

forehand, with certainty; that England will never take part against her own advantage. Humanitarianism, in her hands, is an instrument of war, and can never be a poignard for suicide. Here is the case of conscience. England officially abhors slavery, and it is from the Slave States that she draws her most important commodities, cotton more especially, which gives means of living to five or six millions of her citizens. As long as the Confederation existed in its integrity she affected to think that she had no commerce with Slave States—she had commercial relations with the United States only.— So the Abolitionists quieted their conscience, they did not profit directly by the work of the slaves.— But the whole state of things is now being changed. As soon as the Southern Confederation shall be consolidated, it will not fail to demand recognition from England. It is not probable, moreover, that it will consent to abolish slavery since it is to preserve it that the formation is made at all, and it is no more probable that it will renounce the acquisition of new slaves. Can England recognise such a State? Will the new Confederation make any concessions on this head? Not the slightest concession will be made.— But if England, on her side yields, by the very fact itself it would be to recognise the legality of the slave trade, it would be, to free England, to renounce the policy which she has followed for more than sixty years, to renounce the foremost rank, which she has acquired, according to the Saturday Review, in the philanthropic league directed against slavery. But King Cotton stands up, and he, in his turn, raises his voice, and his argument is not without force. Five million of Englishmen depend upon the manufacture of cotton. Out of forty-eight thousand bales of cotton imported into England, forty-one thousand come from the United States, from Slave States; that is to say, six sevenths of the total consumption. There are, then, six-sevenths of five millions of people who might, to-morrow or next day, be left without means of existence if England break with the Southern Confederation. Not to push matters to extremity, we will assume only four millions of men. Well, then, let one reckon, if possible, how great a calamity this would be for England, who has already so much misery, if, in addition, four millions of men found themselves without resources. 'Never would a greater calamity,' says the Saturday Review, 'not even the Irish famine, have fallen on a nation; none could be compared with that which would bring about the destruction, or even the interruption, of so colossal an industry. Therefore, the South Americans imagine that we would throw ourselves at their feet in order not to be deprived of our cotton. There is no prejudice, no sentiment, which can resist so imposing a necessity. It is even impossible to conceive a meeting thinking to protest against the recognition of the New Confederation, when it reflected that the refusal of such recognition would entail as an immediate consequence the destruction of an immense capital, and paralyzation of the labours of five millions of men.' These are terrible arguments. An objection is raised, if the Southern States refuse to give their cotton we can raise an insurrection among the slaves, and thus destroy the fortune of these intractable proprietors. Without doubt, answers the Saturday Review; but what would be the better of that? There would be no more slaves, but there would be no more cotton, too. Others maintain the producers of cotton are just as interested in selling their produce as we are in buying it—that is true; but then it remains to be found out which could wait the longer, and in this relation the Southern States are opposed to England in as good a position as they are with respect to the Northern States. Let us add, moreover, that England is not the only nation demanding cotton from the United States. If the other nations continue to take their portion, while England does not, the South would find means of prolonging the struggle, and England would ruin herself in vain attempts. Thus we can understand how serious the question is. The Times has carefully weighed all the importance of the case, but it strives to look at the future with confidence. It acknowledges that of forty-eight thousand bales of cotton, forty-one thousand are provided by the United States, while only two thousand come from Brazil, one thousand eight hundred from Egypt, and three thousand two hundred from India. Cotton, then, is not cultivated in the United States solely—it is not even of American origin, as the Times remarks. Africa and India might produce enough for the consumption of the whole of Europe. We must go to the work without loss of time, and in a dozen years we can very well dispense with the services of the Slave States. All this would be very well if, during these ten years, or even during the four or five first, the four or five millions of English workmen could find whereon to live, if during this time the English manufacturers could maintain themselves, and not see the rush of the progress of the foreigner; but these distressing circumstances are not easy to shun and the question remains in all its terrible earnestness.

REMARK AND REPLY.—"I do not wish to insult you, gentlemen, but I must take the liberty of telling you that there has been a good deal of hard lying under this roof to day."

"Yes, sir," was the reply, "and it has pretty much all been done under the roof of your own mouth."

A DISTRESSING COUGH CURED. DEAR SIR—A few weeks since I had a distressing cough; my throat was very sore and inflamed, and I procured a bottle of Perry Davis' Pain Killer of you, and it has entirely cured me. I have also seen it used in cases of toothache and ague in the face, with the most beneficial effects. I believe it to be an indispensable medicine, and shall recommend it to my acquaintance.

