CONFEDERATION IN NEW BRUNSWICK.

sister Province will accordingly be in the wake of the free trade armidst of a general election a few days hence. Provisionally entered into. The determination of the Government to ap peal to the country on the question of Confederation is a wise one, for there can be little to be the table to the Confederation which will be beneficial and be staken unto himself an helpmate. May cration is a wise one, for there can be little doubt of the result. They might have succeeded in obtaining a working majority in the House, as lately constituted, but it is far better that they should test the feeling of the people without delay.

In reducing the issues to this single que-tion, the advocates of the "Quebec scheme" have already gained a considerable triumph for they thus compel their opponents to dis-cuss it before the people and show grounds for their opposition, instead of making general ob-jections to it and compassing its defeat by astheir ability to prove its advantages, Mr. Tilley, Mr. J. II. Gray. Mr. C. Fisher and the compared with the great subject which they but serve to embarrass.

There can be no doubt whatever that the public sentiment in New Brunswick has ur dergone a great change within the past year The embecility and unscrupulousness of the late Government have no doubt done much create a prejudice, far and wide, against th anti-Confederates. The fact that a large bod of that party are notorious Annexationists, ha awakened the loyalty of the intelligent class and caused them to give that attention to the real merits of the question of Union that the had not given a year ago. On the one sin the people of the Provinces, if they value Br tish connection and British liberty, to unite on the other hand, they see men of stron American proclivities asking for delay, unit it may be too late to unite, and we must fall in the arms of the American Republic.

We do not deny that the Confederation pa tried to defeat the mon who are so patriotically endeavoring to carry out the wishes of Parent State. The present Government, as far as ability and respectability go, cannot be que ed for a single instant.

Upon the issue will depend whether these Provinces are to continue in their present state of seperate existence and disjointed weakness with its people united by the ties of language and law that have aided the er country in running the race which she has so gloriously won among the nations.
