

salvation, if he has redeemed them from the curse of the law, and the fear of death, by his precious blood; if he has poured upon them his spirit, to effect the great work of regeneration, and sanctification in their hearts; if he has adopted us into his family, and called us to enjoy the blessings of the covenant of grace in time, and through eternity;—then it becomes us to endeavour to keep the world under our feet, Christ in our heart, and heaven in our eye; and enquire what we shall render to the Lord for all his benefits towards us.

As to the state of our Churches, we are sorry to say that the additions to our numbers are not so great as in former years; but the Lord has his set time to favour Zion, and there are a goodly number here, who are earnestly praying that he may come down as rain upon the mown grass, and as showers to water the earth.

BRETHREN pray for us, as we do for you, that we may enjoy the consolations of religion. While we have no other way to maintain christian fellowship here, but by keeping up our correspondence, let us daily anticipate the happiness we hope to enjoy in that kingdom of light and glory where there will be no bar to intercourse; where at God's right hand our joys will be full without interruption and without end. We are thankful for the kind visit of your messengers, and minutes, and intreat the favour of a continued correspondence, and pray that the best of blessings may attend you.
