

stake in the country to be disregarded if they would but express their wishes. But they require a rallying point and a centre and band of union, and this may be found in the Grange. Then let every farmer join the Grange, and having done so do his utmost to carry out its principles not only in the letter, but also in the spirit. There is, however, another matter which is equally as if not more important than buying and selling to the best advantage. This is the subject of education about which there has been some discussion lately in the papers. It appears that neither at the common or high schools nor even at the Model Farm at Guelph, it is possible for a boy to obtain just such an education as is calculated to fit him for following the business of farming. There are hundreds and thousands of farmers in the Dominion who have sons, to whom they can leave fine estates at their death, and whom they would like to educate in such a way that they would be both able and willing to carry on the business of farming these estates, and continuing and extending the improvements which have already been made upon them. If, however, they send their sons to the present existing schools, the result in too many instances is that the young men imbibe a distaste for farming, and perhaps wish to enter some other business or profession, which is in reality, neither so respectable nor so independent as farming. The reason I think for this is that the boys while going to school associate with other boys, who are intending to enter on commercial or professional life, and being just at the age when their opinions are most easily influenced by their companions, learn most unnecessarily and unreasonably to think that the business of farming is one to be looked down upon and despised. Of course, this is an entirely mistaken view since in truth no calling is more necessary, more honorable and more independent. But unfortunately they are not old enough to be able to see this, and are led away into this false view by their companions. In addition to this the course of study which they have to go through is more calculated to fit them for commercial or professional pursuits than for farming. I have no doubt that many fathers have been bitterly disappointed in their views and wishes for their sons by these causes; indeed, I know personally of more than one instance of this. Now, where are we to find a remedy for this evil? I think we may find it in co-operation and the Grange in the following manner. There are at present 850 subordinate grange lodges in Canada, and I think we may safely say they average twenty members in each lodge, that would give 17,000 members. Now, if each of those members would subscribe $5, that would amount to $85,000, and I only wish to ask whether that sum would not build and endow a college of our own, to be entirely under our own control, and to be conducted exactly as we pleased. Of course, all details could be attended to by whoever were appointed as a committee to carry out the arrangements; and I must say I think there would be no difficulty in finding 10 or 12 men in the whole body of the Grange both able and willing to act as such committee, and to discharge their duty in the very best manner; or if any difficulty did arise, it would be not because there were no men both willing and competent, but because there were so many that it would be difficult to make a selection. Should this proposal be approved and acted on, I will at some future time lay before you a few suggestions which have occurred to me, as to the management of such a college. At present, I have perhaps occupied too much time and space, and thereby beg to subscribe myself. Yours faithfully,

A NOTED BUT UNTITLED WOMAN.

[From the Boston Globe.]

Messrs. Editors.—

The above is a good likeness of Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., who above all other human beings may be truthfully called the "Dear Friend of Woman," as some of her correspondents love to call her. She is a zealously devoted to her work, which is the outcome of a life-study, and is obliged to employ six lady assistants, to help her answer the large correspondence which daily pours in upon her, each bearing its special burden of suffering, or joy at release from it. Her Vegetable Compound is a medicine for good and not evil purposes. I have personally investigated it and am satisfied of the truth of this.

On account of its proven merits, it is recommended and prescribed by the best physicians in the country. One says: "It works like a charm and saves much pain. It will cure entirely the worst form of falling of the uterus, Leucorrhoea, irregular and painful menstruation, all Ovarian Troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Floodings, all displacements and the consequent spinal weakness, and is especially adapted to the Change of Life."

It permeates every portion of the system, and gives new life and vigor. It removes indigestion, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion. That feeling of being down, causing pain, aching and backache, is always permanently cured by its use. It will at all times, and under all circumstances, act in harmony with the law that governs the female system.

It costs only $1 per bottle or six for $5, and is sold by druggists. Any advice required as to special cases, and the names of ladies who have been restored to perfect health by the use of the Vegetable Compound, can be obtained by addressing Mrs. P., with stamp for reply, at her home in Lynn, Mass.

For Kidney Complaint of either sex, this compound is unsurpassed as an abundant testimony shows.

"Mrs. Pinkham's Liver Pills," says one writer, "are the best in the world for the cure of Constipation, Biliousness and Torments of the Liver. Her Blood Purifier will work in a special line and bids fair to equal the Compound in its popularity."

All must respect the Angel of Mercy who so gently and so good to others. Philadelphia Pa. Mrs. A. M. D.

Is a compound of the virtues of sarsaparilla, stillingia, mandrake, yellow dock, with the iodide of potash and iron, all powerful blood-making, blood-cleansing, and life-sustaining elements. It is the purest, safest, and most effectual alterative available to the public. The sciences of medicine and chemistry have never produced a remedy so potent to cure all diseases resulting from impure blood. It cures Scrofula and all scrofulous diseases, Erysipelas, Rose, or St. Anthony's Fire, Pimples and Face-grubs, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetters, Humors, Salt Rheum, Scald-head, Ring-worm, Ulcers, Sores, Rheumatism, Mercurial Disease, Neuralgia, Female Weaknesses and Irregularities, Jaundice, Affections of the Liver, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility.

By its searching and cleansing qualities it purges out the foul corruptions which contaminate the blood and cause derangement and decay. It stimulates the vital functions, restores and preserves health, and infuses new life and vigor throughout the whole system. No sufferer from any disease of the blood need despair who will give AYER'S SARSAPARILLA a fair trial.

It is folly to experiment with the numerous low-priced mixtures, without medicinal virtues, offered as blood-purifiers, while disease becomes more firmly seated. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA is a medicine of such concentrated curative power, that it is by far the best, cheapest, and most reliable blood-purifier known. Physicians know its composition, and prescribe it. It has been widely used for forty years, and has won the unqualified confidence of millions whom it has benefited.
