

Dineen's Fall Fur Exhibit

Visitors are invited to our Showrooms to view an exhibit of Furs in the newest styles for the season 1913-1914.

This is an opening exhibition for the Fall, rather than a selling event. A visit to our Showrooms does not imply that you are under the slightest obligation to buy.

There is an advantage, however, in buying furs early in the season, and the early purchaser will have the benefit of a thoroughly complete stock to select from.

We will reserve Furs ordered now on a deposit for delivery later in the season and store them in our cold storage vaults free of charge until required for wear.

Remodeling in the new styles.

Have your last or former season's furs remodeled after the new fashion. The present is the best time of the year to have alterations made. Our workrooms are not crowded with such orders at this season and we are able to give each piece of work the nicest attention. After seeing our exhibit you will be able to decide what alterations may be required to make over last season's fur jacket or sacque.

FARM LABORERS FOR WEST.

Farm laborers to the number of 1,500 left Toronto yesterday afternoon on G. T. R. and C. P. R. special trains to the west. It is expected that about an equal number of men would be picked up on the way from points in Ontario west of Toronto.

SO rigid, so unremitting is the system of scrutiny enforced in the making of Tuckett's "CLUB" VIRGINIAS that thousands of Cigarettes are discarded every day for slight, immaterial imperfections which would be overlooked by even the critical smoker. Even the paper in which Tuckett's "CLUB" VIRGINIAS are rolled is made of pure rice paper imported direct from France. No chances are taken with ordinary arsenic-tainted papers. Tuckett's "CLUB" VIRGINIAS are made from the finest selected growth of Virginia leaf and are equal to the exclusive imported brands; but—mark the difference in the price!

Women's Apartments and Exhibits for Women

BY MARGARET L. HART

"I am very glad to have the privilege of addressing an audience in which are so many charming women as I see here today." In these words did the Right Hon. R. L. Borden, premier of Canada, capture the feminine portion of those fortunate to possess the magic piece of cardboard which gave admission to the opening ceremonies of the National Exhibition yesterday afternoon.

"He's Irish," whispered a voice as the complimentary statement of the premier floated across the arena, and after that there was no question of Mr. Borden's popularity with Toronto's mothers, sisters, sweethearts and wives, who made part of the first day's exhibition crowd. Women may not understand politics or see as a whole the benefits of the Dominion display from the point of progress or the nation's prosperity, but they do indeed sense who does not recognize a compliment, and the special reference to their presence by the premier made him at once ennobled in the hearts of the music-lovers present.

Next to the chief guest, the attraction of the evening of the gathering was the great band of the Irish Guards, seated opposite the box of honor, the great trees being made of glowing lights of color. Women proverbially love a gay uniform, and the scarlet coats and gold epaulettes drew feminine eyes with the surety of a magnet. This was the beautiful brass instruments opened their glorious throats in the strains of our own "Mighty Leo" and the National Anthem, and filled the building with a solemnity of sound, one could understand the atmosphere of Sullivan when he composed "The Lost Chord," and the Irishmen became at once ennobled in the hearts of the music-lovers present.

Beautiful Grounds. Then the stream of humanity surged out from the dairy building, out under the blue sky with the almost bracing air of a most glorious August day. Never was a fairer opening given by Mother Nature than this. Toronto's thirty-fifth anniversary of her great annual fair. To see the grounds as an opening day in itself worth the price of admission. Green, verdant green, the setting everywhere, velvet lawns, great trees glowing beds of bloom, and Ontario's blue waters flowing joyously by. What more could one want? The weather and setting were perfect.

In the manufacturers' building women were already gathered, and the beautiful displays for their special benefit. The great variety of pretty things, our big firms were the drawing cards. They gravitated towards them as naturally as bees to a hive. It was all "show" there by some gentle whisper-in of the companies interested. But it was the love of the lovely things that drew them. The piano stalls, too, already had their votaries, and they were delighted to see the display here was never as impressive as on this occasion.

Snow in August. Snow in August is the wonderful thing that attracted another group of women, where the inviting stock of the Swift Canadian Company was being displayed. The cool by means of the anhydrous ammonia process. Snow actually enveloped the pipes of the machinery and might be touched by the spectators. In the process building also the little ones were not long in finding out the spot especially designed for their delectation, and the ice cream palace garden was the Mecca for mamma and delighted tots who entered the wonderful precincts empty-handed, but emerged every one carrying a cone of the delicious concoction which they nibbled with the utmost satisfaction.

