President Taft Hissed

When He Confessed His Convictions at Woman's Suffrage Meeting—Sounded as Though a Valve of a Steam Engine Had Broken.

Washington, April 14.—The President of the United States, the first chief executive of the nation ever to greet a convention of women suffragists, braved the danger to-night by facing an army of women who want the ballot, had the courage to confess his opinion, and was hissed. So great was the throng that sought admission to the hall that hundreds were turned away.

President Taft was welcoming to Washington the delegates to the Convention of the National American Women's Suffrage Association. He had frankly told them that he was not altogether in sympathy with the suffragist movement, and was explaining why he could not subscribe fully to its principles. He said he thought one of the dangers in suffrage for women was that women, as a whole, were not interested in it, and that the power of the ballot, as far as women are concerned, would be controlled by the "less desirable class."

When these words fell from the President's lips, the walls of the convention hall echoed a chorus of feminine hisses. It was no feeble demonstration of protest. The combined hisses sounded as if a valve on a steam engine had broken.

President Taft stood unmoved on the platform during the demonstration of hostility—for the hissing continued but a moment—and then smilingly answered the unfavorable greeting with this retort: "Now, my dear ladies, you must show yourselves capable of suffrage by exercising that degree of restraint which is necessary in the conduct of government affairs by not hissing."

The women who had hissed were rebuked.

10 Tramps Killed

Several of the injured and all of the dead were tramps, about twenty of whom boarded the train at Pasco. Their bodies have been recovered and seven injured are in the hospital.

AT WORK IN 3 WEEKS

$4 Worth of Father Morrissey's "No. 7" Cured Her of Inflammatory Rheumatism.

Mrs. Agnes Edgar, of Grand Falls, N.B., had a terrible time with Inflammatory Rheumatism. Anyone who has had this most painful disease will understand her suffering—and her joy when she found Father Morrissey's "No. 7" had cured her. She says:

"I took Father Morrissey's Prescription for Inflammatory Rheumatism. I had suffered everything with it, but in three weeks after starting Father Morrissey's Prescription I was able to do my work, and after taking four dollars worth of medicine I was well. I highly recommend it any sufferer with Rheumatism."

Rheumatism comes from bad kidneys. The poisonous Uric Acid which they should remove stays in the blood, accumulates in joints and muscles, and causes agony. Father Morrissey's "No. 7" puts the kidneys right, removes the Uric Acid from the blood and the whole system, and cures the Rheumatism. A box at your dealer's, or from Father Morrissey Medicine Co. Ltd., Clatham, N.B.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

she showed me a beautiful silver bag, a birthday gift from her fiancée.

If Phillip some day should steal from his employer I think the girl who allowed and even desired him to give her presents which she "really didn't see how he could afford" would certainly be a partner—seems to me a senior partner—in the crime.

George Coleman, the young Massachusetts bank clerk, who was arrested, charged with looting the Cambridge National Bank of $180,000, had been working for several years on a salary of about $12 a week. During that time he was engaged for several years and in the course of his engagement gave the girl besides beautiful presents of all sorts, four or five diamond rings, a diamond locket and several similarly magnificent presents.

It seems to me that girl is almost as guilty morally as George Coleman. Any girl who knows a man well enough to accept anything from him more personal and expensive than books, flowers or candy, ought to know him well enough to have a pretty good idea of what his financial resources are.

And no girl who knows what a man's financial resources are ought to be pleased when he gives her things or does things for her that she knows cost more than he ought to afford.

The cases in which such extra-gance results in dishonesty, of course I realize, are one in ten thousand but that one must be someone's, and no girl ought to risk its being hers.

And then, too, dishonesty is not the only bad result of foolishly extravagant gift giving.

In a report by a committee which had been investigating the methods of salary loan sharks, the fact is stated that many young men get into the clutches of these abominable creatures by borrowing to make some extravagant Christmas presents.

