

125,000 CANADIANS NOW READY TO CROSS ATLANTIC TO FIGHT

New Recruiting Regulations Tend to Bring Greater Response and Fill Places of Units Leaving

Machine Gun Work at Valcartier Camp Especially Commended—140th Section Takes Place of Honor—Only Men Unfit for C.E.F. Units May Be Taken Into Special Service Companies—Military Happenings in New Brunswick.

Wednesday, Aug. 30.
In round figures there are at present about 125,000 men in Canada who are about ready to sail for England. Many of these men were, however, secured in what may yet be known by recruiting officers as "the good old days" when records were being smashed and many stalwart recruits secured daily for overseas service.

Whether or not the new military registration of all men between the ages of 18 and 45 in this country, will bring forth a greater response to the call, remains to be seen. A gentleman who is prominent in recruiting circles in this city remarked a day or so ago, when discussion had switched to the enforcement of registration in a certain county in the province: "I hear several of the young men have already purchased tickets for the United States." He said no more and his observation met with a deep and significant silence.

A recent military census shows the troops to be distributed as follows:

Canogaught Machine Gun Area.
Field Marshal H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught has graciously signified his pleasure in having the machine gun area called "The Canogaught Machine Gun Area." It will be known as such hereafter.

General staff orders issued at Valcartier Camp have this order, shortly after the visit of his royal highness to Valcartier Camp. The machine gun section at the camp is in command of Capt. Louis Keene, of Montreal, who saw much service at the front with machine gun batteries in the imperial service, where he was wounded.

The machine gun work of the various sections of C.T.F. battalions now at Valcartier work has been highly commended by the officers who have made recent inspections, and reports from the big camp are to the effect that never before in the history of Valcartier has the machine gun sections reached such a splendid state of efficiency.

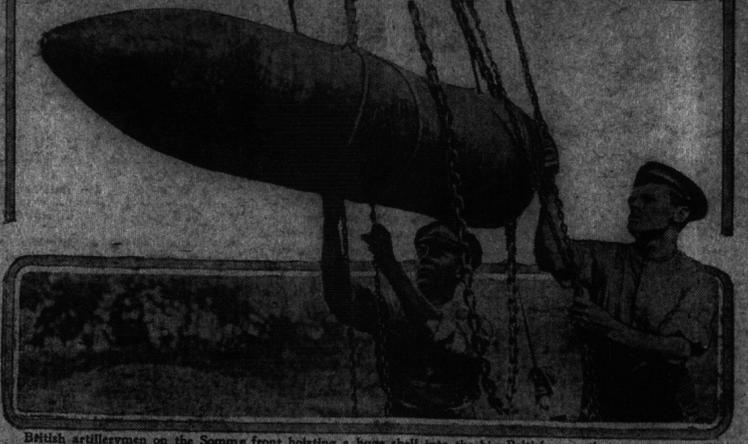

140th Doing Well.
It is reported that the machine gun section of the 140th Battalion under Lieut-Colonel Beer, has made an excellent showing and is one of the best organizations of its kind in camp. Similar reports regarding the efficiency of the 182nd section and other New Brunswick units at Valcartier have also been received.

Owing to the fact that the machine gun has played such an important role in the present war this branch of the service is being paid especial attention.

Men Like the Work.
The machine gunners are taught to put in wire, make entanglements, dig pits, fill and lay sandbags correctly, make burdles and gabions, etc. The men have been so interested in this practical work that they have done three times the work any other body of men would have done as a matter of mere orders.

More Nurses Called For.
A request has been received by military headquarters at Ottawa from the war office, London for a number of more fully qualified staff nurses for service with Queen Alexandra's Imperial Military when only thirteen years of age and has been with the regiment since that date. The late Private Burns was for many years stationed in Fredericton with the R. C. R. and was a member of the military brass band here at that time, playing the cymbals and bass drum. He was also a star baseball player and one of the best known and most popular members of the R. C. R. For the past eleven years he was stationed at Halifax.

The late "Bobby" Burns, as he was best known as, was forty-five years of age, and besides his wife, is survived by four daughters, Misses Agnes, Queenie, Ella and Annie; and one son, Arthur, all of Halifax. One brother, John, of Los Angeles (Cal.), also survives.

Military Honors.
The general orders of June contain the name of Henry Atwood Bates to be lieutenant in the 8rd C. G. A., and Frederick Manning to be lieutenant in the 88th regiment.

