

Rumors from Abroad

the following:—

Simon Cameron, the United States minister to Russia, who returns to England. Mr. Cameron's future is undecided; he is, however, expected to return to Russia, not having received a new position. He leaves in a day or two for Washington.

Simon says that the Russian government is friendly to us as it has been friendly to the Great and Imperial family of Russia with great courtesy and cordiality. Bayard Taylor is at present in the American Legation at St. Petersburg.

England in Europe is described by the press as strongly savoring of international feeling is strongly increasing. The feeling of the continued inaction of the federal army in England it is said is not so strong. However, that no settlement will take place until Parliament meets. The success or failure of the campaign will, probably, decide the issue. Only decided victories on our side will dispel the ideas, in his opinion, of the possibility of a naval attack upon the Atlantic coast. Three insurance companies are preparing. Three insurance companies are the most powerful in the world, are building in English attack our northern cities. They special desire to make a dash at New York, and even if the enterprise were successful the presence of rebel troops in New York harbor, if only for a few days, would have a great effect on the South.

There is a Secession Club in Liverpool, near three hundred members, who wish to furnish vessels to run our blockade.

No individual member of the club is allowed to know what any other contributes.

There is much sympathy for the rebels in Europe, and the delay in a Federal declaration is interpreted as a tacit admission of inability to cope with the enemy.

It is a common remark that the fortification of New York should be at once attended to, and it is surprising that the danger of our city is more fully not appreciated.

Reformatory School. The Director of this Provincial Institution reports, in a communication to the Minister, that it is not sufficiently appreciated in the country. The number of pupils removed some time since from the Asylum to St. Vincent de Paul, to which, we believe, was formerly attached, amounts to 150 pupils. The number of pupils removed from 22 in January last to 49. The Government would accommodate 156, by increasing the room or salary of the teachers, the only additional expenses being food and raiment. Mr. Prieur reports that pupils who serve in the School are as a rule little benefitted, and not so soon come back by release. He recommends Judges to sentence young offenders to long terms as the most merciful preferable, not only in a moral, economical point of view. The culture to be apprenticed, within the day, to a trade; this generally takes place, then habits become more profitable, and he is thus made to pay for his expenses. Finally, when the School he is not only reformed but, able at once to obtain an comfortable livelihood. The reported happy; and, as an inherent excellent discipline they have it is stated that the fruit on trees day-ground have been left untouched.

 —Montreal Witness.

A State Affair.
 A recent execution of ten rebels in a retaliation for the murder of a soldier, caused under the authority of of that state, and not under the administration of the Federal Government. The contest, we regret to say, is of becoming in certain portions of remorseless and inhuman. Nothing defined by this, while a deal of mutual will be inflicted. We do hope that men of all the Border States, or circumstances naturally calculate to separate men to the utmost, will be the merciful character of the Christian, and shed no blood out of mere vengeance or wantonness. Remember," said, "Vengeance is mine, I!" Enough of blood has to be stern, and necessity to satisfy the motive; and it is far unmanly to side of Mercy than that of Venchild having lately died in the of Lirac (Gard), a deacon, delethe Presbyterial Council of the of Uses, went to the mayor, who to consent to the legitimate request made on him to have the the burial of the child in the Com-the Commune. The cure refused allow the corpse to enter the The mayor replied to the sub-Uses, who applied that the comein the hands of the mayor, and as for him to have the law duly ex-The mayor then declared that the the cemetery should be opened, but the cursed child must not be buried in served for persons who executed. Three were clapped in the stocks, and the the innocent child were obliged to a decision and inter the body in a ing to the sub-prelud of the arron-a protest against an act so evident-y to the principle of equality of in the eye of the law, to freedom his opinions, and the separation the spiritual and temporal powers, which no liberty can exist.—[Siccle.

with the necessity of washing the