The interest on such loans is very high. Two young men have told me of paying, one double, the other treble, the original amount in interest before the loan was repaid.

Accepting extravagant entertaining is as bad as allowing extravagant gifts.

Dinner for two at a first-class restaurant, theatre tickets for two and a big bunch of violets for one man the major part of a ten dollar bill gone and no girl ought to accept such entertaining from a man earning an average salary more than once or twice in a season.

There are so many simple inexpensive diversions that give just as much pleasure. For the winter there's snowshoeing, skating and coasting and for the summer, canoeing, and all-day tramp, punctuated by a dainty lunch for two, can be made fun winter or summer.

The man who continually accepts a girl's hospitality without ever entertaining her or doing anything for her, certainly earns the title of "freelance companion," and is certainly one kind of pest.

But the girl who actually hints for and eagerly accepts expensive presents and entertainments from a man she knows can't afford them, is a worse kind of pest and might be called "freelance destroyer."

HOUSEHOLD NOTES.

The easiest way to clean parlor picture frames is to use a small paint brush.

Borax added to the wash water brightens the china and glassware and cleans the silver.

Kid slippers, belts, gloves and purses are best cleaned by rubbing gently downward with dry bread.

The juice of a lemon makes an excellent gargle for sore throat but should not be swallowed.

Saturate grass stains on children's pinafores, etc., in paraffin before putting in the wash tub.

To prevent a flaring gas flame, remove the tip, put in a small pellet of cotton and replace the tip.

Shake talcum powder well into your fur before putting it away; this helps to retain the gloss of the fur.

Furniture washed with Castile soap and tepid water and rubbed with a piece of old silk will look like new.

A dainty garniture for sweet dishes is maraschino cherries, stuffed with pecan nuts, chopped rather coarsely.

Wood ashes of the finest kind and free from all particles that would scratch make an excellent polish for tinware.

False hair when not being worn should not be exposed to the light since light absorbs the dressing unnecessarily.

Nickle and silver articles may be kept bright by rubbing them with a woollen cloth saturated with ammonia. The very short sash curtain is growing more popular for residences, though it was at first used only for physicians' offices.

A simple way to separate eggs is to break them gently into a small funnel. The whites will pass through and the yolks remain.

To take the soreness out of a soft, painful corn, try binding it up each night with baking soda, moistened with a little water.

A spoonful of sugar added to the water for basting roast beef will give it a rich brown color as well as a fine flavor.

Add a teaspoonful of sugar of lead to the water in which fine silk hosiery is washed and prevent the colors from fading.

For afternoon tea toast seems to be better liked than almost anything else. It is thin and cut in round or diamond shape patterns.

If your soup is found too salty, add a few slices of raw potatoes and cook a little longer. The potato will absorb the surplus salt.

It will save time if a frying pan or griddle is wiped with a piece of old newspaper to remove the surplus grease before it is washed.

Some people like the unsweetened juice of a pineapple added to mayonnaise, especially when the mayonnaise is used on a fruit salad.

The oldest was 15. They told the same story—they had been lured to a moving picture show, where candy or other cheap presents were given them, and then they were taken to a house maintained as headquarters by the band.

HORSE BOLTED!

Man and Wife Thrown Out.

Both were picked up and found to be suffering, as might be expected, from fright and shock.

Thousands of men and women will find the experience of Mr. and Mrs. Chris D. Norton correspond to some shock they experienced, perhaps years ago, and which was the primary cause of a long sickness that clung to them month after month.

We quote Mrs. Norton's statement: "My husband has always taken pride in driving spirited horses. About two years ago we were in Buffalo just after a fall of snow. The railway engineer came along, and our team bolted, out on the pavement. My doctor explained the great weakness, palpitation and loss of color was due to shock. He told me that fire, accidents, sudden death of a friend, etc., influence unfavorably the health of many, and only the most persistent treatment can overcome the deadly effects of the shock. I did not when I began to take Ferrozone, expect it would act so quickly upon my nerves and blood. My family were delighted to see increasing signs of returning health. This induced me to continue to use Ferrozone—two tablets with every meal. I am now well, and you wouldn't believe the good Ferrozone has done me."

