M. JANIE Sederquist gives a remarkably lucid solution of that temperance problem, and we are pleased to publish her letter in the children's column. We hope she will favor us with another letter at an early date.

WOLVES IN RESTIGOUCHE.—A pack of thirteen wolves passed over Port Logan Lake last Friday, in full chase after three caribou, which were then about tired out, judging from their straggling leaps. 'Tis almost twelve years since they were in this locality in large numbers. A few hours before the pack crossed the lake, three young fellows from town were fishing on it, and had they remained, would surely have been torn to pieces. The lake we write of is about twenty miles from town, and good fishing there draws parties occasionally from town.—Campbell on Pioneer.

NIXON Notes.

There is not much going on here at present as there appears to be a lull in business.

Babang & Steeves, lumbermen, have erected a camp by the river and are making preparations for stream driving as soon as there is sufficient water for their purpose.

We have a school taught by a Miss Wilson from Kings Co. Albert County teachers must either be getting scarce or else the people prefer to get their teaching from other countries the same as they do some of the members to represent them in the House of Assembly at Fredericton. Come young men and maidens this will never do. You must have more ambition and strive to do the work required in the county yourselves. There are just as good teachers in Albert Co. as are to be found anywhere. We also have been just as capable of representing us at Fredericton as Westmorland county has and we should use the home-made instead of the imported article.

Our women are very busy now mending their old garments and converting them into new ones.

Mrs. Geo. Wilson of this place is spending a few weeks with her son at Sydon, A. Co.

Philip Brown, of this place, who had his house burned by forest fires last Spring has another one dwelling up in which he lived during the Winter. He now has George Wortm. finishing the inside of the building.

ACCIDENTS.—Dau Stuart, of Moncton, who has been working at this place a short time, cut his face very badly on the 9th inst., and now has to use crutches. Lillian Oliver of this place also cut her foot on the 9th inst.

Ella Wilson was yesterday convicted of violation of the Canada Temperance Act, and fined fifty dollars, or in default of payment is to spend a term of seventy days in the common jail.

Mary Ann Brown's case has been postponed till Monday next.

Scott Wilson's trial is to take place the eighth of May. F. A. McCall, the County Inspector, is the prosecutor and conducts the case before George Chapman, J. P. Mr. Thomas is employed by the liquor party to defend their interests. It seems a pity that a man like Mr. Thomas should sell himself to defend such dirty work. We intend to drive the traffic out of the village if we have to exercise the patience and perseverance of the saints.

Temperance Arithmetic.

I am eleven years old, am a native of Hampton, Kings County. I came here last November. Since then I have been attending the Superior School here and have also been a reader of THE OBSERVER. I have worked the "Temperance Arithmetic" question you gave last week and you my solution for publication. The question reads:—If a man drinks half a pint of liquor every day, how many gallons will he drink in 50 years and how much will it amount to at 10 cts. per quart?

In 50 years there will be 12 Leap Years and 38 Common Years. In the 12 Leap Years he would drink 12 times 366 = 4392 days, and in the 38 Common Years there would be 38 times 365 days or 13870 days. Now 13870 days plus 4392 days make 18262 days in 50 years. If a man drinks half a pint a day he would drink in 50 years: 18262 or, 9131 pints, or 4565½ quarts, these at 10 cents per quart is equal to $456.55. But 4565½ quarts is equal to 1141½ gallons. If I am right he would drink 1141½ gallons in a year and it would cost him $456.55.

Yours truly M. JANIE SEDERQUIST. Elgin A. Co. April 6, 1889.

The Drunkard's Child.

I had a home, a happy home, With peace and plenty bright, Where love and sweet contentment reigned— A haven of joy and rest. But oh! it did not always last, There came a woe-filled day, A serpent drank found entrance there And stole our peace away.

I had a mother in those days And young and fair was she; To-night alone I walk the street With none to care for me. I knew a father's tender love— A father's watchful care; How shall I spend the future years And see his face no more?

My father, how I worshipped him! He was my joy and pride; The happiest hours I ever knew Were spent when by his side. Of all the love that filled my heart The best to him I gave, But oh! that father sleeps to-night Under a drunkard's grave.

I wept not when my mother died, Though she was good and kind, And oh! how I loved the crippled boy She had to leave behind. For oh, I knew that she was safe Upon the golden shore, Where cold and hunger, grief and pain Would trouble her no more.

I wept not when I left my home, Though bitter was the pain, To think those dear familiar rooms Would not be home again. For still one hope was left to me— My father I might save, But oh! that hope is gone to-night— He fills a drunkard's grave.

I know I have another home, Not built by hands of clay, Which he who sold my father drink Can never take away. For on a drunken mill like me The Saviour died to save, But can that love avail for one Who fills a drunkard's grave?

I know the words in God's own Book, I've read them o'er and o'er, Which say no drunkard's feet can tread Upon the heavenly shore. My stricken heart can know no rest 'Till Jesus in my arms I see, For him I loved the best on earth Lies in a drunkard's grave.

This side of Jordan's wave, For him I loved the best on earth Lies in a drunkard's grave.—Lena in Wolfville Acadian.

It was Freddy's first experience with soda water. Drinking it down eagerly, he was aware of a tingling sensation in his nostrils. "How do you like it?" asked his mother, who had stood near. He wrinkled up his nose as he replied: "It tastes like your foot was asleep."

A DIFFERENT VIEW.—Small Boy (to his big sister)—Edith, do you know why I think you are like a cat that has fallen into a hog-puddle of misdeeds? Edith.—Because I'm sweet.

Small Boy.—No, because you're so stuck up!

MOTHER to Bobby, who has just pronounced his prayers.—Why, Bobby, you forgot to pray for papa.

Bobby.—Why, so I did, and he needs no more, doesn't he now?

Catarh, Catarhal Deafness, Hay Fever.

A New Home Treatment.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and catarrhal tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result is that a simple remedy has been devised whereby catarh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever are permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made at home by the patient once or twice a week. N. B.—For catarrhal discharges peculiar to the eyes (rhinitis) this remedy is specific. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent on receipt of ten cents by A. H. DIXON & SON, 303 W. King St., Toronto, Canada.—Scientific American. It Sufferers from catarrhal troubles should carefully read the above.

HOSPITAL REMEDIES.

What are they? The growth of intelligent men in medical matters has given rise to a demand for a class of genuine, reliable medicine. The opportunity of the ignorant quack, who grow rich curing everything out of a single bottle has passed. To supply this demand this list of remedies has been created. They are the favorite prescriptions of the most famous medical practitioners of the day, gathered from the Charities of London, Paris, Berlin and Vienna. Prescriptions which cost the patients of these specialists from $25 to $100 are here offered prepared and ready for use at the nominal price of one dollar each. Not one of them is a cure all; each one has only the reasonable power of curing a single disease and each one keeps its contract. Sufferers from Catarrh, Dissolved Lungs, Bronchitis, Asthma, Consumption, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Liver and Kidney Complaints, Fever and Ague, Neuralgia, Female Weakness, Leucorrhoea or Nervous Debility should send for descriptive catalogue to Hospital Remedy Co., 303 W. King St., Toronto, Canada. If your druggist does not keep these remedies remit order and we will send direct.
