Fertilizer

It is hard to make most of the farmers realize that there is a great possibility of them not being able to get what commercial fertilizer they will require this spring. But never the less it is an absolute fact and the wise farmer will take home his fertilizer soon. As if you wait till spring you may not be able to get any. As even now it is very hard to get what you want as transportation is so bad we have only a few more cars of Basic Slag to sell.

Russians Are Attacking Turks

Petrograd, July 5th. — The Turkish troops that were forced out of Panjwin, on the Mesopotamian front, by the Russian occupation reported yesterday, have retired to positions on heights west and south of the town where the Russians are attacking them, the War Office announced today.

A German airplane attack on the Russian aviation Base on the south end of the Island of Oesel, off the Gulf of Riga, was rendered futile by gunfire from Russian ships and land batteries, says an official announcement today.

The colors of the first detachment of the Petrograd women's regiment were blessed in the square of St. Isaac's Cathedral today. More than two hundred women with their hair closely cropped and in full uniform were present armed with rifles. Don Cossacks and sailors furnished a guard of honor.

Subsequently the women paraded through the Nevsky Prospect and other streets, carrying banners with the inscriptions: "Death is better than Shame," and "Women do not give your hands to traitors."

TO LET—large furnished room, on ground floor, suitable for two.

A CANADIAN'S CALL TO ALL CANADA

The following clarion call to arms is from the Toronto Globe the leading Liberal paper in Canada:

"It is an imperative and urgent necessity that steps be immediately taken to insure that sufficient drafts of officers and men are sent from Canada to keep the corps at its full strength."

"Imperative!" "Urgent!" "Necessity!" Immediately! "Officers and men!" Those ringing words, like the shattering explosive shells that cleared the way before his rushing men on the slopes of Vimy Ridge, come straight from the heart and brain and conscience of General Sir Arthur Currie to the hearts and brains and consciences of all other Canadians in every part of Canada. And they come today.

They are not the excited declaration of the extravagant rhetorician. Neither are they the calculated words of a professional militarist. The man who spoke them gives himself, the pride of his manhood and all there is in life for him, in pledge of their simple truth. In the back of his mind persists imperishably the peaceful scenes of his own Canadian boyhood's home.

When Arthur Currie wrote these words in Flanders last week he knew that, published in Canadian newspapers they would be read in the Currie family circle in West Middlesex, and by men and women who were his chums on the concession-lines and the cross-roads out from Strathroy twenty-five years ago.

For such a man, under such circumstances, there could be no playing to the galleries. In his cabled despatch to Sir Robert Borden, published yesterday, he said:

"I note with special gratification your assurance that the troops in the field can rely on Canada giving them all necessary support. They have given their blood freely to maintain nation's honor, and now confidently expect that the full fruits of their sacrifice will not be prejudiced."

And then follows his challenging appeal "that sufficient drafts of officers and men are sent from Canada."

That appeal must be heeded. It will not down. The man who speaks it is one of ourselves, bone of our bone, flesh of our flesh, blood of our blood. Not to answer, not to answer with the best the nation breeds, would be for Canadians treachery of the blackest shame. No matter what the men in Parliament may do about conscription and the selective draft, the rest of us throughout the country, with whom rests the honor of Canada as surely at it rests in Ottawa—we must with one strong and steady voice, with one stout and courageous shout, make answer: We come!

And, come we must, with whatever service we can render, with whatever sacrifice is ours to make—come we must! We dare not wait till next week, or next month or next year. We dare not postpone our decision until Parliament passes a conscription law. In the judgment hall of our own lives the eternal law of service in law now; and is law for us. We are conscripts. All we have of liberty, of material possessions, of life itself—it is all conscripted now, for the service of the world, in this supreme sacrifice for the rights of all humanity.

WHAT LONDON SAW

People Kept Their Heads And Went To Rescue of the Injured.

The aeroplanes were flying at a tremendous height, and when first sighted, a few minutes before 12 o'clock, were between 16000 and 17000 feet high.

The morning was beautifully clear, and although aircraft at that height are more often than not totally invisible, the German raiders were quite visible to the naked eye.

The first bomb was dropped in the vicinity of a newspaper office. Almost as soon as the detonation had started the people the guns of the anti-aircraft batteries blazed forth.

At first some difficulty was experienced in believing that the long promised daylight raid had at last come about. But there was no panic. The public behaved with exemplary coolness and courage.

No sooner did a bomb drop than an extemporised party of willing helpers set about succouring the wounded.

Followed by the white puff balls from the shells of the British anti-aircraft guns, the raiders pursued their nefarious way across the heart of the City, dropping bombs, with frightful regularity.

Oblivious of any danger to themselves, passers by stopped in the middle of the roads and took the chance of being run over rather than lose the opportunity of seeing the sight—if "sight" it should be called.

Although considerable damage, was any and explosive variety) which were dropped in the City, by far the greater damage was done to property and persons in the poorer parts attacked.