C. W. BANKS, LA POINTE, Ind. This may certify, that my wife was for some time very much afflicted with a violent cough, which reduced her so much that she was unable to enjoy a moment's rest, day or night, and by the use of one bottle of Perry Davis' Pain Killer, she was entirely relieved, and now enjoys good health.—I consider it one of the best family medicines in use.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS. Are you sick, feeble, and complaining? Are you out of order, with your system deranged, and your feelings unaccountably? These symptoms are often the prelude to serious illness. Some fit of sickness is creeping upon you, and should be arrested by the timely use of the right remedy. Take Ayer's Pills, and cleanse out the disordered humors—purify the blood, and let the blood move on unobstructed in health and vigor. They stimulate the functions of the system, and with it the buoyant feeling of health again. What is true and so apparent in this typical case, is true in many of the most common complaints. The same purgative effect exists here. Caused by similar obstructions and derangements of the natural functions of the body, they are equally, and many of them surely, cured by the same means. Some obtain the virtues of these pills, and neglect to employ them when suffering from the disorders they cure. Statements from leading physicians in some of the principal cities, and from other well known public persons. From a Correspondent of Montreal, Feb. 4, 1856. Dr. AYER'S PILLS are the purgative of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcers on her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has long been afflicted with rheumatism and piles of her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also took your Pills, and they have cured her. ASA MORSEBROOK. As a Family Physic. From Dr. E. W. Carterlight, New Orleans. Your Pills are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease. Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach. From Dr. Edward Boyd, Baltimore. DEAR BRO. AYER, I cannot answer you what complaints I have cured with your Pills better than to say all that we ever treat with a purgative medicine. I place great dependence on an effectual cathartic in my daily practice, which more often than I do that your Pills afford us the best we have. I can not value them highly enough. PRRYSBURG, Pa., May 1, 1855. Dr. J. C. AYER, Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have, by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they cleanse at once. Yours with great respect, ED. W. FREDLE, Clerk of Steamer Clarion. Bilious Disorders—Liver Complaints. From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City. Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the Liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice cured more bilious and liver complaints than any one remedy I can mention. I shrewdly rejoice that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people. DEPARTMENT OF THE EXTENSION. From Rev. J. J. Hines, Pastor of Baptist Church, Boston. Sir: I have used your PILLS in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and do not hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is equal and decided, and I can confidently recommend them for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have not found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them. Fraternally yours, ALONZO BARK, M. D., Physician of the Marine Hospital. Dysentery, Diarrhoea, Relax, Worms. From Rev. J. G. Green, of Chicago. Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in the highest estimation. I have ever used them. Their salutary effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, which given in small doses for bilious dysentery and diarrhoea. Their sugar-coating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children. Dyspepsia, Impurity of the Blood. From Rev. J. J. Hines, Pastor of Baptist Church, Boston. DEAR AYER: I have used your PILLS with extraordinary success in my family and among those I can call to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood, they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. J. HINES. WYOMING, Pa., Oct. 24, 1855. DEAR AYER: I am using your Cathartic PILLS in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the impurities of the blood. JOHN C. MEACHAM, M. D. Constipation, Catarrhes, Suppression, Rheumatism, Gout, Nourishment, Dropsy, &c. From Dr. J. C. Vaughan, Montreal, Canada. To much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of constipation. Hundreds of our patients have found them as efficacious as I have, they clean the bowels, and proclaiming in the face of the world, the truth of the old saying, 'from the bowels of the mother, the child is brought forth.' I believe in the purgative of pills, and I believe in the efficacy of your Pills to regulate the bowels, and I believe that your Pills will cure the disease.

From Mrs. E. Stewart, Philadelphia, and Middlebury, Boston. I had one or two bad cases of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent purgatives of the natural secretion when weakly or constipated, and also very efficacious in the cure of the most obstinate Biliousness. They are the best physic we have that I recommend to other in my patients.

From Dr. Rev. Dr. Hancock, of the Methodist Church, PULASKI HOUSE, Savannah, Ga., Jan. 6, 1856. HONORABLE SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on the erysipelas which, although not cured in itself, created a neuralgic pain which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them, I am now entirely well.

SIGNAT CHAMBER, Baton Rouge, La., 5 Dec. 1855. DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured, by your Pills, of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that had afflicted me for years. VINCENT SHIBELL.

Lyman, Savage, & Co., at Wholesale and Retail; and by all the Druggists in Montreal, and throughout Upper and Lower Canada.
