The lecture, in elqouent terms, described Babylou, the city of the great Nebuchadnezzar, with its walls of im-mense height and thickness, its gorgeous palaces, its wonderful hanging gardensa city unsurpassed in ancient or modern times for its grandeur and strength. don't want any of it in our lemonade next summer. The cold weather of last week has convinced most of us that wroter h prophecy is beautifully seen in this con-nection, the name of its conqueror Cyrus, and the way in which the city should be taken being given by Isaiah about 170 years before the event. See Isaiah xliv:27-28, and xlv:1. Cyrus see-ing that the city was too strong to be taken by assault, dug a new channel for the river Euphrates, which ran through the city, and while the Babylonians were indulging in a drunken revel, marched in on the dry bed, finding the river gates open as had been predicted. Mr Mauly concluded his remarks by an earnest appeal for the Bible Society, which he showed to be an indispensable help to our missionary societies, in producing new translations of the Scriptures, and in furnishing copies of the