Dated Niagara Falls, September 1st. If you need nerve and blood tone, Ferrozone is your remedy; try it. Fifty cents a box, six for $2.50, at all dealers, or The Catarthzone Co., Kingston, Canada.

Rowdism Among Girls Has a Terrible Ending.

Bridgeport, Conn., April 10.—Lorraine Clark, 14 years old, a member of the freshman class of the local High School, is under treatment at a sanatorium in Brattleboro, Vt., suffering from the effects of her initiation on February 8 last in one of the school secret societies. According to the girl's story, she was made to drink on the night of the initiation a concoction, one of the ingredients of which was kerosene, and later made to eat macaroni which had been boiled in soap. After undergoing that treatment, her condition is believed to be serious.

A few days after the initiation she began to feel the ill-effects of what she had eaten, but said nothing until some time in March, when she grew worse and was taken by her father, Mr. F. C. Clark, a member of the State Legislature, to Brattleboro for treatment. Her conditions is believed to be serious.

The officials of the school refuse to make a statement concerning the matter, but it is understood that the board of education will make an investigation.

Four Men Killed and Others Missing.

St. Alphonse de Saguenay, Que., April 15.—Four killed and one badly wounded, and perhaps several others yet to be dragged from the debris, constitutes the result of a terrible explosion which took place three miles from this village at a place called Bagotville Falls. The railway now being constructed to Ha Ha Bay employs many men, and an explosion of dynamite at a cutting caused the displacement of 75,000 yards of earth, which slid from its position on the side of the mountain as the effect of its discharge.

Stanislas Gagne, civil engineer, graduate of the University of Toronto, and formerly of the Niagara Electric Company, is amongst the victims, and whose loss will be severely felt here. Four bodies have also been taken from the debris, and it is supposed that one other and perhaps more are still buried beneath the frozen earth, which slid from the side of the mountain taking five small houses in its march.

Two of the dead are named O'Brien and William Patterson, and the other two are Swedes.

Biggest Raid on Dealers

In White Slaves Ever Made in New York.

New York, April 13.—With the arraignment of six men in a Brooklyn police court to-day, and the announcement that warrants were out for 20 others, the Brooklyn police declared that one of the biggest raids on dealers in "White Slaves" ever made in New York was in progress. Eight girls were in court to testify against the prisoners. One of them was only 9 years old.

The oldest was 15. They told the same story—they had been lured to a moving picture show, where candy or other cheap presents were given them, and then they were taken to a house maintained as headquarters by the band.

Langford Won Again.

Ben Lomond, Cal., April 15.—Sata Langford, of Weymouth, N.S., again defeated Jim Barry yesterday, knocking him out in the 14th round of what was to be a 20 round bout at Los Angeles, Cal. Barry made a record for gameness.

From the 11th Langford ended at will. Barry surprised the crowd with the strength he displayed, despite the punishment he suffered, and made a rally in the fifteenth.

Barry's weight was given at 196, and that of Langford at 166. Barry was by far the stronger of the two, and he was cautioned by the referee several times for rough tactics at close range. The pugilists went at one another savage at the sound of the bell. Both men were bleeding at the mouth at the close of the second round. In a clinch near the end of the third round Barry almost threw Langford through the ropes. From then until the eighth the bout was a mixture of slugging, rallies and fighting. Barry used the negro roughly in the clinches, and underwent severe punishment whenever they fought at long range.

Langford showed the utmost good nature. "Stop your tickling," he admonished during a clinch; "you can't win that way."

In the tenth the negro suddenly threw the white man against the ropes, and catching him on the rebound landed heavily flush on the jaw. Barry dropped for the count of nine. Barry's left eye, cut open early in the fight, was almost closed by that time, and his cheeks were puffed. Blood flowed in streams from his nose and mouth.

