A Prize Waiting for Filibusters.

Says the Pall Mall Gazette:-The Russian squadron in the Pacific will be reinforced by a ship most powerfull parmoured both offensively and defensively. This fact is worthy of being noted, since, as we have repeatedly pointed out, our wealth in the Pacific, our naval stores and supply of coal, lie literally unprotected on the beach, a prize for any Power to snatch from us. There is no single fortification on Vancouver's Island-a small battery is, we believe, being constructed, but it is not yet completed-and the only troops available consist of a score or so of local militia, poorly equipped and indifferently trained. The largest man-of-war and only English ironelad in the Pacific is the Triumph. a vessellaunched in 1873, 6,660 tons displacement, armoured about the water-line and on the batteries with 8-inch plates, and carrying ten 9-inch 12-ton guns, and a complement of 450 of all ranks. The Minin, on the other hand, has a displacement of 5,650 tons only; but she carries an armament of four 11-inch 28-ton guns, throwing projectiles weighing 500 lbs., in a central battery 98-ft. long, rising 10-ft above the waterline, is protected by armour i2 inches thick resting on 24-inch wooden backing, and has a crew வ€ கூராH told.

The newspaper carrier who serves papers to the attendants in the permanent exhibition building goes his rounds at the rate of twelve miles an hour. He travels on machines not unlike roller skates, which are called pedomotors, according to the inventor, Mr. J. H. Hobbs, an architect on Walmut street, above lefth. The day is not far distant when the whole city will be on wheels, when pedestrians will be skimming through the streets at the rate of ten miles an hour without any more effort than is now put forth in perambulating half that distance. The pedomotor consists of four tough, light wooden wheels, supplied with an outer rim of tough india rubber. These wheels are secured to a trame the shape of the foot, which is strapped to the pedal extrenities in the usual manner. Unlike roller skates, the wheels of these little wehicles are not under, but are placed on each side of the foot, thus giving the warrer a good standing as well as a solid footing. The rear wheels are three inches in diameter, while those in from are but two and a halfimeles. This gives the foot a slight incline, and when in motion has much todo in impelling the pedestrian forward. Extending from the toe, with a slight curf toward the ground, is a piece of custing termed the pasier, which is simply used in mounting the elevation or steep incline. From the centre of the heel a small brass wheel extends backward, serving as r guide as well as a brake. The whole scarcely turns the scale at a pound weight. In using them no more colori is required than in ordinary walking. The warer steps with his regular stride, and is amazed to and thuself skinming over the ground so rapidly with so little muscular effort. No effort of the body is required for their use as in skates. The traveller simply plants one foot hefore the other and finds himself whizzed along at a lively rate.

Discovery of the North West Passage.

The honor of comparative success in Archevoyaging belongs to a Swedish scientist, Prof. Nordenskjold, After a careful study of the logbooks and records of the Norwegian whaters, he came to the conclusion that at certain seasons of the year, following the route of these northern tishermen in their little crafts, larger vessels should be able to traverse the Arctic Sea. And with the assistance of some wealthy Swedes and Bussians who placed confidence in his views, he made two trips, in 1875 and 1876, from Norway to the mouth of the Yenesel River. These trips were made very quickly, and though ice was found during the voyage, yet not in sufficient quantity to prove an obstacle.

Encouraged by his successes he had little difficulty in securing the aid of the Swedish Government. During the past summer he was placed in charge of a fiel of four vessels, and well supplied with everything necessary for an Arctic voyage, he left the coast of Norway about the endof July. After a couple of months word came to Moscow that the Professor had reached the River Lema on the 27th of August, and that there was no doubt he would be able to pursue his journey safely to Behring's Straits. From the Lenn to the Straits has been travelled by previous explorers; and it is not expected that there would be any obstacle in the way of the gallant Swedes. The difficult and unexplored region past the North Cape of Asia, 71° north laitude, has been safely travelled, and even though some accident should prevent the conclusion of the voyage, yet Professor Nordenskjold deserves all the credit of having been the first man to demonstrate the existence of the long sought Northwest Passage.

Of course there would be no practical benefit resulting from these explorations unless it ould be shown that the passage was always available. It is claimed that this is the case, that the large volumes of fresh water poured into the Arctic sea, by the Lenn, Yenesel, Irisch, Obl, and other Asiatic rivers, effect a gradual thaw

Northern Siberia is thus opened up to commerce, and already the merchauts of Russia and Morthern Europe are delighted at the prospects of growing trade with a hitherto almost isolated

A Missionary's Opinion of the Ameer.

