

Canadian Forestry Journal

Vol. XIV.

JULY, 1918

No. 7

A Davis Raft (the invention of a British Columbian), containing five million feet of wood, successfully made an ocean journey from Puget Sound to Chile. A Davis raft, abandoned by its tug, was once sighted 2000 miles out in the Pacific and seemed quite unharmed by its experiences.