HOUSEKEEPERS TO FACE COURT IF WATER TAPS ARE KEPT OPEN

COMMISSIONER WIGMORE SENDS OUT WARNING

Extra Officials Signed on to Make House Inspection

WATER WASTE HERE DECLARED GREAT

Prosecutions Threatened Where Offenders Are Found

EVERY precaution is to be taken this winter to prevent waste of city water, it was said this morning by Commissioner Wigmore, and to that end he was doubling the force of house to house inspectors.

He had found, he said, that a great many persons left the water running when there was no need for it and those offending in this way would be summarily dealt with if the practice was not stopped.

LARGE CONSUMPTION.

Saint John used more water per capita than any city that he knew of, the commissioner added, and in the winter time this was greatly increased by the quantity which was allowed to flow because the taps were kept running to keep the water from freezing.

The people of this city used about 900 gallons of water a day, per capita, and 50 gallons a day was considered a plentiful supply for all needs. In cities where the supply was metered it was about the latter figure.

The law required that plumbing be installed in such a manner that pipes will not be reached by frost but many of the landlords had not taken the necessary precautions. Warning had been given before that waste of water must stop and now it was the time to get after those who persisted in wasting water.

HYDRANT INSPECTION.

A daily inspection of the fire hydrants in the city was now being made and this would be done all during the cold weather to make sure that the hydrants would function if they were needed.

Yesterday a joint view in the 16 inch main at the Marsh Bridge. The water was shut off and repairs made. No person was unduly inconvenienced by the break as the water was off only about two hours.

OFFICIALS CITY TODAY TO GREET CHIEF

Salvation Army Officers Come to Welcome New Canadian Commander

Colonel Robert Henry, chief secretary for the Canadian East territory of the Salvation Army, accompanied by Staff-Captain J. C. Harbour, of Montreal, arrived in the city today, and were met by Major and Mrs. Frederick A. Knight, the local commandant, at the railway station.

Colonel Henry is second in command of the Army in this broad section, which includes Newfoundland and extends beyond Toronto. He has come to Saint John to meet Commissioner Maxwell, who succeeds Commissioner Colebrook as the Canadian general, and who will arrive on the liner Metagama, due to dock Sunday or Monday.

SCOUT WORK.

Colonel Henry said that only recently in Toronto an exhibition was held under the auspices of the Salvation Army Life Saving Scout and Guard movement, that was a revelation to him and highly inspiring to all who saw it. Over 700 girls and boys belonging to this new branch of Army work contributed their handwork to the display—needlework, cooking, carpentry, cabinet work, and all sorts of vocational and household productions were exhibited in marvelous quality and workmanship.

Colonel Henry presented to one of the Salvation Army medals for life saving, thus recognizing the human element in the work. Indeed the purpose of this new juvenile division of Salvation Army activity was fourfold—the physical, soul, mind and the other.

"My own thought on this part of our work," said the Canadian general, "is that it supplies our boys and girls with a worthwhile objective, something to reach after, a direction for the mind. It is much the same as the Baden-Powell Scout movement."

Staff-Captain Harbour, the Army superintendent of ports for immigration, came here to meet the Metagama on which a small party is expected.

The season for the bringing out of immigrants by the Army is closing now, and will commence again late in January. A boy scout is maintained at Saint John, and boys are sent for distribution in the Maritime Provinces. Others are at Smith's Falls and Woodstock, Ont.

Mr. Garneau is now 62 years of age and says he left here when he was 19 and has not heard from any of his relatives since. He also asks regarding a boyhood pal of his, Wallace McDonald, with whom he has not been in touch since he left.

Father Duke has passed Mr. Garneau's request on to The Times-Star in the hope that some of Mr. Garneau's relatives might be located.

Clipping Sent Board of Trade Throws Light On Times Just Preceding Confederation

AN INTERESTING copy of a news clipping from a New York paper of 1866, has been sent to the Board of Trade by Mrs. E. H. Fairweather, Hampton. It is from the "Acadian" extra of Woodstock, March 10, and is as follows, under the caption, "By Telegraph."

NEW YORK, March 10, 1866.—Dispatch from Ottawa, Canada, says: "Parliament has been called to meet April 10. Nova Scotia and New Brunswick will immediately accede to confederation with Canada."

Reinforcements will be sent out from England as soon as navigation opens, to meet the treated radicals. "English gunboats have been ordered to the fishing grounds in view of the abrogation of the reciprocity treaty."

BANKS UNDER GUARD.

"The Government buildings and banks in Ottawa have been placed under guard last night. The arrangements have been made for reciprocal free trade between Canada and the British West Indies, and a direct mail line from Montreal thither will be immediately established."

"The Herald's Toronto dispatch says the crisis has arrived, and confirms previous reports of arrival of volunteers to the fishing grounds in view of the abrogation of the reciprocity treaty."

"The authorities are sanguine to drive back any Fenian invaders."

HISTORY REVIEWED.

In the dispatch quoted the Parliament referred to is the British Parliament. The troops to be sent out were obviously for use in Canada (now Ontario and Quebec). It is a matter of record that New Brunswick made an offer of money at that time to aid in the Fenian invasion. The Fenian Raid had its influence in getting the loyal people of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia to get up with Canada. This dispatch of 1866 throws an interesting light upon the situation in what is now Ontario and Quebec.

To the Fenian scare were added the Fenian invasion of the Maritime Provinces, and the agitation in favor of annexation. All this explains why Canada was so anxious to get up with the Maritime Provinces into a union. The loyalty of New Brunswick led it to aid in the Fenian invasion, and it utterly condemned confederation.
