BAPTIST MISSION WORK IN INDIA BY REV. M. L. ORCHARD

Returned Missionary at Main Street Baptist Church Last Evening—Spent Seven Years in India—Delivers Interesting Discourse.

Rev. Malcolm L. Orchard, a returned missionary, occupied the pulpit at the Main St. Baptist church last night and in a most interesting manner outlined the accomplishments and needs of the Baptist mission work in India. The speaker spent seven years in India on the Bobbili field and has a thorough knowledge of the problems to be met with and the magnitude of the task which the Canadian Baptists have undertaken in that land. He spoke first of the problem and then how to meet it. The Canadian Baptists had undertaken to give the gospel to a portion of the Thilagu race and their territory was 300 miles long by 50 to 75 miles wide, lying along the shore of the Bay of Bengal. The population of this strip was 4,500,000 and there were 7,500 villages ranging in population from 40,000 down to 250 people of the same blood as the people of Canada, although a little darker skinned and the task before the Baptist Christians of this country was to see that every one of this four and a half millions had an adequate opportunity to hear the gospel message in the present generation. They were not concerned with any portion of the country as other denominations were responsible for them. To carry out this work the field had been divided into 22 stations, each 25 miles square, with 250 villages and 250,000 people. At the present time they have a force of 750 native workers and 350 native Christian teachers teaching 10,000 scholars. They have high schools, one with 600 pupils and the other with 1,100 pupils; 14 caste schools for girls in which last year 999 girls were being taught; 9 boarding schools, a normal school where their teachers study; a seminary; a newspaper with a circulation of about 3,000; 5 hospitals which last year cared for 400,000 patients and 2 leper asylums. At the present time they have 72 churches, 12 of which are self-supporting with 10,000 members. Last year 800 persons were baptized and the increase in the past ten years was 96 per cent.

The big barrier in the way of reaching the millions of India was the caste system. Of these castes there were five and these again had been divided into 100,000 subdivisions and Christianity was the only force which could overthrow this giant which throttled the development of the country both commercially and spiritually. To carry out the programme outlined there was needed 25 men, 50 single lady missionaries and 4,350 native helpers, and it was up to the Baptist Christians of Canada to supply the required number of men and women from this country and the money to support both them and the native helpers. If the Baptists of Canada would only pay and pray the task would be accomplished.

MEMORIAL SERVICE TO THE MEMORY OF LATE CHARLES MAYES

Impressive Service Preached in Victoria Street Baptist Church by Rev. Gideon Swin—Deceased Was Lost with Government Steamer Simcoe.

An impressive memorial service was held in the Victoria street Baptist church last evening in memory of Charles Mayes, who was one of the crew of the government steamer Simcoe which was recently lost.

The large congregation completely filled the auditorium. Rev. I. W. Williamson read the Scripture lesson from II Corinthians, chapter five. During the taking of the offering the choir sang "Rock of Ages Cleft For Me." Rev. Gideon Swin delivered the memorial sermon. He took his text from James 4: 14, "Whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow." He spoke of the many trials, sufferings and disappointments which have come at some time or another upon all, striking us when we least expect them, and he emphasized the uncertainty of life. "While here," he said, "we should make preparation for the other world. If we live as God would have us live, we will die well." He said that no doubt before the steamer went down, the men on board were thinking of their homes and loved ones and looking forward to the time when they should be with them once again, but that was not to be. In a twinkling of an eye they all perished. The speaker told of his acquaintance with Charles Mayes. He spoke of him as a man of exceptional qualities, who was well liked by all who knew him. Although all his friends heard of his death with great regret, yet he will be missed in the home more than anywhere else, and the sympathy of all will go out to the bereaved family who are mourning the loss of husband and father.

At the conclusion of the sermon the congregation rose and stood with bowed heads while the organist played the "Dead March in Saul."

HARBOR FRONT PRESENTED BUSY SIGHT YESTERDAY

Every Berth Was Occupied—Ships in Harbor Waiting a Chance to Dock—A Record Season Expected.

The harbor front is a busy place these days and everybody is working at high pressure in order to care for the traffic which is passing through this port. Night and day crews are working practically all the time and the work of loading and unloading the steamers in port is being rushed as rapidly as possible. Last night there were eighteen vessels in port, every available berth was occupied and three were lying in the stream awaiting a chance to dock and several more are expected in the next day or two. This will probably be a record year for grain shipments as a very large amount has already gone forward and the season has only just commenced nicely.

Harbor Master Alward said last night that he had a number of people looking for a good month and was not surprised to see the receipts exceed those of last January and prospects for a record breaking season were excellent.

MAIN ST. BUILDINGS BADLY DAMAGED BY FIRE LAST NIGHT

Two Alarms Sent in from Box 143—Brisk Blaze Caused Much Damage to H. J. Pratt's Building—Loss About $8,000.

The almost instant response of the city fire department, the effectiveness of their procedure upon arrival, confined a fire which might have been a serious conflagration within the house in which it originated at 670 Main St., last night at 8.30. The approximate loss, according to estimates by the parties involved, will reach in the vicinity of $8,000. The house, a three story tenement, suffered considerable damage in the east section. H. J. Pratt, the owner, informed The Standard that he was not sure of the exact amount of insurance he had on the house, but there was sufficient to cover the damage, which is estimated will amount to between $1,000 and $1,500. The risk on the building is carried by the London and Globe, represented by W. M. Jarvis, and the Phoenix Insurance Company, represented by Hall and Fairweather.

The adjoining property, that of Philip Grannan, consisting of house and store, suffered considerably as the result of smoke and water. The stock in Mr. Grannan's store, hardware, was mostly damaged by water. Mr. Grannan fears his loss in the neighborhood of $5,000. The risk amounting to $3,000, is carried by A. C. Fairweather and J. M. Queen. The three families which occupied the Pratt house were obliged to seek new quarters last night, as also did the occupants of the Grannan property. The families occupying the houses in which the fire originated were Mrs. R. F. Maher on the first floor, Mrs. Theresa Roddy on the second, and Walter Stone on the third. None of the parties carried any insurance on their household goods, which were practically totally destroyed. The most of the damage was the result of smoke and water.

The occupants of the Grannan building were more fortunate, as they all carried insurance. The contents over the store were occupied by Mrs. Wm. Grannan, and the third floor by L. J. Bowes. The exact amount of insurance carried could not be learned last night, but there is sufficient on the property to cover the loss sustained. The smoke and water had easy access to the Grannan building after the fire had progressed and as a result a considerable amount of tinware was destroyed.

As far as could be learned the fire commenced in the woodshed at the rear of the house. It worked its way up the back stairs to the first floor and with incalculable rapidity gained the second and third floors before it was realized that the place was on fire. The origin of the flame is unknown. Owing to the restricted nature of the building system in this section of the city and the apparent headway the fire had made it was thought advisable to send in a second alarm about fifteen minutes after the first had been sounded. George Corrigan was the first to detect the fire and lost no time in having an alarm sent in from box 143. The firemen were handicapped in their work by the dense volume of smoke, which emanated from all the windows, doors and crevices in the building. However, their work soon had telling effect, and after an hour of fighting it could be seen they had the fire under control. The buildings in close proximity to the fire were soaked with water to arrest the stealthy work of the flying embers. At 10.30 the alarm sounded the all out.

The entire work of the department was carried out systematically and without a hitch, special mention might be made of the service rendered by No. 2 Salvage Corps, who assisted in the removal and protection of a considerable amount of property. Those who were made homeless by the fire were treated to the kind hospitality of either relatives or friends.
