Bur how can a man with a hobby ever b happy ?- [New York Recorder. Did you ever find a man happy who had not a hobby of some kind?

It is alleged that Judge Elliot, having been granted immunity by Sir John on, is again editing the London

THE bicycle is on the top in Britain. The manager of a large constituency in rural England writes to the London agent of one of the great parties, that if he wished to earry his seat, "be sure and send down a good cyclist as your candidate."

Almost every newspaper in Canada, ithout regard to political leanings, has given Hon. Edward Blake a generous send-off on his departure to take a seat in the British House of Commons. It has been left to our city contemporary, which has defended every misdeed of the present Ad-ministration, and has supported the policy of burking inquiry into every charge of wrongdoing, to pelt mud at the honorable gentleman. Is this also from the secret

THERE are strange developments in the English religious world. The Bishop of Chester has given express permission for dancing. He finds Bibical authority to be on the side of dancing, and does not see why people should not indulge in it. The Bishop of Barking, on the other hand, has invited his parishioners to Sunday after-noon concerts in his garden. He has en-gaged a military band, and they will discourse sacred music, while his parishioners sit around, smoke and chat.

THE Montreal Star points out that partly printed and partly written notices issued by societies for the purpose of notifying obers of the date and place of meetings to be held must in future be prepaid at letter rate. This is a very stupid regulation by the Dominion postoffice authorities. The charge made is supposed to cover the cost of delivery. A postman has no greater labor in carrying around a bundle labor in carrying around a bundle of society summonses inclosed in an envelope than he has in delivering a collection of postcards. On the broad ground of a nercial transaction, therefore, it would be advisable to let these monthly or fortnightly notices go at a one-cent rate as fortnightly notices go at a one-cent rate as formerly. There is another reason for this view. The societies are constant customers of the malls, and they are, moreover, engaged in a philanthropic work, for the benefit of a very large section of the people. They sake no bonus or government sid. They simply hold that they are overtaxed to make up deficiencies in other branches of the public service. Is the course pursued either fair or wise?

THE CENSUS EXPOSES THE RACE AND RELIGION OUTCRY AGAINST PREMIER MOWAT.

Some instructive figures are supplied by the chief census officer of the Dominio Government in a bulletin recently published. He points out that of the 4,800,000 inhabitants of Canada but 475,168 are natives of England, Ireland or Scotland-a decrease of natives of Ireland in ten years of 36,680, and of natives of Scotland, 7,645; while the native English have increased 49,469. Of persons born on the continent of Europe there are in the whole of Canada 53,778, an increase of 14,624. From the British Isles, the total increase is 5,144asking the grand total of 19,613. These es show that despite the fact that co Canadian taxpayers paid millions of Clars to ceax immigrants to Canada in the a ten years, they have all left us except $000 and $60,000 immigrants were bat from Europe. Then the Dominion ment has paid for the maintenance immigration agency at specially favored the new-comers, and that ce was becoming Frenchified so rapidly that it was only a question of a few years when we would all have to parlez in the French tongue or get out. The out-cry was a contemptible appeal to race and ligious prejudice, and every lover of his country must have been rejoiced when it so signally failed. The census returns show how little foundation there was for the now little foundation that or conservative leaders in the Legislature. It is pointed out in that official document that whereas he French-speaking Canadians, were in 1881 but 30.1 per cent. of the population, hey have decreased in ten years to 29.4 per cent. In Quebec, those who speak French are now 80.4 per cent. of the total tion In all the other provinces except New Brunswick, where the French have New Brunswick, where the noreased to 19.2 per cent. of the uppulation, and Prince Edward Isand, where their increase is 2 per cent. n the ten years, bringing their proportio up to 10.8 per cent., the census shows that the English-speaking population has inased in a greater ratio than those who laim French as their mother-tongue.

Coming to Ontario the census confirms contention that the Province is over our contention that the Province is over-whelmingly an English-speaking Province, and that those who speak French have lost ground rather than gained it. The French speakers now number but 4.8 per cent. of the population. Yet the enemies of the Mowat Administration have heap telling us that the 05.9 per cent. of the population. Let the characteristic of the Mowat Administration have been telling us that the 95.2 per cent. If the population were about to be swallowed up by the 4.8 per cent. If the census served no other object than to expose the hollowness of the cries raised expose the present Ontario Administration. against the present Ontario Administration, thas not been taken in vain. But how can the formulators of the race and religion ery of last Provincial campaign have the assurance to face the electors and the census at the same time ?