As a clock came round crowded autos and many pedestrians wended out from the dairy hall tent. This was the hour of its formal opening, and Mr. and Mrs. Borden made the at the time, which the ceremonies were inaugurated.

A space enclosed by tall palms made an airy, cool room. At the dairy hall tent, Mrs. Borden, her daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Borden made the at the time, which the ceremonies were inaugurated.

Miss Marie Macdonnell, president of Rosary Hall Association, received the guests, among whom were: His Grace Archbishop McNiel, Rev. Dr. Kidd, Mr. Thos. Long, Mr. L. Cosgrave, Claude A. Macdonnell, M.P., Hon. J. J. Foy, Mr. Phin, Mrs. Macdonnell, Lady Falconbridge, and a number of the ladies interested in the dairy hall.

Mrs. Borden asked to meet the young ladies who had volunteered to wait at table during the days of Exhibition and was at once surrounded by a bevy of as pretty and charming girls as Toronto can produce. Dressed in dainty white and everyone wearing a cap of dainty blue tulle, the girls circled about Mrs. Borden, who was at her best as she chatted with the girls, whose smiles and animated faces told of their pleasure at meeting the "first lady of the land."

The women's building, in which are stored the thousands of specimens of women's talents and activities, will be busy during the days to come. The cases are filled with treasures which will be told about later in detail. Mrs. Joseph Oliver has charge here, and never was there such plenitude and variety of all manner of women's work and handicraft as now. Government building has an exhibit that must appeal particularly to women everywhere. This is the work done throughout the province. This is the first time that such has been shown, and it is sure to attract general attention.

was done by a patient 80 years of age. Fourteen of the provincial institutions are represented here. Every woman should see this display.

The sisal plant, from which rope is made, is shown in all stages at the Bahama exhibit. But of more interest to the girls and women who collected here was the variety of beautiful shells and corals, and the many ornaments made from the tiny white rice shell and fish scales.

At the lunch room of the Women's Depository, things are in full swing. Entering thru the manufactory building and ascending the stair leading to the top floor of the women's building, the air is fresh and bracing. A charming lady whom the boys address as "Angel Mother," shows you to a daintily appointed table, and a robust and white caped waitress sees to your every want. For ten cents extra you may dine or tea on the broad, restful verandah, fanned by the breezes from the lake and catered to by the beautiful landscape of nature and moving humanity at your feet. The ladies here are prepared to serve their patrons, old and new.

The Ontario Beekeepers' Association claim that the women who are becoming interested in their industry are becoming more and more numerous. Both for pleasure and profit, especially the latter, the bee and its product should appeal to the feminine portion of the community. A fine display of different varieties of honey is on view and is attracting not only the retail dealers, but the interest of many housekeepers.

All afternoon the bands have attracted hundreds of enraptured hearers, a great many women, proving once again that Toronto is becoming more and more a music-loving centre.

FORESTERS MEET TO REVIEW WORK
Supreme Court, I.O.F., Opens Sixteenth Session at Temple Building.

SOCIETY IS GROWING
More Than a Million People Are Dependent on Its Success.

Arriving today from all quarters of Canada, the United States and Great Britain are the representatives to the supreme court of the Independent Order of Foresters, which opens its sixteenth regular session at the Temple Building.

Among the arrivals are three or four who took part in the first supreme court session, which was held in the City of Ottawa in 1881, under the chairmanship of the late Dr. Oronohyatekha, and it was at that session the foundation was laid which has permitted the order to carry on for so many years such effective work.

The delegates who have arrived compose what is known as the supreme court, which is the legislative body of the society, and, judging from the personal of these representatives they are quite capable of acting upon and bringing to a satisfactory conclusion the many and varied subjects they will have to deal with. Doctors, judges, clergymen, lawyers, members of parliament, business men, all leaders in their various Foresteric jurisdictions, are present.

For example, the order operates in over 75 jurisdictions; there are over 4150 subordinate lodges or courts; there are over 246,000 members who carry insurance which amounts to over $241,000,000. The annual income of the order is over $5,000,000. The accumulated funds or invested assets of the order amount to over $21,000,000. There are over 70,000 members who are enrolled in the sick and funeral benefit department of the order, and since 1881, when the first supreme court of the order was held, over $8,000,000 has been distributed to the orphan, widows and beneficiaries of deceased and disabled members.
