Scraping

Because the fine particles of the Cleanser immediately loosen and remove the hardest "burnt in" food-crusts, which soap-powders and scouring-bricks may only wear off after long, hard scrubbing.

Rinse pot or pan in water; sprinkle on a little Cleanser and rub briskly with scouring brush. Wash and wipe dry. The cleanser removes all grease and "burn" (no tire-some scraping with a knife necessary), and leaves utensils "sweet" and clean.

Editor's Talk

DIFFERENCE of opinion is one of the real motives of journalism. Differences are not necessarily all contained in party politics. Two weeks ago Mr. Henri Bourassa enunciated his views regarding Imperial Federation. In this week's issue Mr. E. J. Kylie, Associate Professor of History in the University of Toronto, takes clear and decisive issue with Mr. Bourassa.

The waste of modern civilization seems to be worse than the ravages of nature. Civilized people justify themselves for wasting resources and human lives because nature, with all her profound economies is sometimes a tremendous waste. Dr. C. W. Saleeby is perhaps the best living authority on the conservation of human life and resources in the broadest sense. His article on "The Waste of Life," in this issue, is as well worth while and quite as interesting to read as Arnold Bennett's "How to Live on Twenty-Four Hours a Day."

The play season is just beginning. Mr. J. E. Webber, our New York correspondent, sends us a forecast of the season's offerings in that city, with luminous comments on the same. Some of these plays will be seen in Canada within a year or so.

Nor forgetting—that the issue of October 12 will be a Music Number.

The Education of Self

(Formerly Published as "Self-Control and How to Secure It")

By PROF. PAUL DUBOIS, M.D., Author of "The Psychic Treatment of Nervous Disorders," "The Influence of the Mind on the Body," etc.

(Translated from the French by Harry Hutcheson Boyd.)

This volume by this eminent specialist of Berne makes a valuable addition to the flood of light which Prof. Dubois has already shed upon the subject of self-control, and especially upon want of it as contributing to the production of nervous disorders as set forth in his "The Psychic Treatment of Nervous Disorders" and "The Influence of the Mind on the Body."

CONTENTS.

Introduction—The Conquest of Happiness—Thought—The Act—Conscience—Education—Moral Clear-Sightedness—Egoism and Altruism—Meditation—Tolerance—Indulgence—Humility—Moderation—Patience—Courage—Chastity—Sincerity—Kindness—Idealism.

"This is a philosophical and direct discussion as to what self-control may accomplish, and how it may be secured. He shows the influence of conscience, and how education develops conscience. He makes plain the necessity of moral clear-sightedness, and expounds the difference between mere egoism and so-called altruism. The book is certainly stimulating and helpful."
