TACTICS FOR TEACHERS

THE ONTARIO ASSOCIATION 11 SESSION IN THIS CITY.

The Opening Day-The Various Subjects that Engaged the Attention of the Con-vention-An Evening Session.

The Ontario Feachers association opened its twenty-second annual convention in the theatre of the education department at 11 a.m. yesterday, with Archibald Macmurchy, M.A., the president, in the chair. There was a good attendance of public school inspectors and teachers from different parts of the province. Mr. Duncan read a £100. portion of the scriptures and led in prayer, after which Mr. Parlow was appointed minute secretary. A letter from the minister of education regarding the superannuation fund was referred to the legislative committee. Letters were received from the last convention to the minister of edueation, but, ne government decided not to present an extensive school bill before the legislature last session. AN ADDRESS ON SCHOOL HOURS.

F. S. Spence addressed the convention on "school hours and vacations." It was the duty of the public to judge upon the results of the work of teachers but they had not the right to criticise the manner in which they proposed to carry out that work. He wished it were possible to have holidays in the country and to arrange them so as to come on such time when there was no work EDUCATE THE PEOPLE IN ENGLAND has arisen with the churches, and a most noteworthy feature of it is, its decidedly religious character. Even at the present day the Church of England does far more, in every way, for popular education in Eng-land than the state, or in truth than the state and all the other churches combined. The first vigorous effort to educate the masses was made by Robert Raikes, the reputed founder of Sunday schools, in 1780 (secular as well as sacred knowledge was communicated in the Sabbath schools.) The first grant made by the state come on such time when there was no work to do at home so the boys would have a chance to get their proper development. It was not rest to change from study to hard physical labor. He believed hard study would not hurt pupils when they got a sufficient amount of recreation also. Study-ing at home was good, as they would be learning to study and work with-out assistance. The regular school hours were now about five hours a day in school with about an hour at home. They should hit upon some plan such as this :-Let two hours study be the maximum for pupils in the first part where they will average about six years and let that be increased about half as hour longer for each grade. That would bring it up to The first grant made by the state for popular education was in 1833, and was to be distributed under and was to be distributed under the management and control of the National society and the British and foreign society. In 1839 the government appointed an Educational committee of the privy council, and made a grant of £30,000, the distribution of the money to be guided and controlled by this educational committee. An elaborate system of in-spection with grants was established in 1846 by the committee of council. The training of pupil teachers, i.e., boys and girls ever 13 years of age by masters in public schools, was greatly encouraged. h grade. That would bring it up to at it is as present, six hours work for junior fifth book with pupils of the junior fifth book with pupils of 13 or 14 years of age. A great many of our boys and girls are far better at school than anywhere else, especially the boys. There is no difference practically between the parent and teacher in the guidance of pupils. Generally all the energies of a teacher are applied to the mental development, and the physical de-velopment is neglected. Another of the neglected subjects is morality. The charactgundance of a teacher are applied to the mental development, and the physical de-velopment is neglected. Another of the neglected subjects is morality. The charact-ers of children are formed at school. One of the most important elements of public school teachers' duty is to look after the morals of their pupils. A-H: DIXON & SON! 307 (KING STREET WEST) STORONTO, CANADAN WHAT IS CATARRH ?

Catarh is a muco-purulent discharge caused by the presence and development of the verticable parasite amoeba in the internal lining membrane of the nose. This parasite is only developed under favourable circumstances, and these are : morbid state of the blood, as the bighted corpuscle of tubercle, the germ poison of syphilis, mercury, texcemea, from retention of the effeted matter of the skin, suppressed perspiration, badly ventilated sleeping apartments, and other poisons that are germinated in the blood. These poisons keep the internal lining membrane of the nose in a constant state of irritation, ever ready for the deposit of the south, causing ulceration of the throat ; up the eustachian tubes, causing deafness ; burrowing in the vocal cords, causing hoarseness ; usurping the proper structure of the bronchial tubes, of the skin and toxceme generally, but they consist chiefly of languor, lassitude, debility, but head ; cerebral disturbance.
The want of proper respiratory function of the skin and the local pressure of the parasite is to cory at torsit, sincering, a sense of fullness, stuffing of the passages, soreness is usulowing, irritative cough, tightness of chest, dry or moist rales, hemorrhages. (Internal tubes, Internal for the parasite is only and the pressure of the parasite, the parasite causes great nervous irritation.)