The last four rounds were marked by a succession of punching matches. It was during one of these hard rushes in the sixteenth that Langford caught his almost exhausted opponent a straight left on the chin and ended the fight.

For Jackman the Tailor

Two men and two girls arrived by the Mongolian from Scotland yesterday to Jackman the Tailor, who is now extending his clothing and outfitting trade to the store lately occupied by Bishop & Monroe as a grocery.

Four bodies have also been taken from the debris, and it is supposed that one other and perhaps more are still buried beneath the frozen earth, which slid from the side of the mountain taking five small houses in its march.

Two of the dead are named O'Brien and William Patterson, and the other two are Swedes.

"Nothing seemed to build up my nerves until I made use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. After having used about $12.00 worth of this medicine I feel like a new man. I can walk all right, do a great deal of work, have a good appetite and sleep well every night."

Bishop Cameron's Funeral.

Archbishop McCarthy Officiates at Requiem High Mass.

Antigonish, N.S., April 13.—Bishop Cameron's funeral services commenced at nine o'clock this morning with Requiem High Mass, Archbishop McCarthy, of Halifax, officiating. The Cathedral was tastefully draped in mourning, a canopy of purple overtopping the body of the deceased Prelate. The Sanctuary was filled with visiting Prelates and clergy as well as a portion of the church which was reserved for them. The large edifice was filled to overflowing, yet hundreds were unable to gain admission. On no previous occasion was there so many strangers in Antigonish, many of them distinguished in Church and State, all present to pay their respect to the late churchman.

The town was unable to give fitting accommodation to the large number, notwithstanding the townspeople had kindly thrown their homes open to the strangers. Archbishop Bruchesi, of Montreal, preached the funeral sermon, taking as his text, "Now the just man liveth by faith," Hebrew x ch., 38 v. The funeral cortege formed at the Cathedral and was an imposing sight as it wended its way to St. Ninian's Cemetery, where interment took place. The several Catholic societies in the various parishes of the diocese were represented and all combined to form a numerous body-guard.

Schooners From South

Yesterday afternoon quite a number of schooners from western ports entered the harbor. They had quite a time of it coming down the shore. The wind came up from the N.E. with thick snow before most of them rounded Cape Spear. An Odeon boat had her sails badly torn in the gale which blew while off the Cape and had to be in under a piece of mainsail and a reefed jib. Another schooner had her jibboom carried away and anchored under the Southern Head.

Notes From Harbor Grace.

Mr. John G. Munn left by carriage on Thursday evening on a business

Mr. Norman Munn goes to St. John's to Green's Harbor, Trinity Bay. John's by to-day's train.

Miss McRae was very sick last week and was attended by Dr. Allan. Her place as organist of St. Andrew's Church was filled yesterday by Mrs. A. G. Munn.

The supplying of stone to be used in the new public building caused quite a rush last week, and many people were thus enabled to earn a few dollars—20 cents per barrel for broken stone was the price paid.

Several young men returned from Sydney by Saturday's express. Others will be returning every week. These are young men who have faith in the fisheries and are returning to engage in that work.

We were surprised on visiting one of our cemeteries a few days ago to see some little white flowers in bloom. Although not even the hardy grass roots had begun to spring, still these pretty little flowers were marking a not forgotten plot—the grave of one remembered by many in St. John's—the late Charles Hutchings.

The many friends of Mr. Frank Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orestes Davis of Woodville Road, will be glad to hear that he is fast rising to a good position in the Bank of Nova Scotia. For some time he was working in the Bank's branch at New Brunswick, and was about leaving to spend Easter at home when he received word to go to Toronto to take a position in the Bank there. Frank was always a general favorite, and no doubt his steady ways and strict attention to business is telling with the big company. We wish Frank a continuation of his success and congratulate him and his parents as well.

CORRESPONDENT. Harbor Grace, April 18, '10.
