The Death of Love.

I parted from my Love!
At once the skies grew murky
Red fingers flashed as tho' in heart-blood dipt;
The birds were mute, the flow'rs were stony-lipped,
The landscape freckled o'er a sickly green;
The waves rolled seaward with a troubled mien;
No sun to mirror on their darkling breast,
Only dun clouds in mocking vague unrest.

I parted from my Love!
O why should he
With dark and cruel eyes, so smile at me?
My voice was breaking, but he did not know
The pain that made it tremulous and low—
Would he might realize, only know in part,
The power and passion in a woman's heart.
He would not waver on the tuned strings
That vibrate to the harmony Love brings.

I parted from my Love!
And all the skies
Rocked in that chaos which dull Death implies.
The stars burned dimmer, or at white heat fell
From heaven, enchanted by a demon's spell.
I clutched at my white throat, 'Why was a hand,
Pressing it inward with a giant hand?
'My soul is warped,' I cried, 'It lies within a groove.'
'Sleep!' a calm voice replied, 'It is the Death of Love.'

OPERATION AVOIDED

When a physician tells a woman suffering with serious feminine trouble that an operation is necessary, the very thought of the knife and the operating table strikes terror to her heart, and our hospitals are full of women coming for just such operations.

There are cases where an operation is the only resource, but when one considers the great number of cases of menacing female troubles cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after physicians have advised operations, no woman should submit to one without first trying the Vegetable Compound and writing Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice, which is free. Miss Margaret Merkley, of 272 Third Street, Milwaukee, Wis., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham: "Loss of strength, extreme nervousness, shooting pains through the pelvic organs, bearing-down pains and cramps compelled me to seek medical advice. The doctor after making an examination said I had a female trouble and ulceration and advised an operation. To this I strongly objected and decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The ulceration quickly healed, all the bad symptoms disappeared and I am once more strong, vigorous and well."
Female troubles are steadily on the increase among women. If the monthly periods are very painful, or too frequent and excessive—if you have pain or swelling low down in the left side, bearing-down pains, don't neglect yourself; try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

BEST MEDICINE IN THE WORLD AND DIARRHOEA

"I find Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to be the best remedy in the world," says Mr. C. L. Carter of Skirum, Ala. "I am subject to colic and diarrhoea. Last spring it seemed as though I would die, and I would if I had not taken Chamberlain's colic cholera and diarrhoea Remedy. I haven't been troubled since, until this week, when I had a very severe attack, and took a bottle of twenty-five cents size Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and this morning I feel like a new man." For sale by all Druggists.