In general orders also it is read that His Majesty the King of Rumania has been pleased to confer, with the approval of His Majesty King George, the order of St. Anne, third class, with swords, upon Major Andrew Gault, D. S. O., formerly of the R. C. R. at Halifax, who has been conferred the medal of St. George, first class.

Commission in England.
W. A. Cunningham of 21 Guilford street, West St. John, has just received word that his son, Sergt-Major Charles S. Cunningham, has received his commission in England.

Sergt. Cunningham left St. John early in the war and crossed over to England. There his military abilities were immediately recognized and he was kept in England as an instructor. From sergeant he was promoted to the highest N.C.O.'s rank, that of sergeant-major. He was transferred to the 10th Brigade, and was later transferred to the 10th Brigade. His parents received word from him this morning, and it said that he had finally won his commission and was raised to the rank of lieutenant. Whether he will be permitted to proceed to the front or still remain in England as an instructor is not yet known. However, his many friends will be pleased to hear of his steady advance. St. John and all Canada can take pride in the fact that he has done so well in the world-wide struggle.

To Purchase Artificial Limbs.
Mrs. H. M. Stout of Fairview has received a letter of thanks from Miss Hazel Deinstadt, acknowledging the receipt of $54, the proceeds of a pantry sale held on June 30, to raise funds for the assistance of wounded soldiers in Miss Deinstadt's care at Arc-en-Barrois Hospital, France, where she is on the nursing staff.

The use to which the money was put and the fine spirit expressed in the letter all through, have amply repaid the ladies for any effort they made in connection with the sale. It is a real source of endeavor for the same praiseworthy cause.

The following extracts will be of interest to Miss Deinstadt's many friends: "I have just been making the sale a success also."
"How perfectly splendid of you to raise all that money for my wounded boys. It was just fine and I did appreciate it. I need to say to you now I shall tell you what I did with all that $54, and I hope you will think it one of the best things to be done."
"In the first place, when I received your money, I was so glad and happy, and I told them it was from some friends of mine in Canada. They were simply thrilled. I had to pass the check to each one separately and let them see it. Then they asked so many questions which I tried my best to answer in my own peculiar French and sometimes the results were very funny."
"I then asked them what they thought was needed most. Some fellows said new soft mattresses, but as some of the boys had previously sent some money I had already ordered mattresses. A comical Turco said gleefully that he hoped now he could have all the cigarettes he wanted, but I was looking for a bigger object and went into another section of the hospital where I have some very dear friends among the blesses. Here I found such a nice man who had lost his right arm. He is a designer, and so plucky, lying in bed and trying to draw with his left hand. He is married, with a family, the eldest only seventeen, so you see there is really no one to support the children now."
"On making enquiry I found out we could get him with the money the very best wooden arm with all sorts of useful contrivances that would help him tremendously, so I thought—and hope you will—let me know if you would be willing to help a man like that to pick up his life; gain where he had left off as it were by giving him something that would be indispensable to him as long as he lives."
"On knowing they send these men to Paris, where they are taught vocations when fitted with artificial arms or legs, and it is truly amazing how skillful they become."
"Still having some money left, I added it to what I had received the day before, and was able to buy this total amount to procure a wooden leg for one of the men in my own ward. He is a great big boy, a farmer, and had his leg shot off above the knee. Both of these men were wounded at Verdun and have been remarkably brave through their illness."
"These two men are both so very grateful to all you dear people, that any one so far away should a lot to help

RETURNED MEN IN RECRUITING HAVE RECEIVED NO PAY

Gallant Ladies Who Fought and Bled on Western Front Have Grievance

Officials Say Pay Claims Went Through in Regular Way for July Salaries That Are Not Yet Received—Rapid Promotion for Private in No. 8 Ambulance Train—Points Decided Upon for Beacon Fire.

Returned invalided soldiers who have been appointed deputy recruiting officers in the different counties throughout the province have not yet received any remuneration is a condition of affairs that yesterday became known in the city.

It is understood that the idea of placing returned invalided soldiers in these positions was a scheme put forward by Lieut.-Colonel P. A. Guthrie and that it was concurred in by Ottawa and the appointments followed.

Why these men are not being paid, or have not yet been paid, is not yet definitely known. Complaints are coming in from all parts of the province where they are stationed. One of these men, officiating as a deputy recruiting officer, said yesterday that he had not received a single cent of remuneration for the month of July, although the greater part of August is now past.

Major Tilley's Statement.
Major L. P. D. Tilley, chief recruiting officer for the province, said that he had sent through the pay sheet claims to the headquarters office of the New Brunswick Command at the end of July as laid down in the regulations. He, however, could make no concrete explanation as to why these claims had not been paid by the government.

