THE NICKEL.

An All Star Feature
Holiday Bill.
Wednesday and Thursday.

The Pathe American Players, presenting
A WESTERN MEMORY.

A Poem in Pictures.
"While the golden orb sinks
slowly,
Sinks slowly in the West;
I'll be waiting, waiting, waiting
For the one I love the best."
Beautiful in conception, theme and execution, this Idyll of the Western States is without question one of the finest subjects of its kind ever shown at the Nickel. The poetic nature of the picture is brought out touchingly amidst some of the most picturesque rugged setting of the West.
Its human appeal can only be appreciated by seeing it.

The Little Cripple.
An interesting little story of modern incidents, which gives a considerable insight into the daily life of New York Institution, for injured children.

A powerful Drama of the Western Frontiers.
The Backwoodsman's Suspicion.

The tale of a great wrong.
This is a very vivid virile study of character. A capital film of its kind—full of action, life and dramatic interest—the emotional adventurous. The dashing chase across country is most thrilling and gripping.
