WORST DAY YET FOR MILK SUPPLY

Only 261 Cans Came in on Sussex Train — Looking to Northumberland and Moncton.

The milk situation in the city is worse this morning than it has been since the recent strike by the Kings county farmers, and although the dairies were able to supply most of their customers, they fear the surplus will not last much longer today. The hospitals, orphanages and other institutions were supplied the regular amount and the dairies hope they will be able to continue this supply in spite of the existing conditions. There were only about 261 cans of milk sent to the city this morning, about 100 less than yesterday. It is expected, however, that a supply of milk will be brought into the city this afternoon from Northumberland county and in the vicinity of Moncton, as the source here is limited. The dairymen made another visit to Kings county last evening but they were not met with any assurance that the farmers would yield. A limited supply is being obtained from St. John county and many customers are being supplied by individuals from the county, which helps to relieve the situation.

CONVENTION OF POLICE CHIEFS

The Canadian Police Bulletin for June has much information concerning the Chief Constables' Association meeting in Moncton on June 29 and 30 and July 1. It expresses the hope that every police chief in Canada may be able to attend. One line says: "Remember Moncton, New Brunswick—it's a fine city." Chief Ridout and the citizens of Moncton are making elaborate arrangements for the convention. The courtesies of the Moncton Club are extended to the visitors. The Bulletin presents excellent large photos of Hon. F. J. Byrne, attorney general and Hon. C. W. Robinson, with these remarks:—

"A Man You Will All Like."

"One of the personalities delegates to the convention will become acquainted with is the Hon. F. J. Byrne, attorney general of New Brunswick. He has evinced keen interest in the arrangements. He is the kind of man it does one good to know. In addition to the abilities which he has displayed in private and public life, one of the results of which has been attainment to his present high office, Mr. Byrne has the advantage of a fine presence, the gift of oratory combined with a deep and persuasive voice, and an earnestness of manner that bespeaks conviction and carries it too. It is said of him that he has brought his department of efficiency because of the high standard of efficiency because one of the guiding rules of his life may be summed up in the words: 'Do what you can, for whom it is all is worth doing well.' Mr. Byrne was born in King's County, fifty years ago. He was educated in the public schools of his native province, and in the University of Joseph and Dalhousie University, and took his degree of L.L.B. at Ann Arbor University, Michigan. His home is in Bathurst, N. B., where he has a large law practice. First elected to the New Brunswick legislature in the general elections of 1915, he was appointed attorney general in the Foster cabinet upon its formation, and was re-elected by acclamation after assuming office."

"Meet Hon. C. W. Robinson."

"The Hon. Clifford William Robinson, member without portfolio in the New Brunswick government, who sits for Moncton, is another of the men of that province who has used his influence toward making the coming convention a success. Mr. Robinson has had a long and active career in public life, is able, energetic, companionable and a good speaker. Born in Moncton in 1866 he was educated in the public schools and Mount Allison University, graduating from the latter with the degree of B. A. in 1888 and being called to the bar of his native province in 1893. He was first elected to the New Brunswick legislature in 1899, re-elected in 1903, 1908, 1913 and 1917. He was speaker of the assembly for the period 1901-1907 and was made a member of the government without portfolio in the latter year. In the same year he became provincial secretary. Still later and before the year was out, he was chosen premier. That office he held until 1908 and was afterwards leader of the opposition until 1911 when he resigned. He has been an alderman and mayor of his native city, a member of the county council and president of the board of trade. He was again elected to the legislature in 1917 and, as stated, is a member of the government without portfolio."

For Fewer Resident Engineers

Hon. J. D. Reid Announces
Intention of Government —
Lack of Work Given as the Reason — Dredging and Bridges.

(Canadian Press.)
Ottawa, June 18.—The house divided its attention today between the bills imposing the new forms of taxation announced in the budget, the estimates of the public works department and the mines department were under consideration.

The bill to amend the special war revenue act, 1915, which is the measure that imposes the luxury tax on sales and other special taxes, was put through the committee stages. Amendments offered by Sir Henry Dayton, minister of finance, were carried.

On the suggestion of the minister, the exemption from taxation made in favor of wedding rings, was limited to those of plain gold. He said that it was becoming customary to have wedding rings of platinum set with stones at fashionable weddings. It was not intended to exempt these.

Items under the roads and bridges estimates which were passed included: $24,250 revolve for the international bridge over St. John river, and $8,100 for bridge repairs at St. Leonard's, N.B. The total revolve for bridges this year is $279,650 while the total estimate is $394,100.

Fewer Engineers

A revolve of $600,000 for the maritime provinces and $450,000 for Ontario and Quebec for dredging and bridges, was put through the committee stages. Hon. J. D. Reid said that it was intended to reduce the number of retaining engineers by approximately one-half on account of lack of work.

A. B. Copp, Westministerian discussed at length the dismissal of J. K. Scannell an engineer of the public works department in St. John, N. B., while on active service.

Dr. Reid explained that there were good reasons for Mr. Scannell's dismissal. He would give Mr. Copp information on the point if it was applied for.

MARINE NOTES

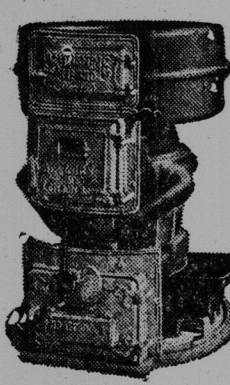

Word reached the city yesterday of the probable loss of the three-masted schooner Eva A. J. Dannenbower, owned by C. T. White & Son of Sussex. The schooner struck on the southern part of Cape Cod at Sagamore. The crew was saved by the coast guard. Nagle & White are the local agents of the Eva A. Dannenbower, which was in this port only recently with a cargo of coal. It is not as yet known whether or not she can be refloated.

The Modern Way of Cleaning House--More so in Summer!

Electricity has done much to simplify a woman's work. And the Vacuum Cleaner has given millions of American women several extra hours of leisure each day.

Not only is a Vacuum Cleaner a time saver and a labor conservator; it is also a health saver, because it removes all dust from rugs, carpets, upholstered furniture and walls and prevents this dust from being inhaled into the lungs.

Women with children should be especially careful about dusty rugs. Mere sweeping won't remove the dust, it only stirs it up. A Vacuum Cleaner actually cleans by sucking the dust from the rug, carpet or upholstered furniture, permitting you to deposit this dust outdoors.

We carry the EUREKA Vacuum Cleaner which is admitted to be the most powerful Vacuum Cleaner on the market. We shall be glad to demonstrate to you how this device will help you to save time each day and preserve the health of your family.
