REVOLT IN RUSSIA WILL AID ALLIES

Lloyd George Cables an Expression of Britain's Keen Satisfaction.

London, March 22.-Premier David Lloyd George today telegraphed to the Russian premier saying he believed the revolution in Russia was the great-est service the Russians had yet rend-ered to the allied cause, and that it was a sure promise that the Prussian military autocracy, the only barrier to peace, would soon be overthrown. The text of the telegram follows:

"It is with sentiments of the most profound satisfaction that the peoples of Great Britain and the British dominions have learned that that their great ally, now stands with the nations which base their destinies on responhible government. Much as we appreciate the loyal and steadfast co-operation which we have received from the late emperor and the armies of Russia dur-ing the past two and one half years, yet I believe the revolution whereby the Russian people have based their destinies an a sure foundation of freedom is the greatest service which they have yet made to the cause for which the allied peoples have been fighting since August 1914.

"It reveals the fundamental truth that this war is at the bottom a struggle for popular government and for liberty. It shows that thru war the principle for liberty which is the only safeguard to peace in this world has already won one resounding victory. It is a sure promise that the Prussian military autocracy which began the war and which still is the only bar-rier will itself before long be overthrown. Freedom is a condition of peace and I do not doubt that by the establishment of a stable government within their borders the Russian peo-ple will be strengthened in their resolve to prosecute this war until the Temple Building, when about 100 were past stronghold of tyranny on the European continent is destroyed and worked, and during the evening Rt. free peoples in all lands can unite to secure for themselves and their child-with regalia. ren the blessings of fraternity and

Chas. Bowman Would Give Bonuses Only to Meet the High Cost.

When Hon. T. W. McGarry moved the adoption of supplementary esti-mates for civil government, C. W. Bowman (West Bruce) moved an amendment deprecating "the unneces-sary multiplication of government officials during the past 12 years," and the great increase in the cost of civil government; and contending that these government; and contending that these war times are not opportune for a general increase in civil salaries, particularly those over $2,000 a year. The resolution was to the effect that no permanent increases should be made in salaries over $2,000, but where necessary additional compensation should be by way of a bonus to meet the high cost of living due to the war.

be by way of a bonus to meet the high cost of living due to the war. In supporting his resolution Mr. Bowman suggested that the alleged over-manning of the government service was due to pressure from the government's friends.

Premier Hearst moved the vote on the resolution without any reply from the government benches. H. H. Dewart jumped up to say that the serious resolution of Mr. Bowman warranted "something more than sullen silence." The increases seemed to have started at the top and stayed there. He paid especial attention to the increase in the salary of the deputy registrargeneral from $1,600 to $2,400 after two years. Possibly this was because he was the brother-in-law of the late assistant provincial secretary, who had that come to Ottawa. Vho is reported in yesterday's despatches to have been killed in action. SUCCESSFUL CONCERT.

and Suburbs

Between 25 and 30 of the leading business men of Stouffville and the country round about came down to the city and had a heart-to-heart talk with the York highway commission relative to the suggested improvement of the townshipe between Markham and Whitchurch, now included in the "good roads" system, and which they want incorporated in this year's schedule. The deputation was composed, among others, of Reeve J. H. Ratcliffe, ex-Reeve Dr. Sangster, Lorne Button, Alex. Bruce, ex-Reeve Jonathan Nigh, Wilfired McKay, Councillor Mitchell and many others. They urged upon the York highway commission the fact that the three miles west of Stouffville on the townline was the leading thorofare from north to south. They contended that the work on the townline for a distance of three miles ought to go ahead before the Langstaff, Union-wille, Locust Hill division.

The commission, together with Engineer James, expressed sympathy with the request of the deputation, but stated that they rould not give any definite reply for the present. If the three miles west from Stouffville is built there will remain only about 3½ miles to link up the system, with the Kennedy road giving a thru highway into the city via Union tile. A sincourt, Scarboro Junction and Danforth avenue. Mr. McGarry said these increases represented those of three years during which the civil servants had waited. Last fall the situation had become so acute that a deputation of civil servants had represented to the government that it had become impossible to live on their salaries. The increases had been carefully considered. They had had great difficulty in keeping their higher officials. Some had been offered tempting salaries downtown.

After J. C. Elliott (West Middlesex) had supported Mr. Bowman's contention, the amendment was voted down. The same fate befell the motion of Sam Carter (South Wellington) condemning capital expenditures that, he said, could be avoided during the war. Mr. McGarry said these increases re-often presented, and rarely with such masterly execution and interpretation as last night.

Both impressive and tuneful, the first movement calls for brilliant technical excellence, and the "momentous climaxes" culminated in an exquisite close. The second movement, based on Schubert's own song, "Death and the Maiden," is a feast of loveliness, marred, unfortunately, for many by the audible conversation of a party in the gallery.

This marvelously beautiful movement was rendered with a delicacy and sensitive feeling that lifted the performance to the highest artistic and emotional level. There was enraptured applause when it concluded, and the performers had twice to bow their acknowledgments. The scherzo was charmingly given, and the final presto was a brilliant piece of work. Two recalls rewarded the players.

The program opened with Grieg's quartet in G minor, Op. 27. In the first movement the strings are tortured into shrieking, wood wind effects, strident and not without cacaphony. The andantino falls into a thoughtful mood, with problem feeling, and graceful melody, exquisitely harmonized—Grieg at his sweetest and sanest, and the movement was perfectly rendered. The galety and grotesqueness of the scherzo are characteristic, and altogether the composition is a noteworthy one. together the composition is a noteworth;

Some time ago, the proprietor of the firm noticed a number of returned milk tickets bearing numbers which he had missed from his office. In some cases the numbers were erased. Immediate carcellation of charters for race tracks, Mr. Raney declared, would almost completely nullify the legislation passed in Ottawa in 1910 which legalized book-making and parimutuel machine betting.