A district not far removed from the City, and another immediately eastward of the City, seem to have been more severely visited than any other part.

In one small area covering but a few hundred yards, more than a dozen bombs were dropped. Here, naturally, the casualties were very heavy indeed, both in actual lives lost and lighter casualties.

No sooner, however, had the murderers departed than these poor people taught for years the necessity of self-help, formed themselves into bands of mercy and, until the police arrived, performed miracles of rescue.

Dear Sirs—This Fall I got thrown on a fence and hurt my chest very badly, so I could not work and it hurt me to breathe. I tried all kinds of Liniments and they did me no good.

One bottle of MINARD'S LINIMENT, warmed on flannels and applied on my breast, cured me completely.

GREECE PREPARING TO SEND TROOPS INTO MACEDONIA

Venizelos Calls Army to Athens for Conference—How Relations Were Broken.

Athens, July 2—Premier Venizelos has invited the chiefs of the Greek army corps at Peloponnesus to come to Athens. Most of the officers have accepted the invitation, and are arriving in the capital. The premier will discuss with them the question of sending forces to Macedonia.

Vienna, via London—The rupture of diplomatic relations between Greece and Austria-Hungary was preceded by a statement which the Greek minister at Vienna handed the foreign office on Saturday. The statement reads:

"Now that unity has been restored between the two parties which have hitherto divided Greece into two camps and the Greek troops fighting on the Macedonian front, the government of Greece sees itself obliged to break off relations with Austro-Hungary."

The minister then asked for his passports. He said the Greek interests would be entrusted to the Dutch legation.

Germany Notified.

Amsterdam, July 2—According to the North German Gazette the Greek charge d'affaires at Berlin has handed the German government a statement notifying the foreign office that Greece felt herself obliged to break diplomatic relation with Germany.

PROPOSED NEW

INDUSTRY FOR HALIFAX

Mr. J. E. Chipchase, the Eastern manager for Hinde & Dauch Paper Co., of Canada, Ltd., manufacturers of corrugated and fibre containers, has been in the city for the past week interviewing the box users and gathering the box data, with the view to the further development of this industry in the Maritime Provinces.

This being Mr. Chipchase's first visit to Halifax he expresses himself as being delighted with the cordial reception he has met with from the business men of the city, and is much enthused with the possibilities of this industry here.

The corrugator and fibre box business in many shipping centres has reached very large proportions owing to the lumber situation not being as available to box conditions as it has been in these Provinces. The packing of various commodities is now most favorable to the corrugated and fibre box business, and will therefore liberate large quantities of lumber for more useful purposes.

Two American ladies, Miss Alice D. Seward, of Geneva, N.Y., and Miss Emily L. Tuckerman of New York City, hearing of the cordial welcome given to the returned men on their arrival at the Pier at Halifax by the Reception Committee, were desirous of doing something on their own account to help in this good work. They got up a sale of "Canadian War Cake" recipes, with the result that a cheque for the substantial amount of $100 was remitted by them to their friend, Mrs. Charles Archibald, Inglis Street, to be given to the Treasurer of the Fund. This kindly act is much appreciated by the Reception Committee, and it shows that their work in welcoming the men is recognized surely is a good thing for people abroad to know that our Canadian heroes are well treated when they land at the Port of Halifax—the Gateway of Canada.—Halifax Chronicle.

EAST ST. POUL, Ill., July 2—Riots tonight have resulted in great loss of life estimated at midnight at probably 250, virtually all negroes. The torch was applied to the negro settlement and the district is in flames.

Will Women Volunteer?

They may Serve, if they wish, in the Last Line of Trenches The Tilled Fields

Thousands of the men who used to do the farm work in Nova Scotia are now fighting overseas. Their places must be filled. Yet the required number of men is not forthcoming. There are more jobs than there are men available.

Therefore Women are Asked to Volunteer for this Work

We want the names and address of all women in this Province who are able to engage in a healthful open-air occupation. Applicants should state the date they can begin work and length of time they can spend on the farm. Wages according to ability, will be paid. We believe that the women of Nova Scotia will respond to the call of the land as promptly and as efficiently as did their sisters in the countries of our allies.

APPLY AT ONCE to either W. E. PORTER, Kentville; H. E. CALKIN, Wolfville; JOHN E. WOODWORTH, Berwick, Secretary FARM LABOR EXCHANGE, or to the SECRETARY OF INDUSTRIES and IMMIGRATION, HALIFAX.

STRAWBERRY PICKERS WANTED

ALL women, Boys and girls in KINGS County who are willing to help the strawberry growers during the picking season, are asked to send in their names at once to any of the following SECRETARIES OF FARM LABOR EXCHANGE :—

W. E. PORTER, Kentville; H. E. CALKIN, Wolfville; JOHN E. WOODWORTH, Berwick,

or to the SECRETARY OF INDUSTRIES, & IMMIGRATION HALIFAX