There may be a discharge quite heavy if the parasite causes great nervous irritation,

In swallowing, irritative cough, tightness of chest, dry or moist raies, hemorringes, surface of the parasite heavy if the parasite causes great nervous irritation, which promotes secretion. If may be dry if the nulliplication and duplication of the parasite is active. The increased pungent odor of ozena is never present until the spores or roots of the germ penetrate to the carilages of the nose. "
""Catarrh is usually me ti in three stages, Fi'st—A simple parasitical development of the internal lining membrane of the nose, with or without a discharge. Second—Where the roots or spores or sporules of the amoba have penetrated to the bone or carilages-ozena. Third—Where the parasite has spread and propagated by millions in the nose, posterior nares, up the custachian tubes, down the fauces, vocal cords and bronchi, causing excessive parasitical ulceration and destruction of tissue, the parasite has repring the normal structure.
The mode of propagation is by contagion, or infection, or both—hence its prevalence in families, districts, etc. The parasite develops itself rapidly, so much so that millions are elaborated in a short space of time. The effect of this formation upon the nervous system is to impair vital force, produce general nervous irritation, a depreciation of the vasomotor nerves. Cold in fusel cannot produce Catarrh, it simply produces an irritation, a field for the progration of the parasite. A large percentage of our population are affected with Catarrh, and its effects are not only ulceration and destruction, with pungent fetid door, loss of the nasal bone, ulceration of fauces and propagate upon the sirve teles, consisting of semi-fluid matus manbrane, a filling up of the air vesicles with the germ parasite, but bronchial or pulmorary consumption and on a specific or root remains they will germinate. No intelligent person doubts that Catarrh and Ozenna is a parasite, since it is endorsed by the most emment scientists in the world, such as Tyndall, Hawxley and Beale.

We have certificates of cures, many of them in cases of very long standing, that had baffled all the preparations of the day, as well as the medical profession ; and we have never yet failed to give every satisfaction in a single case. Every attention is given to patients, and we spare no trouble in cases of very long standing. The remedy and apparatus, which is so simple that a child can readily understand it, is furnished to the patient, and the treatment can be applied without loss of time or interference with severation.

furnished to the patient, and the treatment can be applied without loss of time of interference with occupation. To those who are suffering from deafness caused by catarrh, we would say that the above treatment has been successful in restoring the hearing in a great number of cases, where the patient was almost entirely deaf. Our experience for the past eighteen years demonstrates beyond a doubt that the greater majority of cases, no matter whether standing for one year or forty years, are permanently cured-by one treatment—cures effected over a year ago being cures still. A very small per-centage of cases require a second treatment, and a third is not necessary in more than two cases out of a hundred. The most offensive odour, hoarseness, loss of voice, headaches, languor, weak eves, etc.

centage of cases require a second treatment, and a third is not necessary in more than two cases out of a hundred. The most offensive odour, hoarseness, loss of voice, headaches, languor, weak eyes, etc., caused by Catarrh, are removed by one treatment. Sufferers are particularly requested not to confound our remedy with patent medicines, quack, or advertising doctors' nostrums—it is neither—but an honest cure for Catarrh, as thousands who have been cured can testify. We have been offered heavy inducements by numerous patent medicine dealers to allow them to sell our remedy to Druggists throughout the United States and Canada, as there is an extensive enquiry for it from all parts of the conclusion that we cannot do this, there being so many different stages of Catarrh, the remedy must be prepared expressly for the patient after receiving a description of the case in order to effect a cure. Old and young, male and female, all require different treatment, and were we to place our remedy in the hands of the druggists we would be forced to prepare it all alike, in which case it would fail continually in effecting a cure, and the consequences would be that our remedy (invaluable when properly prescribed) would soon be classed among the patent medicine humbugs now on the mark to avoid the mark to avoid the very appearance of quackery we do not publish a long