POLLING BEGINS ON MONDAY The polling in the imperial elections i Great Britain begins on Monday. As the House was only dissolved on Monday last, this is speedy work. The burghs will first be heard from, and before the end of the week over a third of the constituencies will have voted. Salisbury goes to the country with a majority of 86 in a House of 670. The belief is, however, that the Grand Old Man will succeed in overcoming that majority. It is claimed that he will gain largely in London and the southern counties, where the Conservatives are now very strong. There is certainly room for a change, as in 1886 London returned upporters of Salisbury to 13 followers of Middlesex, Sussex, Surrey, Berkshire d Hertfordshire return a solid phalans Conservatives; Kent returns fourteer ne Conservatives and one Liberal-Unionis one Liberal, and Essex eight Conservato one Liberal, and Essex eight Conserva-tives to one Liberal. These districts will be heard from soon, and much will depend on their verdict. The contest is one of the most exciting ever fought in Britain.

PATRIOTS CANNOT BE DRIVEN OUT.

One Canadian newspaper that has reached us got so little patriotic inspiration from the Dominion Day celebration that it at once, parrot-like, took up the pampered official demand that every person in Canada who is dissatisfied with the way the affairs of the country are conducted should get out. That would be a nice, convenient arrangement for the plunderers and the arrangement generally. But would those who accept such advice be patriots: those who accept such advice be patriots? By no means. They would be cravens, unworthy of the name of Canadians. For voting they are gerrymandered to prevent the real voice of the country from being velopment, and called them croakers and dissemblers, had prevailed upon them to be cleave the country? How much worse would the position of Canada now be if the Fathers of Liberalism in this land had accepted the estimate of them entertained by the Family Compact manipulators?

The British opponents of class legislation, such as we now have in Canada, were traduced and insulted, and deubtless told to get out. The early Liberal's of Canada were called traitors and ssoundrels and everything that was disreputable because they carciered their right, as free men, to think and to act as they believed to bright. It is thesefore no new experience for opponents of their right, as free men, to think and to act as they believed to bright. It is thesefore no new experience for opponents of the twick in the very particle of dust and dandruff be brushed out. Then what have we? A horse with a glossy coat that policy. The point to keep in view is that the man or newspaper that palliates wrong to only to straighten the hair and remove stains, but also get below the surface, to think and to act as they believed to bright. London, July 2.—The Divorce Court has granted, on the wife's petition, a divorce to Mrs. Strange from Dr. F. W. Strange, who formerly practiced in London, but who now resides in Toronto. Dr. Strange was formerly a member of the Canadian Parliament. According to Mrs. Strange's statement, she was married in 1868, and six months after her marriage she secompanied her husband to Toronto. They lived happily together until they met Mr. and Mrs. Mathieson, who became patients of Dr. Strange. Mathieson died and afterward Dr. Strange left his wife and lived with Mrs. Mathieson had what she had lost—his heart. Dr. Strange made no defense.

Londoners went in every direction yesterday, and many who went north stopped at St. Johns, where a series of sports were going on. Fully 3,000 people were on the grounds and enjoyed the day immensely. The Arva Brass Band distinguished itself by its rendition of numerous popular selections. For the convenience of spectators refreshment booths were erected on the grounds and were very liberally patronized. In the commodious dancing hall the young tolks enjoyed themselves to the oung folks enjoyed themselves to the usic of the Routledge String Band. At 0 o'clock in the morning there was a grand alithumpian procession, in which a large the day. The afternoon sports resulted as follows:

names when the applied.

Many horses are injured by the rough curry, by the man who hurriedly drives the metal comb harshly over the bony parts, against the ears and over the eyes. A horse subject to such treatment—and there are tens of thousands of them—dreads the hand of man—any man—and dedges and leans to hold the head high when the bridle is to hand to.