Lieut.-Colonel Guthrie is at present absent from the city, but the officer in charge yesterday at headquarters said that he knew nothing whatever of the case, hence could give no particulars in regard to the matter.

These men who have not received their pay and those who have come out of great tribulations, who have already been overseas and done their "bit" for the empire in her hour of trial.

Many citizens who have learned of existing conditions are very indignant. These returned soldiers, since being appointed, have given good service in their respective positions for having been "through the mill" they are able to make a stronger appeal to the young men of the province than anyone else. The consensus of opinion is that the military authorities should at once ferret this thing out and discover where the onus of responsibility lies.

Rapid Promotion.
Napoleon's theory that there is a field marshal's baton in the knapsack of every private soldier, especially borne out yesterday at the army when R. J. Murray, who joined No. 8 Field Ambulance Train on Saturday, was given the rank of lance corporal. If Lance Corporal Murray continues to climb at this rate he will now be in the first place in the service. He is a soldier boy who deserves promotion for he has a lieutenant's certificate and dropped his rank in order to get overseas. He joined the Ambulance Train as a private. Another yesterday was promoted to sergeant was that of Lance Corporal Thomas Latt to the rank of corporal. No. 8 Field Ambulance is making excellent progress and promises to be one of the really "crack" units that has been turned out of Canada since the outbreak of war.

With No. 9 Battery.
The members of No. 9 O. S. Siege Battery, C.E.F., are nearing the end of their course of instruction at Halifax, and are expected to fire with the big howitzers any day now. Excellent results are expected as they have been working with the Royal Canadian Garrison Artillery siege battery and the McGill siege battery.

Siege batteries are more urgently needed now than ever, and it is reported that as soon as No. 9 is recruited to strength it will sail. There are still several vacancies left in the battery and men joining now will have a splendid opportunity to come N.G.O.'s as all the non-commissioned officers have not yet been chosen.

The big guns have been largely responsible for the general advance which has taken place this summer and all the more units of artillery there are better equipped for the campaign. The leader will be the task of the infantry to clear the Germans from their trenches.

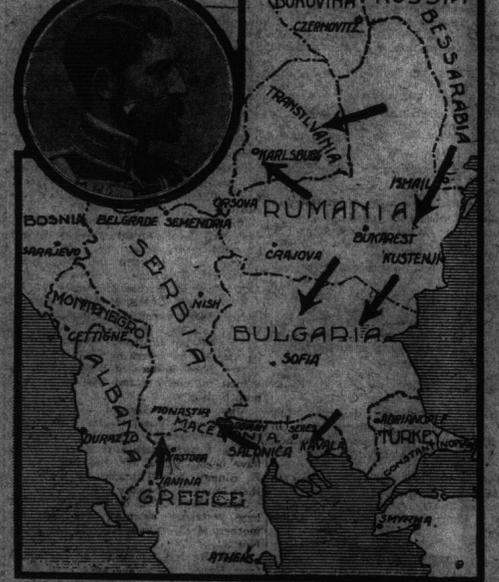

No Officer of 12th Killed.
A recent report is to the effect that of the officers who went overseas with the 12th New Brunswick Battalion of the first contingent not a single man has as yet been killed, although seventeen have been wounded. The battalion did not get to the front as a unit but was sent across the channel in drafts. The officers and men of the 12th have made splendid records since coming to grips with the enemy on the western front.

Fort Howe Location for Kiltie Beacon.
The site of the beacon here which will announce to the residence of this county the opening of the recruiting campaign for the 236th Kilties Battalion, was selected yesterday. H. R. McLellan, commissioner of public safety, and Major C. J. Morgan of the 290th, visited the places suggested and decided upon the summit of Fort Howe as the most desirable. The bonfire will be placed on the top of the hill to the eastward of the building which crowns the summit. From this elevation it will be visible in all parts of the city and much of the surrounding country.

To Help Wounded Men.
Thomas B. Kiltie, vocational secretary of the military hospitals committee, arrived in the city yesterday. He was for several years principal director of manual training and household science. The special object of Mr. Kiltie's visit is to meet the provincial returned soldiers' aid committee with reference to the vocational training of returned disabled members of the Canadian expeditionary force.

