City's Prohibition

Concerning the subject of the beer and wine licenses, Capt. Omond drew attention to what he termed "significant figures" from the Michigan referendums.

cant figures" from the Michigan referendums.

"On November 7, 1916," he said,
"Michigan carried prohibition by a comparatively small majority of 68.624.

"Prohibition must have proved a convincing argument in favor of prohibition. In April of this year, Michigan defeated beer and wine licenses by a vote of 322,603 for beer and wine licenses, and a vote against of 530,123; that is, a majority for prohibition, and rejecting beer and wine of 207,520.

"With regard to the argument that beer is not injurious and that the workingman should have his beer, I lived in Germany, the greatest beer-drinking country in the world, for a whole year before the war. I believe experts regard German beer as the finest in the world. In any case, the beers most widely advertised in the United States have German names. There isn't a doubt in my mind that the beer drinking habits of the German people were largely responsible for their brutal habits in the war."

Plea to guilty. On his last appearance he elected to be tried by jury, but this morning changed his election, choosing to be tried by judge. After the case was heard it was reserved for a week.

During the examination of the prisoner it was learned that his first wife was supposed to be living in England, but that he had not heard of her for almost seven years. He did not know whether she was alive or dead.

In pleading for his client, W. R. Meredith, declared that it was a criminal act to allow Miss England, the girl in the case, to marry Hicks-Lyne without inquiry. He was twenty years older than she, and was sure to have a past. He was 46 years of age, Mr. Meredith said that if certain of Hicks-Lyne's relations were not brought into the case as witnesses, that the crown would have a difficult task to out inquiry. BEFORE THEY FALL OUT-DEN. TIST'S HOME PRESCRIPTION WORKS LIKE MAGIC.

If your teeth are loosening or if your gums are receding and are sore, tender or inflamed, if they bleed when you brush your teeth, are spongy, flabby or colorless or if they discharge pus or develop gum boils, it is a warning of dangerous Pyorrhoea or Riggs disease of the gums and prompt and careful treatment is necessary if you want to save your teeth from falling out. save your teeth from falling out.

A prominent New York State dentist has discovered a new prescription—Epithol—for promptly correcting these troubles and it surely seems to work like magic. A few days' use and teeth tighten, the gums grow sound and healthy and the bleeding, poisonous pus discharge soon stops. An ounce jar of Epithol will last for weeks and costs little at any good drugstore and all leading druggists will refund the full purchase price if, in any case, it fails to bring relief. No one really wants false teeth. So if you have any of the above symptoms, you should by all means give this treatment a trial.—Advt.