The Rev. T. P. Hughes, missionary from Afghanistan, was present on Tuesday evening at the annual meeting of the Chester Association of the Church Missionary Society. In the course of a speech relating to the country through which our armies are now passing, he said they were marching through independent Afghanistan—a country occupied by independent tribes—which would account for the small amount of opposition we had encountered up to the present. He knew the Ameer, who was not an educated man. He could neither read nor write. He argued in this way; 'What is the use of reading and writing when you can get hundreds of people to do it for you?' The Ameer was, however, excellently well versed in historical matters obtained from the clever men of the country, whom the Ameer, like other Orientals, collected about him. On one occasion the Ameer was alscussing with him (Mr. Hughes) as to who was the greatest general the world had produced, and the Ameer said that beyond a doubt Napoleon was the greatest general that had ever lived. The Ameer was an abstemious man in public, but was a drunkard at home. He was an exceedingly warlike man and a thorough good soldier. Those who saw him at Umballa said that he had all the qualities of an excellent general. There was no doubt, however, that he was a man of great cruelty. He said that because he had read his (the Ameer's) letters, and because some English people thought that he was a very meek and mild man, and was badly abused and ought to be pitled. He must, however, tell them that the Ameer got into power, after civil war, there were three persons to whom he was indebted for it. One, was his son had learned English unassisted. The Ameer strangled his brother, his nephew, and the son, and his son had learned English unassisted. The Ameer strangled his brother, his nephew, and the son had ought here was not a particularly interesting man to discuss, and he who knew him personally knew him to be a barbarian. (From the Ottawa Citizen.)

PRIEST'S ADVICE ABOUT ATTENDING THEATRES.

Father Wissel, Redemptorist, in a sermon at St. Aloysius' Church, New York, recently, said, "It is not a sin to go to any decent and respectable theatre, where there is a good moral play being performed, but it is a sin, and a great one, to patronize what have been called 'Variety Theatres,' or 'Varieties.' You may probably ask, 'Well, how can I tell what place of amusement is bad, and what one is good?" I will tell you: Whenever you find that there is ballet-dancing, then keep away from the theatre; but if you know that there is a good play being performed in a respectable theatre, why ther, of course, you can go and enjoy it. Why is it, do you suppose, that there is so much discontent among managers of theatres at their want of success? I will give you my reason. It is because no decent lady or selfrespecting man will go to one of their establishments on account of the character of the pieces therein. That is the reason why some theatres do not pay. If the managers would only put on their stages standard plays, and leave out all the ballet-duncing and other sideshows, they would have less cause for complaint. Their houses would be crowded with the respectable portion of the residents of New York, and an era of theatrical prosperity would ct in which would astonish every one.

The present year will be distinguished for the selentific progress which has marked it. Mr. Gailletet accomplished the liquefaction of hydrogen, nitrogen, and atmosphericair. Edison produced the phonograph, megaphone, phonometer, acrophone, carbon telephone, tasimeter, and electric lamp. Hughes produced the microphone; Graham Bell the telephone; Stearns a system of duplexing the Atlantic cable. Hooker and Bert made valuable discoveries in vegetable chemistry; Swift and Watson in astromony, Loutin, Rapieff, Jablochkoff, Wedermann, Sawyer, Hosmer and Gary in applications of electric force. The most important discovery of the year is considered that of the transmutation of metals by Lockyer, the well-known English astronomer and spectorscopist.

In view of many sudden deaths which are almost daily reported, the following clipped from the last number of the Medical and Surgical Reporter will be of interest: To ascertain the real causes of sudden deaths experiments have been tried in Europe and reported to a scientific congress held at Strasburg. Sixty-six cases of sudden deaths were made the subject of a thorough examination. In these only two were found who died from disease of the heart'; nine of the number had died of apoplexy, while there were forty-six cases of congestion of the lungs.

Weckly Review,

MONTREAL, 3rd January, 1878. OUR MONEY MARKET continues without any material change, being dull and inactive. In Sterling Exchange there is little business, rates nominally 8] between banks and 8] to customers. Gold drafts are steady at { to 3-16 premium.

AT THE STOCK EXCHANGE the busisiness is very quiet, but a better tone prevailed, and prices showed a firmer tendency. Telegraph, ex-dividend, advanced 1 per cent. to 105] bid : 1053 asked. Richelieu Navigation Company steady at 43 and 431. All other transactions remain steady. IN NEW YORK the resumption of gold to 4.00.

payments, after a suspension of sixteen years, was successfully accomplished yesterday by the Government of the United States, whose legal tender notes are again on a par with gold coin. For three years past the credit of the United States has rapidly improved, making the sale of bonds tor the purpose of obtaining gold an easy matter. The exports have largely exceeded imports, thus not only enabling the gold produced in the country to be retained, but causing imports from Europe, and the hearty co-operation of the banks has been given to the Government in their measures for resump-tion. The Treasury is now so strongly fortified with a gold reserve that the danger of any future embarrassment is next to impossible. The only danger that there is any likelihood of is the uncertainty of the value in silver, and it is hoped that such modifications will be made as will remove this uncertainty. Our Trading Circles.

