

Suffered For Years From Pain In The Back and Headache.

Pain in the back is one of the first signs showing that the kidneys are not in the condition they should be, and it should be attended to immediately for, if neglected, serious kidney troubles are likely to follow. There is no way of getting rid of the backache except through the kidneys, and no medicine so effective for this purpose as Doan's Kidney Pills.

Miss Ida J. Dorian, 28 Spring St., Charlottetown, P.E.I., writes:—"I have received most wonderful benefit from taking Doan's Kidney Pills.

"I suffered for years from headaches and pain in the back, and I consulted doctors and took every remedy obtainable but without any relief until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills. This was the only medicine that ever did me any real good, as after using several boxes I am now entirely free from all my dreadful headaches and backaches.

"I will always recommend your medicine to any of my friends who are troubled as I was."

Correspondence.

Women's Rights.

Longworth, Sask., July 3, 1910.

Sir.—My father is a subscriber to the W. H. M. and I always enjoy reading the correspondence page. Some of the letters are very sensible, while others are not. I think it is a very good way to get acquainted with the young people. I am not on the matrimonial list as I think one should be very careful in picking out a partner. I have been reading the letters very carefully and I think that "Archibald" is very foolish. He must think that a woman was made for a slave. I think that a woman ought to have her own spending money as well as a man. She works hard all day, and in lots of cases harder than some men do. I do not think it is a woman's place to feed the hogs or milk the cows and do such work all the time. Of course, it is all right if the men are away and no one else around. I would not think much of the women who wouldn't do it if the men happened to be away, but to make a practice of it, I do not believe in it. I am afraid that one dress a year for the kitchen would not last very long if she had all ing directed not only to amuse and instruct, but also to inspire and influence for good. I think we should all be proud of the country in which we live; a country that is renowned for its moral purity, and whose people are being applauded for the great fight they are waging against that Goliath, the Liquor Traffic. The depredations of liquor can be seen with striking effect in Old England to-day. Not only the noblest specimens of her manhood, but also the flower of her womanhood are being dragged to the very dust, and poverty and vice is everywhere apparent. Now is the time to crush the invader. Another thing which stands out strong in the Canadian life is the true religious tone of her people. Truly, Mr. Editor, we live in an elevating atmosphere. I realize that to the young man who is ambitious and willing to apply the necessary industry, Canada is truly a land of promise. I admire the western bachelor and think that he is deserving of much praise in his efforts to develop the country and make a home for himself, but I have a poor opinion of the homesteader whose views extend no the chores to do. Let me say, Mr. "Archibald," if you get a woman of the kind who will suit you, why, all right, but I think the girl who married you would be better off without you, for when single, she can go and do what she likes and handle her own purse.

"A Rose Bud."

We Appreciate Letters Like This One.

Pope, Manitoba, June 28, 1910.

Sir.—Please allow me, through the medium of your correspondence columns, to express my thanks for the great amount of pleasure derived from the perusal of your interesting publication, the Western Home Monthly. Some years ago, when I first landed upon the fair shores of Canada, I settled down among the good folk of Ontario, and it was there I first received an introduction to the pages of your valuable journal. I observed that the Monthly was exceedingly popular in the farm homes of the district in which I resided, and on making an effort to discover the reason, I found that its popularity was due firstly, to its being a true home journal, and secondly, to its efforts be-farther than the vivid imagination of a steaming hot meal, and the great convenience of having a dear wife to mend his socks. I do not think the lonely homesteader appreciates as much as he should the beauties of nature which surround him, and I would like to add also that loneliness can be considerably minimized by the perusal of a good book. On reading the severe criticism extended to "The Doctor" by "Canada Farmer," my countenance assumed a broad smile, and while I do not agree entirely with everything uttered by "The Doctor," yet it is a well known fact that a large majority of the professional men of our cities, including those lawyers of the city of Regina, have discarded the drudgery of the farmstead for the inviting and more remunerative life in the city. If there are any young ladies between the ages of 21 to 30 who would care to write to a young man of 22 summers, I shall be delighted to correspond. I might say that I admire ladies possessing a fair complexion and blue eyes, but prefer sound common sense to mere physical beauty. So, girls, hurry up and let's get acquainted. In conclusion, Mr. Editor, I wish the Western Home

Since John Quit Drinking

By John's Wife

I'm the happiest little woman,
In all this little town;
And my merry laugh and singing,
Takes the place of sigh and frown.
For JOHN HAS QUIT HIS DRINKING
And is like himself once more,
And the world is just a paradise
With such happiness in store!

One day I read some verses—
"Mary's Miracle," the name,
And I said, that's John exactly,
And I'll send and get the same.
So I sent for GOLDEN REMEDY,
(As sly as sly could be)
And I put it in John's supper
And I put it in his tea.

And it didn't taste a little bit;
Had no odor, so, you see—
It was smoothest kind of sailing
For little Doctor Me.
And I watched and prayed and waited,
(And cried some, too, I guess),
And I didn't have the greatest faith,
I'm ashamed now to confess.

And John never thought a minute,
He was being cured of drink,
And soon he's as well as any one,
It makes me cry to think!
Just makes me cry for gladness,
I'm so proud to be his wife—
Since he is cured of drinking,
And leads a nice, new life.

"Since John he quit a-drinking!"
I can't say it times enough!
And hates and loathes a liquor
As he would a poison stuff.
And when I say my prayers at night
As thankful as can be—
I pray for John the most of all—
Then GOLDEN REMEDY.
