Signs of Spring.
Good evening, sergeant, anything new? asked a Standard reporter of sergt. Jacob Ross, late last evening, whereupon the sergeant paused long enough to relate the following rather varied experiences which he had undergone during the day: In the morning, he said, he saw a large flock of geese flying over the city. Upon going home to dinner he picked a violet in his garden. And not long afterwards espied a butterfly on the wing. It signs count for anything, spring has come.

Assaulted His Father.
Wm. McArthur, aged 20, was given in charge of the police early yesterday morning by his father, Wm. McArthur, for assaulting and kicking him in the home, King street, West End. William Jr., it is alleged, arrived home between one and two in the morning considerably under the influence of liquor. Upon being reprimanded by his father, the son assaulted and kicked him. The police were notified and the young man was taken into custody.

Had No Use For Italians.
Patrick Donohue, a sturdy son of Erin, started out to make war on Italians in general Saturday evening, with the result that he finally landed in central police station, where he is charged with assault and destroying property. It is claimed that while under the influence of liquor he broke a pane of glass in the window of Diego Stracuss's shop on North street. Upon being warned to go away by the clerk, Antonio De Benedetto, Donohue showed his disapproval of the interference by giving him a severe beating. Officers Staple and Nelson arrived upon the scene just in time to take Donohue into custody.

Heavy Traffic On Sunday's Trains.
Sunday traffic on the C. P. R. trains to and from Montreal yesterday was exceptionally heavy. The number arriving on the train in the morning was larger than usual and the streets were thronged with the coaches and passengers giving the city a very businesslike appearance. Every berth in the Pullman sleeper was taken on the outgoing train which left here at 5:50 o'clock in the afternoon, and the tourist cars were also well filled. One cause for the extra traffic last evening was the exodus of a large number of winter port officials to Montreal following the close of the season here. Mr. A. Rowland, chief clerk in the C. P. R. Marine Superintendent's office, and the staff of checkers, were on the train. Representing the Donaldson Line, were D. Harry K. Roxborough, Harry A. Seely, and J. W. Irvine.

Triple Bereavement.
Thomas Burley, of Duke street, West St. John, suffered bereavement for the third time within a week when his wife, Mrs. Ethel Burley, died on Saturday night. Mrs. Burley had been ill for a year with tuberculosis and while her condition was serious, it is thought the death of her two babies, one aged four months and the other sixteen months which occurred on Sunday and Monday of last week, undoubtedly hastened her demise. The deceased lady was 24 years of age and numbered many friends who will sincerely mourn her death. Mr. Burley's immediate family which weeks ago consisted of wife and three babies has been reduced to one sixteen months old child, twin to the baby which died on Monday last. In his triple bereavement he has the sympathy of a very wide circle of friends.

After Thirty-Three Years' Service.
After thirty-three years of service with the Christie Woodworking Co. Ltd., William King, of 73 Chapel street has severed his connection with the firm and will remove to Portland, Me., where he has accepted a position in a similar line of work. Mr. King entered the employ of the Christie Company when a young man and worked his way up until he was placed in charge of the sash-making department which position he held up to the time of his leaving. His relations with employers and men have always been of a most pleasant nature and on Saturday before leaving the factory, he was made the recipient of two handsome remembrances. The firm presented him with a valuable gold watch suitably engraved and the employees gave him a very nice set of pipes. Mr. King has sold his property in Chapel street and will remove his family to Portland. He will leave on Monday evening.

No. 3 Battery R. C. A., will meet at Park Hotel on Wednesday, April 27 at 9 p. m. for the annual dinner. Uniforms will be issued Monday, April 25, at 8 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Racine, who have been visiting Mrs. H. G. Rogers, returned to Montreal last evening.

ARCHDEACON LLOYD HERE WITH RECRUITS FOR MISSION FIELD

Former Head of Rothesay College Arrives on Victorian With Party of Catechists--Speaks Hopefully of His Plan to Secure Clergymen--Thirty English Farmers Also on Board.

Archdeacon Lloyd, the father of Lloydminster, but better known to his many St. John friends as Rev. George E. Lloyd, once the energetic head of the Rothesay school for boys, arrived from Liverpool on the Allan liner Victorian yesterday, with a party of catechists and deaconesses bound for the west.

Brown hairs supplanted by grey and white, his face showing a few added lines, Archdeacon Lloyd looks somewhat older than when he was in this province, but he still retains the erect military carriage, the kindly smile and gentle courtesy of manner which characterized him when here. For many years Rev. Mr. Lloyd has been a pilot of souls; in the earlier part of his ministry through personal zealous Christian work but latterly largely through the well directed efforts of a small army of assistants working under his supervision.

Identified With Saskatoon.
Of late years he has identified himself particularly with Saskatoon and the country adjacent thereto, and he has been aptly termed the "Moses of the Saskatchewan," as he has been largely responsible for that city's foundation and existence. Since his removal, guide and friend to a large proportion of its people. Twice he has been mentioned for a bishopric, twice he has refused to be a candidate as his acceptance would necessitate his removal from his field of labor and he prefers to do the work which has fallen to his hand and for which he is so eminently fitted.

When the Barr colony was in a fair way to class with the great mistaken pilgrimages of modern times and the ranks of the English settlers brought to Canada with a complete ignorance of the country's conditions and requirements were being rapidly decimated through discontent and resentment, it was Rev. George E. Lloyd, chaplain of the party, who reorganized the expedition, became its leader and moulded the settlers into a prosperous community of Canadians. The village of Lloydminster was founded and today it is one of the most flourishing western towns. Since that time he has been prominent in the work of the church in the Canadian west, has been chosen archdeacon of Saskatchewan and head of the divinity school in connection with the provincial university.

