THE BANKS AND THE FARMERS

Suggestion Made by Hon. Mr. Dunning, Treasurer of Saskatchewan.

Moore Jaw, Sask, Feb. 3.—(Canadian Press)—That the Canadian Council of Agriculture start without delay an expert examination into the possibilities of developing the Canadian banking system to meet the requirements of agriculture, was suggested by Hon. C. A. Dunning, provincial treasurer, at the annual convention of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association here yesterday.

He held that the province within itself could not adequately and successfully finance a rural credit system to meet the requirements of those on the land, and said that at the decennial revision of the Canadian Bank in 1923, the Farmers' party might be able to cut its eye-teeth.

The present banking system he held to have two necessary qualities, safety to depositors and facilities for the shifting of credits to the points in the domain where they were needed at a moment's notice. Its bad points he gave as: (1) It is a commercial system and was not created in the first place to meet the needs of agriculture; (2) The system of management which leaves it to the head office to grant the loans, while officials are not in a position to

THE TORTURES OF RHEUMATISM

Happily Stopped When He Began to Take "Fruit-a-lives"

8 Ottawa St., Hull, P. Q.

"For a year, I suffered with Rheumatism, being forced to stay in bed for five months. I tried all kinds of medicine without relief and thought I would never be able to walk again.

"One day while lying in bed, I read about 'Fruit-a-lives' the great fruit medicine; and it seemed just what I needed, so I decided to try it.

"The first box helped me, and I took three tablets regularly until every trace of the Rheumatism left me."

LORENZO LEDUC

At all dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

Judge the merits of the application. Both use deficiencies, he said, could be done away with, with little expense, and trouble, by a revision of the banking act.

GERMAN SALES IN U. S.
REACH $34,000,000

(New York Times)

Germany is still a perfect industrial machine, running at slow speed, it is true, but undamaged as yet in its vital parts, and would respond readily to any stimulus.

This statement by a British government official who has made a recent study of commercial and industrial conditions in Germany sums up the position of the Teutons, according to P. Harvey Middleton, Trade Department of the Guaranty Trust Company, who has prepared a summary of Germany's plan to extend her foreign trade.

"That they have made a good beginning," he says, "is evident from the fact that German exports for the first five months of 1920 amounted to 23,688,000,000 marks as compared with 10,037,000,000 marks for the entire year of 1919.

It must be remembered, however, that these export figures include goods delivered to the Allies under the treaty of peace, and also that from the signing of the armistice in November, 1918, until March, 1920, an enormous volume of goods was smuggled out of Germany through the occupied territory, the so-called 'hole in the west.'

"For the eleven months ended November, 1920, the United States imported from Germany merchandise valued at $34,000,000, compared with $10,000,000 for the entire year of 1919. Germany imported from the United States in the eleven months ended November, 1920,
