MRS. HART HAS DISAPPEARED.

Schreiber's Inamorata Has Eluded the Police, it is Said—Schreiber's Prevalence.

New York, Oct. 15.—According to a morning paper, Mrs. Anna Hart, the woman upon whom it is alleged William Schreiber, the missing Elitist Banker, Company clerk, lavished money, and who was supposed to be watching her and going to parties unknown.

A Miss Templeton, who is an intimate friend of Mrs. Hart, said the latter had gone to the Tennessee mountains to recover from shock and grief, and that she had been seen there. Miss Templeton said, Mrs. Hart would go to a certain hotel in Bristol, Conn. Miss Templeton also said that Mrs. Hart once asked Schreiber where he got so much money, and his answer was that he had inherited $50,000 from his grandfather and had doubled that sum through successful speculation with a well-known Wall-street firm, which he named.

YANKEES' CONTROL OF GOLD

Is Growing to Such an Extent That They Will Soon Beat London.

New York, Oct. 15.—The Evening Post today prints the following: One of the best authorities on Exchange pointed out that efforts would probably now be made abroad to stop further exports of South African gold to the United States and that London might be content with the position of a mere warehouse for the gold. But the opinion was expressed that the United States, by exchange houses, who is in touch with confidence in foreign countries, that the United States was fast reaching a position of comparative independence as regards the world's gold supply, and that she might, before long, assume the control that London had long held.

Only those who have had experience can tell of the torture course case. Pain with rage, but on, gain with them off—pain and night and day, but relief is sure to those who use Holloway's Corn Cure.

THE POINT AT ISSUE.

Ever since Mr. Cook's letter was published, the Liberal newspapers have endeavored to throw the public off the scent. They have tried to make it appear that the thing of most public interest in regard to the letter is the motives of the writer. Consequently they have devoted little space to the publication of Mr. Cook's charges, while they go fully into the question of motives. The motive of Mr. Cook in publishing his indictment of the Government do not form an issue in the campaign. Mr. Cook is not on trial. It is the Government that is in the box, and Mr. Cook is merely a witness. Let the public not be misled by trying the witness instead of the prisoner. What has happened since Mr. Cook's indictment appeared is simply this: He has added another charge to those already made in the indictment. This charge is to the effect that the Government offered Mr. Cook a Senatorship, provided he would pay $10,000 for the honor. The addition of this single charge to the original bill of particulars does not add very much to the gravity of the indictment. It is serious enough without this supplementary charge. However, as Sir Wilfrid Laurier has taken it upon himself to make a denial of Mr. Cook's definite charge, it is well that its truth or falsity should be enquired into. Mr. Cook states distinctly that the offer was made to him by an agent of the Laurier Government, and that he has three witnesses to establish this fact. Sir Wilfrid Laurier denies Mr. Cook's charge, stating that he never asked Mr. Cook directly or indirectly for any money, and that he never sent any one to that effect. We don't understand that Mr. Cook's charge refers so much to Sir Wilfrid Laurier as to his Government. It is quite likely that the Premier had nothing to do with the transaction, but we notice that he does not deny that responsible members of his Cabinet treated with Mr. Cook for the sale of a Senatorship. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's denial is given a leading place in the columns of The Globe, but it is quite irrelevant to the issue. No one believes that the Premier was personally mixed up in the transaction, but until the country is proved, the public have a right to hold the Government responsible for the charge proffered by Mr. Cook. It is not the Premier who does this kind of work. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, like Sir Oliver Mowat, has his wicked partners. No one accused ex-Premier Hardy of burning the West Elgin ballot, yet they were burned in the building over which he presided, and they were destroyed by officials who held office subject to his goodwill. We believe the charge made by Mr. Cook against the Government will be brought home closer to responsible agents of the Government than was the case in the burning of the West Elgin ballot, but in either case enough has been and will be proved to establish the Government's culpability. A long apprenticeship in political crime has made the Liberal workers experts in this business. They understand to a nicety the various expedients that are available for covering up and destroying the proofs of agency in corrupt transactions. The public, however, can grasp the broad truth contained in Mr. Cook's charge, and it is this, that he was given to understand that he would receive an appointment as Senator on paying $10,000. That is the point in the case. The party that was in a position to assure Mr. Cook that a Senatorship was his for ten thousand must be held to represent the official who had power to make the appointment. That official is Sir Wilfrid Laurier. The latter must be held responsible for the acts of his colleagues and their agents. As we have already said, the denial of Sir Wilfrid Laurier proves nothing whatever. It is his wicked partners the public want to hear from. If Mr. Cook follows up his present intentions he will doubtless disclose the names of these latter before many days. Sir Wilfrid Laurier speaks to-night at Massey Hall. Let him deny if he can the following charges:

That two individuals, closely connected with the Government, if not members thereof, met Mr. Cook at Union Station, Toronto, and discussed with Mr. Cook his appointment as Senator.

That these individuals showed Mr. Cook a letter purporting to come from the Government, in which were disclosed the terms upon which the Senatorship could be obtained.

That these individuals mentioned $10,000 as the price Mr. Cook would have to pay for the office.

That Sir Wilfrid Laurier may deny his own personal connection with the transaction, but what the public wants is a specific denial of the specific charges above set out. If Sir Wilfrid can give such denial, let him do so to-night.

LET SIR WILFRID REPLY TO-NIGHT. It is to be hoped that Sir Wilfrid Laurier will deny to-night at Massey Hall with the specific charges made by his one-time supporter, Mr. H. H. Cook, ex-M.P. The public would like to hear from him, for instance, on Mr. Cook's charge of the Government's violation of its election-promise to the independence of Parliament.

Hon. Mr. Mulock stated the Liberal party's attitude on this question in a speech on the floor of the House of Commons in 1896. He is thus reported in Hansard, page 2375: "If the Government can dangle public offices before their followers, and induce a few, perhaps an increasing number, to aspire to these positions instead of representing their constituents here, and exercising an unbiased judgment and a wholesome influence upon the Administration of the day, they become corrupt agents within their own ranks."

The people of Toronto ask Sir Wilfrid Laurier to state when he appears before them to-night whether it is a fact that, since he was elected to power in 1896, 13 members of Parliament have been appointed to office, with salaries aggregating $30,000 per year. This question is one that can be answered definitely.

Let Sir Wilfrid devote a few minutes to it to-night.

In regard to the charge of extravagance, Mr. Cook cites the very words of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who said that the people have a definite pledge to reduce the expenditure, using these words: "If we get into power, we will follow the example of Mr. Mackenzie, and I will say that we may not be able to bring the expenditure to what it was under him, we can reduce the amount to yet, three millions of dollars per year."

Let him tell his hearers to-night whether it is true, as charged by Mr. Cook, that instead of reducing the expenditure by from two to three millions he has actually increased it by four and a quarter millions yearly.
