necessary, and the people of Canada would be free from bardens of every kind, presenting to the world the espectacle of a people paying ac taxes, possessed of the very best system of government, the whole expense of which being defreyed by tolls collected on their public works. We may be thought to be sangulae, but we, nevertheless, think that it will be rather difficult to prove that we are incorrect. Besides the very great benefits which, as we have shewn, would accrue to this country from having free trade and direct taxenion, there are many others, to soly one or two of which we will now alleds. Prominent among the advantages to be reaped by Canada, from direct taxaties and thrawing opes her ports and inviting the world to visit her and irade with her, are the example in liberality which she would be expended in the country by the numerous traders that would visit her ports, the very great tencouragement which free trade would give to manufactures, the inducement which would be then held out to immigrants, and the support which would then be given to the cause of promanufactures, the inducement which would be then held out to immigrants, and the support which would then be given to the cause of progress and reform, by proving reform principles, free trade among the rest, to be the only correct principles, and by leading the people, we an paying a direct tax, to enquire more particula into the manner in which their money is expended. Want of space compels us to conclude these remarks rather abruptly, but the subject is a good one, and we will ere long revert to it.

We cannot but agree with those of our cotemporaries, who complain of the absence of information as to the measures intended of information as to the measures are to be proposed by the Government, at the approaching assembling of the Legislature. We have no sympathy with those who would invade the secrecy of the Cabinet; but we think that a timely erpose of leading measures, the people have a right to expect, and that it would be most beneficial in its results. We have good reason to believe, that some recent and unpleasant events might and would have been prevented by such a course; and we furthermore think, that if other similar occurrences are to be prevented, it must be by putting the people in possession of the course intended by the Ministry, on some of the great questions at issue. Hasty legislation will be prevented, and public confidence maintained by this to be proposed by the Government, at the and public confidence maintained by this course. If the Ministry be in a position to concede or carry through the measures de-manded by a large majority of the people, why not say so? If otherwise, why not why not say so? If otherwise, why not say so? Let the people know, by all means, what are the difficulties in the way, whether they originate in a divided Cabinet, or in any other cause. Precipitancy on the or in any other cause. Precipitancy on the part of people should be avoided, as should also tedieus procrastination, or unnecessary reserve, on the part of the Ministry.

The division now existing in the ranks of the iteform party should never have ensued, the iteform party should never have ensued, and most certainly would not, had there teen more candor and less selfishness—more patriotiem and less passion. Some mints have been given as to a coalition between the Reform and Tory parties; that is to say, between a few leading men of both parties. That portion of the Reform party proposing or acceding to any such movement would very soon find its level, and that would be so low as to be beneath conthat would be so low as to be beneath con-tempt. Public confidence would never be extended to such an unprincipled amalgama-

FIRE IN WOODSTOCK.

A fire broke out, on Tuesday night last, doubtless bou about 7 o'clock, in a range of wooden build-investment. nings in west Woodstock, comprising two Blacksmith's Shops, and two Waggon shops, eccupied by Messrs. Murray and Frazer. The night was calm, but the progress of the flames was so rapid that all efforts to save either of the buildings, were considered as the same was so for the same was efforts to save either of the buildings, were entirely unavailing. The Fire companies and Hook and ladder company were at the scene of conflagration in good time, and effectually proved their efficiency and good discipline. They at once saw that, any attempt to save the buildings above mentioned was hopeless, consequently they turned their attention to Bickle's Hotel and the adjoining buildings, which were only separated from the house, which were only separated from the house, which were only separated from the house, was or rapid that all appears to be dead on the West branch of the Holland river on Sunday afternoon by two Institutes. This desirable object leeward of the fire. This desirable object was effected, with hard work, and a good deal of personal risk. When the destruction of the Hotel was most apparent and when water was most wanted it was an nounced to the officers of Fire Company No. 1 that two persons in the vicinity of the fire had refused to allow a drop of water to be taken from their wells! It is hard to believe that this world can produce persons so heartlessly selfish, yet we believe the statement to be true, and we know that it has created a feeling in Woodstock which will not be allayed for some time. We hope the gentlemen alluded to will be able to offer some excuse for their conduct on that occassion.

Mr. Fraser saved all his tools, waggons, and the greater part of his stock in trade. He was insured to the amount of £100, in some of the American Companies, part on the tools and part on the building. Loss shout £160.

Bickle's Hotel was completely gutted and the proprietor sustained a great deal of damage in the breaking of his furniture, &c. Another fire broke out on the following day, in the house occupied by Mr. Douglass, owing to a defect in the Chimney. Fortunately it was discovered in good time, and was extinguished before it had time to extend further than the roof, which was a good deal damaged.—British American.

JOHN STRACHAN.

DANIEL HOME LIZARS. Goderich, 2nd January. 1850. 2v-1149

GODERIC 4, 11th February, 1850. TO THE TOWN REEVES OF THE UNITED COUNTIES OF HURON, PERTH AND BRUCE.

GENTLEMEN, I have the honor to intimate my intention of ecoming a Candidate for the Office of County Clerk, now vacant by the lamented death of Mr.

Clerk, now vacant by the lamented death of Mr.
Don, and should I be so fortunate as to be elected, I shall cheerfully undertake to perform the duties of the office; together with the nanagement of the Assessments and Collector's Rolis for an annual salary of £50.

I would at the same time beg to call your notice to the experience I have gained during the last eight years in conducting the Rates and Taxes: and that the business of the County Council is not unknown to me, having success-Taxes; and that the business of the County Council is not unknown to me, having success-

Council is not unknown to me, having successfully organized the mode of action adopted by the District Council at its first sitting in February 1842, in my then capacity of Acting District Clerk, which I believe has not been swerved from in the subsequent conducting of the affairs of the Council.

Moreover, as the Members of the County Council are now Justices of the Peace et officio. I should humbly conceive it to be an advantage to combine the duties of the County Clerk with those of the Clerk of the Peace under one officer as a matter both of economy and conveniency.

I have the honor to be,
Gentlemen,
Your very obedient servant.

Gentlemen, Your very obedient servant, DAN. LIZARS.

with which in such a generous spirit, he now comes forward.

It is no uncommon thing in England for the Chancellor of the Exchequer to receive large sums of money from anonymous individuals, who stricken by a latent sense of some injustice on their part, pay up what they consider to be due by them to the country, and these sums are called "conscience monies." May we not expect to see in the next statement of the county Treasurer a large sum to the credit of the United countias, paid in by the conscience stricken clerk of the Peace.

In conclusion, I beg to submit that where there are efficient persons, willing to fulfil the duties of an office creditably to themselves, satisfactorily to the public, and at a moderate remuneration, there can be no justice in overloading any one person with official duties, and that I hope to prove that I am an efficient county officer, and shall endeavor to secure your confirmation on the above grounds.

I have the honor to be, Gentlemen, Your faithful servant.

ALFRED W. OTTER.
