FUNERAL NOTICE

The officers and men of Marlborough Lodge, Sons of England, will please meet at 241 Marsh Road, tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, to attend the funeral of the late brother member, C. J. Ward.

Without regalia; in ordinary winter dress. Sister lodges invited to attend.

SHEFFIELD CHOR.

There was a rush business at the Opera House box office this morning when the seat sale for subscribers opened for the great Sheffield choir festival on March 25. At the early hour of 6:30 there was a waiting line of people and this rapidly increased till at 9 o'clock the lobby and entrance were crowded and all previous records in this business were fully equalled, if not exceeded. This provides an excellent indication of the crowded houses that will welcome this wonderful organization at the initial performance here next Saturday.

Use Hawker's Tolu and Cherry Balm for your cough.

LOST HIS ROLL OF $16

Calais, Mar. 18—David Bennett of St. George, N. B., who had just returned from the Maine woods only was on his way home, complained to the police that he had been relieved of his roll containing $16. Bennett and four companions were having a good time in St. Stephen and when the former started to buy his ticket for home, he found himself broke. One of the party, who was with him, was a young man named Laskey from Eastport who had also returned from the woods recently, and he was taken into custody on complaint of Bennett but was discharged, there not being sufficient evidence to warrant a conviction.

A POLICE COURT CASE

William Henry Brandy, a colored citizen of Duke street, took strong objections yesterday to be styled a "nigger" by Thomas Marsh, also colored, and when the latter followed up his complaint by the delivery of a couple of blows, then Marsh Brandy thought he had better see a policeman. This morning both were in court along with Mrs. Brandy.

William Henry declared that Marsh had come up to his house looking for his wife, whom he believed to be there, but who in reality was with Mrs. Brandy upstairs. When told she was not there Marsh became indignant and abusive and Brandy laid a charge of assault against him.

Mrs. Brandy this morning talked beyond stenographic records in her abuse of Marsh, who is her brother-in-law. She said that he had beaten his wife yesterday and was of not much account. And she went on detailing incidents wherein she saw she had reason to complain of Marsh, while he most emphatically denied them.

So contradictory were the statements of both, that His Honor dismissed the case.
