It is to be regretted that our Canadian press, and especially the Western portion of it, has wandered so wide from the true path of dignified journalism, as to make a personal quarrel grow out of every question that arises. The columns of some of our leading papers read at times like the disgusting recitals of a Police Gazette.

At this season of the year, when so many of our people are suffering from colds, we call attention to Ayer's Cherry PECTORAL as a sure cure not only for coughs and colds, but all affections of the ungs and throat. Having used it in our lungs and throat. Having used it in our family for many years, we can speak from personal knowledge of its efficiency. There may be other remedies that are good, but in all our experience this has proved to be by far the best. It is pleasant to take, and should be kept at command, by every family, as a protection against a class of complaints which seem harmless in the beginning, but become afflicting and dangerous if neglected.— N.