N.B.—As we wish to avoid the very appearance of quackery, we do not publish a long list of certificates of cures, such being the system employed by quacks and dealers in all hinds of nostrums, but prefer that the remedy shall stand upon i's merits. At the same time we think that the public are entitled to references as to our reliability and integrity before forwarding their money for the remedy, and we submit the following well known names of Toronto (Canada) business men :—Wm. Norris & Son, Wholesale Piano Dealers; E. H. Tallmadge & Co., Wholesale Druggists; Hunter & Co., Wholesale Picture Dealers; Taylor & Wilson, Cigar Manufacturers; Stuart W. Johnston, Retail Druggist.

/ TORONTO, Dec. 20, 1881. TORONTO, Dec. 27, 1881. Mr. A. H. Dixon : Mr. A. H. Dixon, No. 307 King St., West. DEAR SIR, —As you asked me to write and report my condition after using your remedy for catarrh, I would say that I have had a very satisfactory experience with your treatment. As I informed you when I first called, mine was a very aggravated case of over ten year's duration, the discharge and odour being something frightful, so much so that I was obliged at times to isolate myself at different times under the treatment of five different eminent English physicians and specialists in the Old Country, and after a treatment of greater or less length they pronounced me incurable. I certainly never received a particle of benefit from any quarter until I tried your treatment, three weeks after commencing which, I was entirely rid of my catarrh, and am new a sound man. Your cure is a perfect boon to sufferens from this chronic complaint, and I do not think that you will ever meet a case that you cannot cure. I shall shortly Mr. A. H. Dixon, No. 307 King St., West. DEAR SIR,-I deem it my duty, in the a case that you cannot cure. I shall shortly call on you to make arrangements to send some of your remedy to a near friend in Scotland who is suffering similarly. Yours very truly, J. M. NICHOLSON, Winnipeg, Man.

THOROLD, Nov. 1, 1881.

A. H. Dixon, Esq., Toronto :

SIR,-I have great pleasure in informing you that after one treatment of your catarrh remidy, I am entirely recovered. I suffered from the disease for over three years, and during the last few months the catarrh was most aggravated. In fact, I scarcely had my handkerchief out of use for a moment.

It is now six months since I was cured, and there is no return of the complaint. I re-gard my recovery as a wonderful one. I remain, yours truly,

Some time Superintendent of the Mai

interest of those who are suffering from catarrh, to state that I suffered from this dreadful disease in a very aggravated form for a period of fifteen years. I was under for aperiod of fifteen years. I was under the treatment of (here comes the name of a prominent specialist and physician, which, for obvious reasons, is omitted) for a year, he having guaranteed me a cure, without deriving the slightest benefit. I have also tried other treatments with a similar result, and which had the effect of thoroughly dis-couraging me. Finally, hearing that you hed a cure for this disease. Localed on work and which had the effect of thoroughly dis-couraging me. Finally, hearing that you had a cure for this disease, I called on you and was treated by your method on the 7th of November, 1880, and in *ten days there*after I was completely cured by one treat ment, and I have had no return of the disease since that time, which is now over a year ago. Judging from the effects of your treatment on myself, I am satisfied that yours is the only treatment for catarrh which will effect a permanent cure.

 I remain, yours truly,

/ TORONTO, April, 24, 1882. A. H. Dixon, Esq., 307 King St., West. DEAR SIR, —We take pleasure in stating that our junior partner, who had for years been troubled with catarrh, was success-fully cured by three treatments of your remedy. The catarrh was much aggra-vated with continual dropping into the throat, accompanied by loss of voice, hawk-ing and suiting and blecking and the ing and spitting and blocking up of the nostrils, all of which we are pleased to say disappeared almost immediately after the remedy was applied. Your remedy is certainly an invaluable one and we hope all who may be suffering from this disagreeable disease will vive it a trial as we are satisfied they will find it a complete success. Yours very truly