Wholesale business continues dull and there has been no movement of any consequence in any particular department. The flour market is remarkable for its dullness, and but little business has been lately done. The late fall of snow has, however, added materially to the importation of produce from the country, farmers having taken advantage of the present state of the roads.

RAW FURS .- Very few furs are arriving, but prices are unchanged, although the demand is brisker. Skunks are coming in in such quantities as will, no doubt, flood the market.

DRY GOODS-Are at their dullest period, and the several warehouses are devoid of activity. American, Osnaburg and Philadelphia cottons are arriving in large quantities, but with little sales. Remittances are dull and indefinite. Canadian spring tweeds are brisk, and plentifully supplied.
GROCERIES.—Slow trade, but quick purchases. Sorting parcels are in quick demand.

Sugar is, however, slightly declined, even about 300 half chests of Japan tea have been disposed of at from 27 cents to 30 cents between jobbers. A sale of over 600 half chests is expected to arrive next week. Japan, Assam and Congou are at the same price, while others are a trifle weaker. Coffee remains dull, the common grades being unsaleable. Mild grades are meeting with a quiet demand at steady prices; Mocha and Java are, however, on the average. Strak has declined and the quotations to-day are very low. The present quotation is one of the very lowest ever known on our markets. There is, however, but little demand for the stock which refiners have on hand, and the reductions made in value have failed to create any. American yellow is even relatively lower than granulated, and has completely shut Scotch refined out of the market. South American sugar is the only standing article on the market.

FRUIT.—Valencia raisins are in good demand for 'Xmas puddings, and have an upward tendency, ranging from 4;c to 5c. The cheapness of this article has greatly tended to check the demand for others, although a good deal has been brought here on speculation. Malaga grapes and West India truits are generally scarce, but in good demand. Prunes have declined to almost nothing, owing to late arrivals, ranging from 43c to 5c. New Bordeaux walnuts, and those from the Spanish Main, are rapidly arriving and are being disposed of briskly Brazillian nuts and Seville oranges are unchanged. Apples from the States and Dominion are quiet, but command firm prices. Other fruits remain as before.

SPICES are active, and at the same quotations, Ceylon cinnamon and Java cloves being in most demand. Salt remains firm and

SYRUPS are quiet, and though quotations have not yet been changed, prices tend in risk the loss. Some is very quiet, and prices are very much in buyers' favor both for Spanish and Slaughter. Upper has had considerable enquiry. Sparts in medium and light are pretty scarce, although in good demand. MEASURED and HARNESS quiet.

BOOTS-The holidays taking all the money, the demand in this trade is very small; but afterwards the call for spring trade is expected to cause an enlivenment, and a more active business is looked for.

HARDWARE-This trade is doing but little business, and the demand is small. Merchants are, however, naturally taking advantage of the dull times to review their stock. Remittances are good-fairly better than formerly, so an improvement may be surmised. Pig IRON—There is no change to The home market has been very notice. variable in its movements, and freights out are also very uncertain, so that values are not changed here at all, and not likely to be affected by the fall or rise at home for some time to come. The stock held here is small, as also in the West.

THE GRAIN MARKET is nominal. THE FLOUR MARKET .- Nothing doing whatever, except now and then a small sale to a city dealer, and a country order or two. Quotations are unchanged, yet so far as transactions are concerned they are entirely nominal. PROVISION MARKET.—Butter is plenti-ful and of good demand. The market values remain unchanged. Choice and selected Morrisburg and Townships move readily at 16c to 18c, but business is limited by scarcity of offerings of the desired quality; in common grades nearly all offerings at late low inside figures have been cleared off the market; what is remaining, as well as fair grades, are held firmer.-CHEESE.-The quotation is almost nominal, except for light city trade, at about inside figures. Pork-Market continues dull. LARD-Quiet and market unchanged. DRESSED Hogs .-- A few city lots have been sold, chiefly to arrive.

GENERAL PRODUCE.-Market very high and very quiet; hardly enough business doing to make quotation; the few barrels of firsts that have been sold were at about $3.90. Inferiors, entirely none. Pearls-A round parcel sold on p.t., understood to be within prices quoted above.

COAL MARKET.-In good demand, but prices nominally unchanged. The following are the prices of coal per net ton 2,000 lbs. delivered:—Pittson and Lackawanna, stove size, $7; do do, egg size, $6.75; do do, nut size, $6.50; Newcastle, smiths', $6; inferior smiths', $5; grate, $5.50; Scotch steam, $5.25; lower ports steam, $5; coke per chaldron, S3.

FIREWOOD.—Quiet and prices remain firm:—Maple, $5.50 to 6.25; birch, $4.50 to 6.00; beech, $5.00 to 5.50; tamarack, $3.25

Candid Childhood.—Rich maiden lady—
"Well, May, why are you looking so hard at me?" May—"I am looking for your other face." Lady—what other face, child?" May— Why ma is always saying you have two faces, (Consternation and vexation of mamma).
