The premier of Canada moved in parlia-ment a resolution of sympathy with the Outlanders in the Transvaal trouble. According to the cable despatches, and Sir wiltrid Laurier's admission, the premier of Canada, tried to create the impression in England that the Canadian government was willing to send troops to the Transvaal. When the news was cabled back to Canada Laurier says: "Let us put off the question." Today the press of Russin, France, Ger-may and Spain may point to the Canadian to the set what turns ut." The church also stands for a new life: there is no "new creature" except through Christ, who came that we might have life, and have it more converted. M, L. The government of Canada can meet in ouncil and without parliamentary sanction can vote millions for contracts to enable contractors to subscribe to election funds, but it refuses to vote a dollar to send a regiment to the Transval. Canada can spend two hundred and fifty thousand dollars for wharves in a few doubt-ful constituencies where the wharves will not be used, but it has not a cent to give to uphold the flag that protects us against the whole world. A discussion of the report followed. Rev. J. Parsons, Marysville, moved the adoption of the report and took oc-casion to contrast the numerical strength of the Free Baptists some decades ago and the present time. Not so many baptisms this year as in some but additions are not always best guarantees of prosperity. There is the breaking up of the soll and preparing it for the harvest. He felt impressed with the fact that more should be given to the home field. Rev. B. H. Nobles, Sussex, in secthat he noted several features. of encouragement in the report, and asked the congregation to rise and sing the doxology as a token of thankfulness. After the singing Mr. Nobles continued to discuss the report, giving special attention to the fact that a number of the churches did not report any spir itual growth. God had given to the denomination a mission, and he be-lleved that God would give them strength to fulfil it. To do this they must have an intelligent knowledge of the Word, of their creed and religious happenings; they must be spiritual happenings and united.

Rev. David Long of Victoria street church spoke briefly, placing before the conference the need of the struggling fields and the necessity for all to do what they could. Rev. Mr. Francis also discussed the report, after which it was adopted. Rev. Gideon Swim was excused in order to attend a funeral at the Mill-Rev. T. H. Sidell, delegate from the Scotia conference, was intro-Nova duced and spoke at some length upon the work in the past and the outlook for the future, which he believed to be exceedingly bright. There were now in his conference 16 ministers, 15 pastorates, 51 additions; total member ship, 3,414; money raised during the year, $8,500. In regard to the temperance question, he blamed the presen government for its action, but was not certain just what the denomination should lo. With one province, as it is, prohibition could not be had. In education, he propounded a new scheme of private study in the absence of any denominational school in the provinces. In concluding he wished the New Brunswick conference God-speed.

Rev. G. A. Hartley moved that the conference welcome Rev. Mr. Sideli and extend to him the courtesy of the conference.-Carried.

Rev. Mr. George of the Maine state Free Baptist association was intro-duced. He said he came as a representative of 13,000 Free Baptists, 250 churches and 140 ordained ministers He was glad to be present and extend Christian greetings to the conference. It was moved by Rev. B. H. Noble that the conference has heard with deep pleasure the delegate from Maine and welcome him to a seat.-Carried. Rev. G. F. Currie, delegate to the Nova Scotia conference, reported that he had had attended the conference at ting the reports, that was what was the matter.

Rev. C. T. Phillips briefly disc the report. He believed the fault was one of blundering rather than indifference at trying to get reports. Rev. G. A. Hartley thought that the reports should come through the district meeting. In the seventh district one man was appointed to preach on this work. If the matter was more fully ventilated in the district there would be less need of talking at the conference Rev. B. H. Nobles, Sussex, was strongly in favor of having Sunday chool conventions. The sixth district holds one, and it has been found par-
