

I should also like to acknowledge with appreciation the help and support of the public in both Canada and the United States by participation at the Commission's public hearings and in other ways. Without such public support this great undertaking, to overcome the Great Lakes water-pollution problem, cannot succeed.

S/C