where there were a number of watches. He asked him where and he said in the auction room in the Y. M. C. A. building.

"I then returned and handed the hat to Tobin, who put twenty-four of the watches in his pocket, while I kept the remaining four. We decided to leave by the front door, and opened it gently, but seeing someone opposite closed it and waited. Presently all seemed clear and we went out."

This closed the case for the crown, and Mr. Mullin, on behalf of Tobin, asked for his dismissal on the ground that there was not the least bit of evidence against him.

River Hebert a Progressive Cumberland Neighborhood.

Goal and Railway Enterprises—A New Line Being Built—Hunting Moose With a Camera.

RIVER HEBERT, June 5.—A person who has not seen this place for three or four years will be rather surprised to find how busy a village, or group of villages, it is.

While this prospective railway with the line now in existence will give the people a fair outlet for their produce, the river road is still useful. The River Hebert is navigable to the railway bridge, and most of the lumber is shipped directly by water.

filed and as might be expected, they do not give universal satisfaction. Damages run from $1,000 down to small sums, and those interested find it difficult in some cases to reconcile the river road with some others.

Though Cumberland is a Scott Act county, liquor has usually been sold more or less at the Joggins and much of the time at River Hebert. Lately the temperance people have been rather active, and a great number of fines have been imposed upon offenders at the Joggins.

PRACTICE IS ILLEGAL.

Mr. Wetmore Informs Farmers That They Must Not Dehorn Cattle Indiscriminately.

BLOOMFIELD STATION, June 6.—Very few gazeparcus were caught here this season, and so far the shad have been scarce, the running logs at first interfering with the setting of nets.

The project is less popular with some of the River Hebert farmers whose property is intersected by the railway. Some of these farmers have already been out by the Joggins road, and by a coal tramway, for which expropriation powers were obtained.

ACADIA ANNIVERSARY.

Seminary and College Class Days and Seminary Closing Exercises Were Largely Attended and Interesting.

WOLFVILLE, June 5.—An interesting feature of the closing exercises of Acadia Seminary is senior class day, which was held this afternoon in Alumnus Hall, where the decorations were blue and gray, the class colors.

One of the choicest exercises most dear to the student heart is the farewell appearance of the senior class as arranged by its members. Here the public is entertained by the choicest wit and pleasantness the class has to offer and an element of pathos is also present in the contemplation of the coming separation.

President Wheelock occupied the chair. A roll call was read by Allan MacIntyre of St. John, secretary of the class, in the character membership of which there are 43 members. Twenty-two remain of the original number.

Rev. Mr. Gardner, the Presbyterian minister recently inducted at River Hebert, was remembered at St. John by his former connection with the Glad Tidings mission of Exmouth street Methodist church.

The graduates in the collegiate course are: Margaret Caldwell, Cambridge; Maude Christie, River Hebert; Mabel Hanna, Edna Harrison, Halifax; Jennie Patillo, Truro; Bertha Purdy, Springhill; Evelyn Vaughan, Wolfville; Edna Young, Parraboro; Jennie Palmer, Dorchester.

ALONSO VISITS ENGLAND

King of Spain Royally Welcomed at Portsmouth and Greeted by the Prince of Wales.

PORTSMOUTH, Eng., June 5.—The King of Spain arrived here today from Cherbourg on the British royal yacht Victoria and Albert. The yacht was accompanied across the channel by an escort of British cruisers and torpedo boat destroyers.

The crowds were somewhat disappointed. In the first place the police precautions were so strict that few persons could get close enough to see the royal visitor. Besides the wet weather made it necessary for the two monarchs to drive to the palace in a closed carriage, so that only a passing glimpse was obtained of the Spaniard.

Inside the palace was afforded a splendid contrast with the uncomfortable drizzle outside. In the grand hall the king's gentlemen at arms and the yeomen of the guard, resplendent in gold and scarlet uniforms, mounted guard, and at the top of the great staircase Queen Alfonso, who stopped a step just below where the queen was standing, and kissed the tips of her outstretched fingers.
