sangster to bring the issue to a focus moved that the horse races be entirely eliminated. The resolution was placed on the minutes, but was not put to a vote, the Mayor hesitating to take that step. Meanwhile

Conservatives Had Fine Time at Sidney on Saturday at Second Annual Outing of the Association

G. H. Barnard's victory in the race for married men and the discovery of an insidious hornets' nest outside the an insidious hornets' nest outside the grounds were the two outstanding features of the annual Conservative picnic at Sidney Saturday. Everybody had a good time and the speeches, which were of a nature that added to the pleasure of the day.

The 1,500 people who attended the picnic were carried by four special trains.

The day was beautiful, and nature seemed to have donned holiday garb in sympathy with the affair. Sea, air, and sky were clear and beautiful, and gibed well with the intention of the merrymakers. Hon. Richard McBride, premier of the province, G. H. Barnard, M.P. for Victoria, Hon. Dr. Young, and G. H. Bradbury, M.P. for Selkirk Man. were the orators of the The Playful President

Selkirk, Man., were the orators of the day, and their stirring addresses were greatly enjoyed. While a pressure bia and his heartfelt remarks were the occasion for long cheers, typifying the deep regard in which he is held by the Conservatives of the oldest settlement in the province, and the province's capital city.

A programme of sports was run off prior to the speeches. These were keenly contested, and afforded much interest and amusement to the crowd of onlookers.

To the strains of "The Maple Leaf To the strains of "The Maple Leaf for Ever," rendered by the Fifth Regiment band, Premier McBride, ac-companied by Dr. Young, G. H. Brad-bury, M.P., James Savage, and R. F. Green, president of the Victoria Con-servative association, mounted the rostrum amid cheers from the large graved of spectators rostrum amid cheers from the large crowd of spectators.

Despite the fact that some unkind friend had planted a hornets' nest outside the gate of the grounds, the ceremony was carried through without a single mishap to mar the day. Ralph Smith, M.P., was an interested spectator during the afternoon, but while he evidently did not greet with favor the outbursts of applause which favor the outbursts of applause which punctuated the remarks of the Con-servative orators, the presence of the nest of stinging insects was not laid mier and his associates to the large-and attentive audience. Mr. Green declared that on this, the second an-nual picnic of the Conservative asso-ciation, he was delighted to officiate. Last year the Conservative associa-tion had instituted the annual picnic as an occasion of celebration. It had been a doubtful experiment, but ex-perience had shown that it had been more than instified perience had shown that it had been more than justified.

Introducing the Hon. A. E. McPhillips, M.P.P. for the Islands, he waxed enthusiastic, and declared he was the right man in the right place, and referred to his work in the local house as that of a man whose chief purpose was to adequately represent his constituents.

October three Conservatives were returned to add leaven to the innocuous mass. It was tribute to Premier Mc-Bride that the last election was fought upon the cry of "B. C. for B. C., and every man therein."