Souvenirs of Ypres.
William Leskey, formerly manager of the Victoria Bowling Alley, who went overseas with an artillery unit, has sent home several neatly made match boxes, manufactured from brass shell casings, as souvenirs of his stay in Ypres. The boxes are for E. J. Armstrong, Commis-

THE NEW FACTOR IN THE WAR

King Ferdinand of Rumania and his army, showing the strategic position of his country. Undoubtedly one of the first moves will be to permit a Russian army to cross over and strike Bulgaria, possibly as indicated by the arrow through Ismail. The four other arrows along the Rumanian border indicate possible attacks of Bulgaria and Austria. Bukovina, is Austrian territory, which will probably fall to Rumania as part of the spoils of victory, and undoubtedly she will send an army there at once. The two arrows at the lower left hand part of the map indicate the direction of the Serbian and the Anglo-French attacks on the Bulgars. The third on the left shows the new Bulgarian invasion of Greece.

them. I have just been longing to provide them with artificial limbs, but never thought I would be able to do so. Please thank every one for being so kind; we are all so grateful."
Enclosed with the letter was a snapshot of the wounded man including those to be helped.

12th in Amherst.
The 12th Brigade of Canadian Field Artillery has arrived in Amherst and will be quartered there for some time. Not even the citizens of the busy town, nor any of the civic officials, knew of the coming of the brigade, and when the boys stepped off the train it was a real surprise.

Veteran Joins Kilties.
After serving thirteen months in France with the 1st Field Ambulance Corporal Robert Hagans has arrived in Fredericton and will join the 236th Kilties as hospital sergeant.

Corporal Hagans is a son of the late Sergt. Williams Hagans, of the Royal Canadian Regiment, who was well known in Fredericton, having been stationed here for some years.

Hospital Sergt. Hagans was wounded in France last spring and was in England from April up to the time he sailed for Canada. He is now recovered and in good health.

His brother, Joseph Hagans, who was wounded recently, has received very severe injuries. The sight of one eye has been destroyed and he was otherwise injured. He is still under treatment in England. He left Canada with the 87th Battalion, Canadian Grenadier Guards, but was drafted to the 1st Battalion, with which unit he was when wounded.

Moncton Recruiting.
The latest recruit reported from Moncton is for the Canadian Engineers and his name is given as F. L. Lennox, of Belfast, Ireland. He was signed on by Lieut. J. D. McBeath and is at present working on bridge construction and said to be a very valuable man.

MEMPHIS IS TOTAL LOSS
Santo Domingo, Aug. 30.—The United States steamer Memphis is still on the rocks of the outer harbor, and probably will be a total loss.
An explosion in the boiler room resulted in a large number of casualties. It is feared the loss of life is heavy.
A dispatch was received by wireless telegraph from the United States gunboat Castine, which put to sea when the storm broke. The message had the vessel was cruising in front of the harbor.

POPULAR OFFICER ILL.
Fredericton, Aug. 28.—Friends of Major F. A. Good, of Fredericton, who is at present in command of C. Co., 140th Battalion, will regret to learn that owing to ill-health he will be unable to go overseas. After this battalion leaves Valcartier he will go to the Sanitarium at Ste. Agthe. It is probable that he will be given an appointment on home service. Lieut. W. G. Good is now here on detached duty.

A Blood Food Discovered That Entirely Overcomes Anaemic Weakness

CAREFULLY INVESTIGATED REPORTS ESTABLISH TRULY WONDERFUL RESULTS

Heretofore it has often been a hopeless task for a thin-blooded person to gain either strength or weight. Either food or medicine in many instances had beneficial effect.

What is practically a perfect blood-food, containing such elements as iron, zinc, as last been produced, and when taken after meals will put new life and vigor into people that have despaired of ever being strong again.

This truly wonder-working treatment consists of taking two small chocolate-coated Ferreroze Tablets at the close of every meal.

This wonderful blood-food supplies nourishment, vim, energy, and a stream of vigorous, strength-making blood to every nook and corner of the body, makes every muscle and fibre tingling with new-found life and health.

That gnawing tiredness leaves you—Ferreroze drives it away. Sleepless nights are turned into days of rest, and you pick up day by day your appetite improves—this means more food is transformed in nutriment that will build and energize weak organs. The stimulation it works passes away because Ferreroze drives it away. It restores the vitality that prevents depression.

Think it over—Ferreroze is a wonderful tonic, in fact, it is more than a tonic, because it establishes health that lasts. Thousands use it and therefore can vouch for its efficacy. It restores to perfect condition. You'll feel the uplifting power of Ferreroze in a week's time. Sold by all druggists. 50c. box or six boxes for $2.50; by mail, the name Ferreroze. Forwarded by all to any address if price is returned. The Catarroze Co., Kingston, Ont.