His Mission to England.
Archdeacon Lloyd's present mission to England was somewhat similar to that on which the Bishop of Fredericton is now engaged, the securing of material to fill the pulpits of the rapidly increasing number of churches all through the westland. His purpose is to have his clergymen complete their training in Canada and take their orders here. For that purpose he selected a party of catechists in England and brought nineteen of them out with him on the Victorian as well as seven deaconesses. The catechists will labor in different fields for six months, and will spend the other six months at the divinity school at Saskatoon studying for the ministry until eventually they are admitted to the priesthood.

The party coming out yesterday included Archdeacon and Mrs. Lloyd, Miss Simcoe, Miss Berryman, P. C. Miss Haig, Mrs. A. Walker, Miss Holbrook, Miss Currie and P. Lloyd, H. Barr, J. E. Jeny, H. Shork, E. J. Brett, Berryman, P. C. Bay, G. G. Reynolds, W. S. Wickenden, J. F. Haynes, E. K. Wicks, J. Power, F. W. Alcock, P. L'Esrange, Fawcett, G. Beveridge, H. M. Hutchings, W. Harold, F. Bowly and J. McDougall.

Speaking of the party Archdeacon Lloyd said he hoped the idea would prove a good one. He found it difficult to get clergymen in orders to come to Canada to the West to take up mission fields so he secured the catechists and will have them educated at the Saskatoon divinity school of the University of Saskatchewan. He spoke most hopefully. "It started last October," said he, "and has had a most successful career so far. I believe there is a great future for it and a great work for it to do in the moulding of the Canada of the future."

Archdeacon Lloyd and his party left on one of the special trains which got away for the West yesterday afternoon. Another interesting party of thirty English farmers brought to Canada by J. H. Wilson of Edmonton, who will settle them on farms near the city. Among the Victorian's passengers were the Hon. Mrs. C. Alexander and the Misses Alexander, from Ireland, who are touring Canada. The following officers who arrived will be stationed at Ottawa and Halifax: Lieut. Kemble, R. G. A., Capt. W. F. and Capt. A. P. Mitchell. Major de Buey, after a brief residence in Canada will go to Australia.

This is the Victorian's last trip to St. John this season. Aside from a vexatious delay at Halifax, due to fog, she had a pleasant passage. Some ice was passed on the way, including a particularly large berg of Cape Race. To Halifax she brought 39 saloon, 491 cabin and 1,012 steerage passengers (total of 1,542) and these 21 saloon, 407 cabin and 324 steerage came around to St. John.

Alien Element Gave Liquor Men Warning

Rev. B. H. Nobles in Vigorous Sermon Last Evening Condemned Action of Moral and Social Reform Council in Confining Local Option Fight to Two Wards--Reasons for Defeat.

Rev. B. H. Nobles, pastor of Victoria street Baptist church, spoke very plainly last evening on the causes which lead to the defeat of the temperance party in the recent local option campaign. He gave as the chief reason the mistake of confining the fight to only two wards, due, he said, to the presence of an alien element in the moral and social reform council, the treating of men engaged in the liquor traffic with dignity and respect and the traitorous attitude of so many voters inclined towards temperance. He gave as the other chief reasons the mistake of confining the fight to only two wards, due, he said, to the presence of an alien element in the moral and social reform council, the treating of men engaged in the liquor traffic with dignity and respect and the traitorous attitude of so many voters inclined towards temperance. He said, to the presence of an alien element in the moral and social reform council, the treating of men engaged in the liquor traffic with dignity and respect and the traitorous attitude of so many voters inclined towards temperance. It had been intended to wage the battle in five or six wards, but an alien element in the council asked that the fight be deferred in all but these two wards. This was not done because it was felt that the action was too hurried but to give warning to the vested interests of the liquor traffic to prepare for the contest in advance. A five or six fanned fight would have bothered the liquor men a great deal more. As it was they were able to concentrate their energies on the two wards.

"In the third place," continued Mr. Nobles, "we were betrayed by the men with temperance sympathies yet who remained at their work all day and did not go to the polls to register their vote. A mother coming up the streets with two children is suddenly confronted by a mad dog with flaming eyes and frothing lips, which makes a dash for her little ones. Spectators are terrorized. They stand awestruck, while the unarmed woman grasps the frenzied brute in a vain attempt to save her children."

Another mistake was the course of some of the temperance leaders in regarding and treating the men behind the liquor traffic with dignity and respect. They should be branded, set apart, and ostracized socially, religiously and politically. The temperance leaders must know in their hearts the real standing of these men and it was only deception to smile and shake hands.

It is No Longer Necessary To Go to a Custom Tailor and Pay High Prices for Clothing!
Ready Tailored Garments for men have increased mightily in public favor during the past few years. Today there are few greater industries in Canada in which more money is invested than in the manufacture of clothing. It is the third largest industry, and it is said that $40,000,000 would be a conservative estimate of the annual output of ready-tailored garments. The old-time prejudice against ready-to-wear tailoring has disappeared. The custom tailor has no longer a stronghold upon the vanity of mankind, he has been outdone in style, fit and tailoring by the ready-to-wear garments such as we are selling this spring. Have you seen them yet?
