New York, March 26 .- The Herald's

I am reliably informed that Secretary Gresham has been seriously considering the advisability of demanding Mr. Thurston's deportation, should he try to remain here after his official relations are closed and persist in his antagonism to the administration. Mr. Thurston is and has been for a long time personally, as well as officially, obnoxious to the administration authorities. It was believed when the rumor was first circulated that, in addition to demanding his recall, Secretary Gresham would insist upon his leaving the country, but there are good reasons for believing now that Mr. Gresham contemplates such a course.
