RUTH CAMERON

There are a great many ways a wife can help her husband.
"I think his wife is partly to blame," said the Authorman.
"How can you say that?" said the Authorman's wife, "why she works terribly hard and she is so economical!"

man who has never since her marriage had to do any hard work, and yet she did one of the bravest things a wife can do.
The result was that, he was not disturbed or made anxious, he could do his work properly and the money came in. Another woman might have been able to pinch the pennies but she might not have been able to have that courage and faith and appearance of serenity which made his success possible.

No, This Doesn't Mean You

There are women who need this lesson and there are women who emphatically don't. I hope the wrong ones won't take it to themselves.
Lachute, Que., Sept. 1908.
Gentlemen. — Ever since coming home from the Boer War I have been bothered with running fever sores on my legs. I tried many salves and liniments; also doctored continuously for the blood, but got no permanent relief, till last winter when my mother got me to try MINARD'S LINIMENT. The effect of which was almost magical. Two bottles completely cured me and I have worked every working day since.

Yours gratefully,
JOHN WALSH.

A Very Brave Thing to Do

Milady's Boudoir

TRAVELLING NECESSARIES.

Travelling is the bugaboo of the average woman. She is uncomfortable in the cars, her personal appearance suffers from the journey and all in all she dislikes the preliminaries of a journey.

Of course she would not think of travelling without a jar of cold cream. By rubbing a tiny dab of cream into her cheeks and powdering them over she can protect her complexion during the ride.

At night if she is obliged to continue her journey, before retiring it is well for Milady to wash her face in quantities of cold cream, instead of the hard gritty water found on the trains.

It is really the hair that makes women look untidy when travelling. Leaning against the back of the seats rubs loose all the short hairs and even the prettiest of women look unattractive when their hair is hanging about in deflected strands. The careful woman carries with her several large nets and wears one every day fitting it over the low coils at the back of the neck so that no loose hairs can escape.

The dust and clanders which get into the hair when travelling are very injurious to the hair, and it is needless to caution Milady to shampoo her head as soon as she reaches her destination.

TRUE OPTIMISM.

WALT MASON

I had a brand new suit of rags—the sort of which a fellow brags—the smoothest on this hemisphere; they cost the savings of a year.
The rain came slopping down. The lightning flashed, the thunder yelled, no sign of shelter I beheld, and dripping water like a load, I tolled along the muddy road.
It's bound to save the crops of spuds; the meadows will be loosened now, so husbandmen may wield the plow; the pastures, that were burning brown, will drink this water coming down, and grass will grow to beat Sam Hill, and hungry cows will have their fill. The suit I wears looks rather punk; the color's run, the stuff has shrunk; but who would mourn his hand-me-downs, when all the thirsty country drowns, in cool, uplifting, wholesome rain, in water that is safe and sane? My rags are spoiled; I'll get some more, if I can work the Blue Front Store."

Household Notes.

Every back yard should have its little patch of okra for drying. Pumpkins can be getting in strips if they show signs of rotting.

Very young peas, cooked in the pod, are often better than peas alone. A soup made with spinach and milk is very nourishing for children. It is better to have too little than too much vinegar in the salad dressing.

The cold water method of canning is said to be good for very soft fruit. Bread pudding is greatly improved by the addition of raisins or currants. Children may have food saturated with tea if denied the ordinary food tea of their elders.

The Gas Range!

The Gas Range means comfort for the housewife; shorter kitchen hours for her, and a cleaner kitchen. It is a great mistake to think that cooking with gas is expensive.

Whenever a woman becomes used to gas for cooking, thoughts of a coal or wood stove fill her with gloom. A Gas Range is so much easier to operate, so efficient for all kinds of cooking, and so much cleaner, that the idea of going back to the old style methods is decidedly unpleasant. Yet in winter many housewives think they must use a coal or wood stove, because there is no other way of heating the kitchen. THERE IS ANOTHER WAY AND IT IS FAR BETTER THAN THE OLD. Big Bank Fishery.

Latest reports from the banking fleet are very encouraging and it looks as if the total catch will be an abnormal one. When the S. S. Portia was coming down the coast a few days ago several vessels reached their home ports from the banking grounds with catches ranging from five to eight hundred quintals. Capt. Vatcher Cluett of Belleoram is a high-liner, having landed 4,200 quintals to date. Many others have close on 4,000 under salt. The majority of the fleet are now back from the Grand Banks and re-fitting for their final trips to the Labrador Coast. Capt. Cluett expects to have reached the 6,000 mark by "finish up" time. On his last Grand Bank trip he got 700 qtls.

Everyday Etiquette.

"Please tell me the correct order at a wedding to enter and leave the church," asked Edward.

"On entering the church, the ushers come first, two abreast, the bridesmaids next, also two abreast, the maid or matron of honor next, and finally the bride, leaning on the arm of her father or some male relative. On leaving the church the bride and groom go first, the maid of honor next, then the bridesmaids in double file, as before or with the ushers. The best man goes out with the maid of honor. The father or male relative joins the mother and the other relatives on leaving the church," replied his professor.

Overmantels!

No room seems really complete unless special attention is given to the arrangement of fireplace and mantel, the latter particularly needing careful planning.

To-day this difficulty is easily overcome by using an Overmantel, which article of furniture is becoming more popular every year.

New and attractive designs in Overmantels, in Mahogany and other woods, fitted with finely bevelled mirrors, are now to be seen in our Rooms at a figure that will please anyone who is seeking Quality Goods at Moderate Prices.
